

MONDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1857.

CIRCUIT COURT. LATEST PROCEEDINGS ON THE MOTION FOR COMMITMENT.

SATURDAY, October 3. Col. Burr and his counsel thought proper to put some questions to Gen. Wilkinson...

Mr. Wickham asked him if he had made any proposals to Thomas Kirby, or others, confidentially, about the invasion of Mexico.

After some other questions of a similar nature, to which similar answers were given, the General addressed the Court with some warmth.

He observed that, upon a former occasion, reference was had to a certain letter, or which so much had been said, the letter said to have been written by him to Aaron Burr...

Mr. Burr said that he had never seen the letter, and that he had never seen any man named Kirby, or others, confidentially, about the invasion of Mexico.

After some other questions of a similar nature, to which similar answers were given, the General addressed the Court with some warmth.

He observed that, upon a former occasion, reference was had to a certain letter, or which so much had been said, the letter said to have been written by him to Aaron Burr...

Mr. Burr said that he had never seen the letter, and that he had never seen any man named Kirby, or others, confidentially, about the invasion of Mexico.

After some other questions of a similar nature, to which similar answers were given, the General addressed the Court with some warmth.

He observed that, upon a former occasion, reference was had to a certain letter, or which so much had been said, the letter said to have been written by him to Aaron Burr...

Mr. Burr said that he had never seen the letter, and that he had never seen any man named Kirby, or others, confidentially, about the invasion of Mexico.

After some other questions of a similar nature, to which similar answers were given, the General addressed the Court with some warmth.

He observed that, upon a former occasion, reference was had to a certain letter, or which so much had been said, the letter said to have been written by him to Aaron Burr...

Mr. Burr said that he had never seen the letter, and that he had never seen any man named Kirby, or others, confidentially, about the invasion of Mexico.

After some other questions of a similar nature, to which similar answers were given, the General addressed the Court with some warmth.

He observed that, upon a former occasion, reference was had to a certain letter, or which so much had been said, the letter said to have been written by him to Aaron Burr...

Mr. Burr said that he had never seen the letter, and that he had never seen any man named Kirby, or others, confidentially, about the invasion of Mexico.

After some other questions of a similar nature, to which similar answers were given, the General addressed the Court with some warmth.

He observed that, upon a former occasion, reference was had to a certain letter, or which so much had been said, the letter said to have been written by him to Aaron Burr...

Mr. Burr said that he had never seen the letter, and that he had never seen any man named Kirby, or others, confidentially, about the invasion of Mexico.

After some other questions of a similar nature, to which similar answers were given, the General addressed the Court with some warmth.

He observed that, upon a former occasion, reference was had to a certain letter, or which so much had been said, the letter said to have been written by him to Aaron Burr...

Mr. Burr said that he had never seen the letter, and that he had never seen any man named Kirby, or others, confidentially, about the invasion of Mexico.

was of speculating in a parcel of nankeens which he brought from Philadelphia...

The next witness introduced was Mr. Silas Dinsmore, from New Orleans, who was called by the Court for the U. S. to testify as to the flight of Aaron Burr...

Mr. Dinsmore's testimony was moreover important in proving that neither the spirit or letter of Gen. Wilkinson's instructions to the men, whom he sent to New Orleans with orders to seize Col. Burr...

On that subject the affidavit of Lieutenant George Peter was read on the side of Col. Burr, and not connected with Dinsmore's evidence.

Continuation of the Deposition referred to in Gen. Wilkinson's Testimony.

Sir, Your letter of the 6th inst. has been duly received. Stating that you wish to see me...

I remain with great respect, Your obedient servant, ERICUS BOLLMAN.

The deposition of A. L. Duncan, a witness in behalf of the U. S. against Aaron Burr...

I cannot that this affidavit may be read in all parts as such the U. S. are concerned against Aaron Burr in the same manner as above expressed.

During the communications exerted in New Orleans last winter by what was termed Col. Burr's conspiracy and his associates...

It is idle and absurd to impute any sinister intention to the omission, because on any trial which might ensue, it was known the original documents must be introduced as they have been.

It is idle and absurd to impute any sinister intention to the omission, because on any trial which might ensue, it was known the original documents must be introduced as they have been.

It is idle and absurd to impute any sinister intention to the omission, because on any trial which might ensue, it was known the original documents must be introduced as they have been.

It is idle and absurd to impute any sinister intention to the omission, because on any trial which might ensue, it was known the original documents must be introduced as they have been.

It is idle and absurd to impute any sinister intention to the omission, because on any trial which might ensue, it was known the original documents must be introduced as they have been.

It is idle and absurd to impute any sinister intention to the omission, because on any trial which might ensue, it was known the original documents must be introduced as they have been.

It is idle and absurd to impute any sinister intention to the omission, because on any trial which might ensue, it was known the original documents must be introduced as they have been.

It is idle and absurd to impute any sinister intention to the omission, because on any trial which might ensue, it was known the original documents must be introduced as they have been.

It is idle and absurd to impute any sinister intention to the omission, because on any trial which might ensue, it was known the original documents must be introduced as they have been.

It is idle and absurd to impute any sinister intention to the omission, because on any trial which might ensue, it was known the original documents must be introduced as they have been.

It is idle and absurd to impute any sinister intention to the omission, because on any trial which might ensue, it was known the original documents must be introduced as they have been.

It is idle and absurd to impute any sinister intention to the omission, because on any trial which might ensue, it was known the original documents must be introduced as they have been.

It is idle and absurd to impute any sinister intention to the omission, because on any trial which might ensue, it was known the original documents must be introduced as they have been.

nance to violate the truth of any man—I give them to you, here is the copy, deceiver... I consider their contents well, and then inform me whether their promulgation may be necessary to my honor.

In answer to interrogatories on the part of Col. Burr, I recollect to have talked the command of a party to Natchez for the purpose of arresting Col. Burr, and delivered from the instructions which the general gave me...

A. L. DUNCAN. City of Richmond, Va. Sworn to and subscribed before me this 5th day of September 1837.

Wm. Marshall, clk.

American, Commercial Daily Advertiser. MONDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1857.

The following statement was made out with the intention of being signed by the members of the late Grand Inquest...

The grand inquest for the body of Balmore county having discharged the ordinary business, visited the prison, and the subscribers, late members of the inquest...

The prisoners lay on the floors, using what clothing they possess for bedding as well as covering, by which it must be supposed their clothes are sooner worn out...

These circumstances claim the greater interest of the court, from a consideration of the very large portion of sick compared with the present moderate number of prisoners...

These circumstances claim the greater interest of the court, from a consideration of the very large portion of sick compared with the present moderate number of prisoners...

These circumstances claim the greater interest of the court, from a consideration of the very large portion of sick compared with the present moderate number of prisoners...

These circumstances claim the greater interest of the court, from a consideration of the very large portion of sick compared with the present moderate number of prisoners...

These circumstances claim the greater interest of the court, from a consideration of the very large portion of sick compared with the present moderate number of prisoners...

These circumstances claim the greater interest of the court, from a consideration of the very large portion of sick compared with the present moderate number of prisoners...

These circumstances claim the greater interest of the court, from a consideration of the very large portion of sick compared with the present moderate number of prisoners...

These circumstances claim the greater interest of the court, from a consideration of the very large portion of sick compared with the present moderate number of prisoners...

These circumstances claim the greater interest of the court, from a consideration of the very large portion of sick compared with the present moderate number of prisoners...

These circumstances claim the greater interest of the court, from a consideration of the very large portion of sick compared with the present moderate number of prisoners...

These circumstances claim the greater interest of the court, from a consideration of the very large portion of sick compared with the present moderate number of prisoners...

These circumstances claim the greater interest of the court, from a consideration of the very large portion of sick compared with the present moderate number of prisoners...

These circumstances claim the greater interest of the court, from a consideration of the very large portion of sick compared with the present moderate number of prisoners...

These circumstances claim the greater interest of the court, from a consideration of the very large portion of sick compared with the present moderate number of prisoners...

These circumstances claim the greater interest of the court, from a consideration of the very large portion of sick compared with the present moderate number of prisoners...

surrendered to the British on the 20th of August, without resistance. A gentleman, passenger in the Arcturus, arrived at New-York 39 days from Bordeaux...

The report of the surrender of Copenhagen "without resistance," seems almost incredible, after the glowing proclamations of the King and Prince Royal of Denmark...

There is a talk of another odd fairy, (says a Hamburg paper of the 8th of August) that has taken the King of Sweden. It is rumored that he has sold Pomerania and her island Rugen to the English...

An embargo has been laid on all Portuguese and Danish vessels in the ports of France; the former by the French government, and the latter by the Danish consul.

Captain Latham arrived at New-York, informs that a letter from Gibraltar, 45 days since, the United States Constitution, taking in the States, and to sail in a few days for America.

The following is from a valuable mercantile Directory, published in London, some considerable time ago.

Dr. Galt has traveled into Switzerland, where he was recently delivering lectures on his favorite system of Quakerism. It says he has been in the city of Geneva, and to pay to every man of hand, return to every means of prostration.

The French consuls are said to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag...

Dr. Galt has traveled into Switzerland, where he was recently delivering lectures on his favorite system of Quakerism. It says he has been in the city of Geneva, and to pay to every man of hand, return to every means of prostration.

The French consuls are said to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag...

Dr. Galt has traveled into Switzerland, where he was recently delivering lectures on his favorite system of Quakerism. It says he has been in the city of Geneva, and to pay to every man of hand, return to every means of prostration.

The French consuls are said to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag...

Dr. Galt has traveled into Switzerland, where he was recently delivering lectures on his favorite system of Quakerism. It says he has been in the city of Geneva, and to pay to every man of hand, return to every means of prostration.

The French consuls are said to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag...

Dr. Galt has traveled into Switzerland, where he was recently delivering lectures on his favorite system of Quakerism. It says he has been in the city of Geneva, and to pay to every man of hand, return to every means of prostration.

The French consuls are said to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag...

Dr. Galt has traveled into Switzerland, where he was recently delivering lectures on his favorite system of Quakerism. It says he has been in the city of Geneva, and to pay to every man of hand, return to every means of prostration.

The French consuls are said to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag...

Dr. Galt has traveled into Switzerland, where he was recently delivering lectures on his favorite system of Quakerism. It says he has been in the city of Geneva, and to pay to every man of hand, return to every means of prostration.

The French consuls are said to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag...

Dr. Galt has traveled into Switzerland, where he was recently delivering lectures on his favorite system of Quakerism. It says he has been in the city of Geneva, and to pay to every man of hand, return to every means of prostration.

The French consuls are said to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag...

distress on the 28th ult. The honorable Duke Clarke, and T. Powell, Esquires, were passengers on board.

The proceedings of the court of inquiry, (says the Norfolk Ledger of the 7th inst.) which assembled on board the Chesapeake on Monday last, have not been correctly attended. The court was trained at 11 o'clock in the morning.

Intelligence has been received from the Bay of All-Saints, that the English, having been repulsed at Cape Lopez, commanded by Gen. Lameres; that they lost 12 men, and 4 were driven up the walls of Monte-Video, which was afterwards blockaded by the Spaniards.

There is a talk of another odd fairy, (says a Hamburg paper of the 8th of August) that has taken the King of Sweden. It is rumored that he has sold Pomerania and her island Rugen to the English...

An embargo has been laid on all Portuguese and Danish vessels in the ports of France; the former by the French government, and the latter by the Danish consul.

Captain Latham arrived at New-York, informs that a letter from Gibraltar, 45 days since, the United States Constitution, taking in the States, and to sail in a few days for America.

The following is from a valuable mercantile Directory, published in London, some considerable time ago.

Dr. Galt has traveled into Switzerland, where he was recently delivering lectures on his favorite system of Quakerism. It says he has been in the city of Geneva, and to pay to every man of hand, return to every means of prostration.

The French consuls are said to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag...

Dr. Galt has traveled into Switzerland, where he was recently delivering lectures on his favorite system of Quakerism. It says he has been in the city of Geneva, and to pay to every man of hand, return to every means of prostration.

The French consuls are said to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag...

Dr. Galt has traveled into Switzerland, where he was recently delivering lectures on his favorite system of Quakerism. It says he has been in the city of Geneva, and to pay to every man of hand, return to every means of prostration.

The French consuls are said to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag...

Dr. Galt has traveled into Switzerland, where he was recently delivering lectures on his favorite system of Quakerism. It says he has been in the city of Geneva, and to pay to every man of hand, return to every means of prostration.

The French consuls are said to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag...

Dr. Galt has traveled into Switzerland, where he was recently delivering lectures on his favorite system of Quakerism. It says he has been in the city of Geneva, and to pay to every man of hand, return to every means of prostration.

The French consuls are said to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag...

Dr. Galt has traveled into Switzerland, where he was recently delivering lectures on his favorite system of Quakerism. It says he has been in the city of Geneva, and to pay to every man of hand, return to every means of prostration.

The French consuls are said to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag...

Dr. Galt has traveled into Switzerland, where he was recently delivering lectures on his favorite system of Quakerism. It says he has been in the city of Geneva, and to pay to every man of hand, return to every means of prostration.

The French consuls are said to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag, and to have the honor of the British flag...

Dr. Galt has traveled into Switzerland, where he was recently delivering lectures on his favorite system of Quakerism. It says he has been in the city of Geneva, and to pay to every man of hand, return to every means of prostration.