PHILADELPHIA, October 15.

Extract of a Letter from St. John's, Newfoundland, dated September 9. 1747.

"Captain Wickham, in His Majesty's ship Panther of 50 Guns, having received Advice of 50 or 60 Sail of Frenchmen fishing to the Northward, under the Protection of a 30 and 20 Gun Ship, sailed the 20th ult. in order to take them; and manned, and took with him, two Ships of 20 Carriage Guns, and 20 Swivels each, one of them Capt. Waters, from this Place) a Brig. of 20 Guns, and a Schooner, to serve as a Spy."

Another letter from the same place, September 19. mentions, "That some Prisoners were arrived there, who made their escape from Carruce to Carbiner, and saw three Ships, a Brig. and a Schooner, (which agrees exactly with Capt. Wickham's Number) going into Carruce, where lay 6 Sail, almost loaded with Fish, or so Force; the Prisoners say further, that in several other Harbours there lay about the same Number of Vessels; so that they daily expect the agreeable News of all, or most of them, being taken."

By several Passengers come to Town this Morning with Capt. Hal, in a Snow coming up from Antigua, we are informed that there happened a great Hurricane on the 19th of September last, in which 50 Sail of Vessels were lost at St. Eustatia, and above 300 drowned Persons arose on Shore; the Damage at that Island is said to be a Million of Dollars: That 5 Vessels were lost at St. Kitts, one of which was a new Ship, belonging to this Place, and the People all drowned, except the Captain, Faulkner, who was on shore; and one Vessel at Antigua. Considerable Damage is likewise done at the other Islands.

Capt. McColough, in a Brig. of this Place, bound to Antigua, was taken within 5 Leagues of that Island, and carried into Guardaloupe. And Captain Douglas, in a Sloop from this Place for Coracoa, is also taken and carried into the same Port.

The Captains Harper, Hall, and Workdale, bound to Jamaica from this Place, are all taken; the two first carried to St. Jago de Cuba, the other to Leoganne.

We have a Confirmation from Cape Breton of the Hymt Sloop of War being lost; and that Capt. Crookshanks, of the Lark, was to be sent home.
