

... Sense of the Power of my Dr. Myer, and private Love; ...
... Historic, who the people bubble abroad. Her great ...
... the only makes the brown worm. She of ...
... Arguments to promote Justice and Equity, the profits ...
... of Quibbles, idle Clamour, Deceit, and personal ...
... Nay, some affirm that she is no Stranger in our ...
... and when she draws Michael there, she pretends ...
... reforming Religion, she takes an Alarm of Her ...
... and a number of ... She has been seen following ...
... in the Grand Sex, when some pretended Parties have ...
... ed lustily for the Good of their Country, when they never ...
... contained in any Thing but only Clamour and vain ...
... the whole Practice of their Life tending to promote ...
... private Interest, not the common Good: for the first, as ...
... years by all the steps of their Conduct, they have carefully ...
... studied, but not a Title of the latter. In the ...
... and to all Characters and Conditions. She can, among the ...
... and low set of People, assume a very elegant Dia- ...
... in such places as Whitehall, her Private and Troops of ...
... Elegance are broad and clear, the Beauty, *the ...
... Refulgent*, the Scandal, the Legitimation, *the ...
... King*, the ... are these not favorable Epi- ...
... thes. Among the politer sort of the Vulgar, she is not quite ...
... so rude; but abstaining from many Epithets, a rough App- ...
... ellations, she will trace the Pedigree of all the Grandees of a ...
... Parish to a Title; she will tell you what great man's Grand- ...
... father was a Tutor, whose Father a Parson, whose ...
... Mother a Laundress, a Barber, a Servant, a Wife, a Widow, a ...
... Mistress, or a Wife of the Game. She will likewise display a ...
... curious History of Times past; whose Father, or Uncle, was ...
... whipped for pilfering; whose Cousin was clapp'd in the Stocks ...
... for Drunkenness and Swearing. I would indeed! As if a ...
... Man must inherit the Vices of his Relations. And a hundred ...
... other such Concepts.

In fine, this is a frightful hideous Monster, and is worth your serious Consideration; but beware how you approach too near her, for not only her Breath is pestiferous and infectious, but should you fall in her Clutches, there is no getting out again.—I would, out of meer Love, advise the Four Sexes, tho' I know their Curiosity is strong and preying, especially such as have Husbands, and may be pregnant, to keep out of her Way; lest, by this Means, a great many doleful Accidents should happen, from sudden Frights and Surprizes; but also, which is worse, through the strength of Imagination, there may arise a hideous Race of Monsters, which may banish in Time, from the Face of the Earth, every thing Fair and human Sentiment.—I believe this Hideous Monster has never been much, if at all, seen in the Company of the Fair. Probably, her De-formity dares not appear where such Beauty is predominant. As I heartily wish them all Happiness, I pray, that these charming airy Creatures may be always bless'd with her Absence.

L O N D O N, August 4.

On Wednesday died, in the most violent Agonies of Death, at his Lodgings near the New Exchange, Mr. Philip Newry, a Gentleman of Fortune. His Death was occasion'd by being over surpriz'd at seeing the Rebel Lorus beheaded on Tower-hill; when he was carried Home, and continued in a mad disorder to his Death.

We have an Account from Lancaster, that one Joim Myerscough of Yearland, has for three Months past voided a great Number of Insects much like Caterpillars, only they have hard red Heads; and through a Magnifying Glass appear nary all over, even to the Mouth, which seems forked; they are of a dark brown colour, with a greenish cast upon the Body, and legg'd like Caterpillars. The Man had a great Pain always upon one Side of his Stomach, and still vomited after his first Sleep in the Night; but though he could see these Worms in the Morning upon the Room Floor, yet he could not believe he vomited them, till vomiting lately in the Day-time he was undeceiv'd for he saw them come up alive; upon which he apply'd to Dr. Bracken of Lancaster, and on his taking some proper Medicines, he voided by stool a great many dead Insects the same above mention'd, and is now free from his former Pain. As this is an uncommon Case, there being only three-fourths of Worms met with in human Bodies, viz the round Worm, small as both Earth; the broad Worm, divided all its length with cross Knots, and sometimes nine or ten Feet long; and thirdly, the small Worms called Ascariides, which mostly affect the rectum: we hear the Doctor designs to send the Insects when this Man vomited to one of the Royal Society, with a full Relation of the Particulars.

September 27. On Wednesday Morning last early, a Duel was fought in Hyde Park, between W. E., Esq; and Mr. D., an eminent Attorney. The former fired, and miss'd the latter; upon which the other went up close, and generously bred his Pistol over his Head; and then both drew their Daggers, and made at one another very furiously; but the former was soon disabled, and received several very dangerous Wounds, so that his Life is in great Danger. The other received a slight Hurt in his left Arm.

From the 12th to the 20th of September, 76 Prisoners con-cern'd in the Rebellion, were tried at Warfield, and only 3 acquitted; 12 of them pleaded guilty, and 51 were found guilty by the Jury, 5 of whom were recommended to Mercy.

Friday last Capt. Croby was hang'd at Perth, for Desertion from the British Troops to the French in Flanders. He came over with the Troops from France employ'd in the late Rebellion. That Day there were two private Men shot for the same Crime.

October 9. Yesterday an Express arriv'd from Holland, with an Account, that there had been an Engagement in Flanders, in which the Allied Army had been repuls'd, and that the Dutch and Hanoverian Troops had suffered very much; and that three Regiments of English coming up, had greatly facilitated the Retreat of the Allies. Col. Montague is said to be kill'd.

Her Imperial Majesty has ordered the following Gratifica-tions to be paid out of the Genoese Contributions; viz. 100,000
Florins to Prince Liechtenberg, 50,000 to the General Marquis de Botta, 20,000 to General Brown, and 30,000 to the Count of Chotek, Comumary of War.

We learn from Rome, that the Pretender has given Orders for sending a Hoop in that City for his two Sons, who it is said are expected there from France.

It is said, that several French Men of War of Force are sailing for the West and East Indies, and that a Ship arriv'd from Virginia narrowly escap'd being taken by them.

The Adventure, Captain, for barabandees from London, who has been long missing, was taken soon after the left Palmouth, by two French Men of War, which were returning to France from Canada.

Genoa, September 13. O. S. It is reported, that the Imperial Army will make a fresh Attempt by Land and Sea, against the Kingdom of Naples, and that they have seized all the Neapolitan Ships which were in this Port. The English and Imperial Troops, who had retired to Leghorn, are returned hither.

October 4, September 27. Last Night the titular Bishop Cappechi, and six more, had got off their Irons, and were attempting to make their Escape; but were prevented by the Vigilance of the Centinels.

On the 18th Day of October, will begin the Execution of the Rebels.

Orders are given to make a Sledge to carry six Men to the Gallows at once.

Newcastle, September 6.

A Quarrel having happen'd between Mr F—g—d and Mr H—n—, when Lieutenants of Marines on board the Centurion in Commodore Anson's Voyage, in which Mr. F—d cut off a Piece of Mr. H—n's Nose with a case Knife, they were separated by some Gentlemen; and to prevent farther Mischief, the Commodore put Mr. F—d on board the Pearl, and Mr. H—n on board the Wager, with Orders that they should not go on shore together. On May, 14 1741, after rounding Cape Horn, the Wager Capt. Cheap, was wreck'd between two uninhabited Islands, on the Coast of Patagonia in the South Seas; where the captain and crew disagreeing, Mr.
H—n and the Surgeon chus'd to share the captain's Fate.
The Indians carried these unfortunate Gentlemen to St Jago de Chili,