

emperor's journey into Bohemia is the execution of an arrangement; by which the dignity of king will be transferred to his Imperial majesty during life; without the least prejudice to the dispositions established by the Pragmatic Sanction.

Letters from Palermo mention a frightful sea monster, which had been discover'd floating near the coast, so large that six men pair of oars had been employed to draw it upon land.

N. B. N. E. Y. O. R. K. January 2. Extract of a letter from Madeira, dated November 30. N. S.

"Just now arrived here a billander from Plymouth, who brings us news, that on the 21st of October O. S. a peace was proclaimed at London, with France and Spain: Our vessels are daily going in and coming out of their ports; a free trade being granted. Also that Pondicherry, and Madras are taken from the French. His Majesty was not yet come from Holland; but the festival of the peace was put off till his arrival; which was every moment expected; I can't learn any further particulars."
