

We have advice, that the ship Martha, Capt Stewart, of this port, bound for Belfast, was drove ashore about the 21st of March last, near Baltimore bay in Ireland: 'Twas thought the vessel would be got off again, tho' upwards of 400 hogs-heads of Flaxseed was spoil'd.

Thursday next is the day appointed by his excellency's proclamation for a public thanksgiving throughout this province, for the late glorious peace.

PHILADELPHIA.

June 15. The beginning of this month, three natives of Greenland, two young men and a young woman, converted to the christian religion by the Moravian missionaries in that country, were in this city on a visit to the brethren here. They left their own country about two years since, in the ship belonging to that society, (which had carried a ready framed church to be erected there, Greenland affording no wood for building; this vessel sailed from this port a few days ago for Davis's Straights, with some of the Greenlanders on board) and have visited the brethren in several parts of Europe, as England, Holland and Germany. They were clad in seal skins, with the hair on, after the manner of their own country, their eyes and hair black, like our Indians, but their complexion somewhat lighter. The Moravians, it seem, have a mission also at Barbice, near Surinam, and two Indian converts from thence, with these Greenlanders, met lately at Bethlehem, in this province (a settlement of the Moravians, with some of the Delaware Indians; and some of the Monickons, converts also of the Moravians; and tho' their native lands are so vastly remote, as the latitude of 5, 41, and 65 north, yet what they observ'd of each other's hair, eyes and complexion, confirm'd them that they were all of the same race. They could find however no kind of similitude in their several languages.
