FRIDAL, OCTOBER 16 1807.

FROM THE PARIS AROUS OF AUGUST 20. We have just received American papers down to the 5th July. Our readers will not see with ut interell an extrast we have made from them, of an energetic proclamation by the President Jesserson, which thints the American ports against the English armed villels, on account of the wanton violation exercifed against The Chelapeake frigate. Thus the English day feems to be at once feattering sends of ha red and war over the four quar ers of the globe

To newspapers of the north of the latest date, confirm what has been airendy said of the expedicion fet on foot against Denmark, and con all fides a concert of maledictions arile a gainst this political iniquity. If the aim of this teandalous expédition is such as ail reports agree in stating t to be, it will not be more tatal to those who will lave unde tak n it, than to those against whom it will have been directed. For some time past it has seemed to be the d s. tiny of he Erglith musting to do nothing but what mult uitimately be a subject of trium in fer their enemies. They nev rt ought of peparing to profecute the war on the a ntinent till the very moment when their alli s were constrained to make prace. They could not be brought to l'acutice a fingle regiment to ferve them, and now they can juddenly find thirty thousand men to crush a neutral power! Befides, it is as difficult to guess the protext the unforeteen attack, contrary to the law of nations, is it is to fee any realous de aim i' can have. Sulpring that th logith ministry should have been apprehensive of seeing Den mark enter into the interests of the contine stail Rates, it is not in their power to op; o'e it by Copenhagen i self would be only an ephemeral ; Gleaves. advantage : the featon which ci fes the entrance of the Baltic to the English navy, would Afford the co timental powers every polsiole laenity to retake and occupy that point which is looked upon as so important, in such a manner as to make the English in fu ure renounce the very idea of approaching it. Thus the busy Thing they can reap from the unwarran able aggression is general hatred, an the opprobite um of h v ng caule i the ruin of a neu ra nate n Some politicians are inclined to think that the present ministers meant to signal z: or finish their administrati n by a coup Jicla. It they were greedy of glory, Holla d. Naples, or Italy afforded them em mies to hight in a more gene-Tous manner. To the Public.

Having discovered in the American some publications signed by Richard Roloson, against John Picket, an officer in my employ. ment, I think it but justice to Mr. Picket to state the particulars," whenever this charge is sounde, as far as within my knowledg;, that the public may judge how far he is cuspable. On the 25th of May last, a Fieri Facias was issued and delivered to me directed to be levied or the property of Richard Roloson. John Picket was the officer whose hands I put it in to; some short time at erwards he returned to the office with the momy and costs. Mr. Holoson either came with him or immediately followed; he remained some time, con plained that the costs were too much. I endeavoured and thought I had sufficiently convinced him that the costs were correct, that there was a I gal a lowance for summoning and swearing apprais rain addition to the poundage fees, or son moning them alone it not aworn—he at length appeared to erably will satisfied, which when I discovered, I returned him some money, what sum I do not recollect; but not as a right due to him by a y means, but merely to prevent als possible clamor, and to get clear of hum, being at that time much engaged. I han not then, nor have. I yet the least idea that Mr Picket had acted incorrectly.
