Bear Hunters.-On Saturday morning, 2d inst. Officer John A. Bosley, of Towson, was notified by a telegram from police headquarters in Baltimore that four boys had left home the previous day and had not returned. On inquiry the officer learned that four boys had passed through Towson and had purchased a rifle and pistol, and had started out to kill bears. The officer put on a citizen's suit and went out along the line of the Maryland Central "Wash-house" treatle. He took them into custody and brought them back to Towson. He telegraphed the fact to the Baltimore police, and soon the parents put in an appearance and took them home. The boys had packs of extra clothing, and stated that they started out to hunt bears in the Blue Ridge Mountains. The boys were: James Keller, Wiley. Bromwell and Arthur Emory, and their ages ranged from 9 to 4 years.

Sensible Advice.—'I think as few people as posalbie outside of the immediately family of the de-ceased should attend a juneral," said a well known Baltimore physician recently. A Chance for Rapid Improvement.—The question of the opening of a fine, broad avenue, any 200 feet wide, beginning at Wilhelm's Corner, on the Reisterstown Road, at Arlington, and to run to the Bel Air Road, is mooted by several gentle-men who see in it a capital chance to hasten the march of improvement outside the new lines of Baltimore and within the county lines, where the low rate of taxation is bound to attract investers. The new avenue could be laid out, say a clear 400 feet from the new boundary of the city, so that all improvements on both sides of the avenue would be entirely within the county lines, and would therefore only be subject to county taxes, and be entirely free from the petty annoyances and restraints imposed by City Council ordinances and the thousand and one other grievances under he corporate limits of Baltimore Then, another thing, this avenue would prove o advantage to the whole section by the streets an roads of the city, such as they now are, opening into it, and it would give the man who drives a change to keep from the expensive toll-gates which now beset him on all the turnpikes within the city The project should be pushed for all it is worth, as it would bring a large lot of property into the real estate market and be the means of enhancing value all along the line. Personal.-Mr. Vinton Ware, eldest son of Mr. Valverda A. P. Ware, a native of Towson, and Mr. John Oldham, his son-in-law, both residents of

6. The faithful are reminded that, besides the obligation of fasting imposed by the Church, this holy season of Lent should be, in an especial manner, a time of earnest prayer, of sorrow for sin, of seclusion from the world and its amusements, and of generous alms-giving.

By virtue of an Indult to the United States, dated August 8, 1887, the following special dispensations are granted:

1. The use of fieth meat is permitted at all meals on Sundays, and once a day on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, with the exception of the second and last Saturdays of Lent. The Paschal time extends from the first Sunday of Lent till Trinity Sunday, during which time all Catholics who have attained the proper age are bound to receive worthily the Holy Communion.

The holy season of Lent is a very proper time also for children to make their first confession, which they cought to do generally at about the age of 7. they ought to do generally at about the age of 2 years. Parents abould see to this.

Damages by Flood .- The heavy and unceasing rain of Saturday, Sunday and Monday caused con-siderable damage to the roads in all parts of the county by washouts and the flooding of small Jones' Falls, from Mt. Washington southward, overflowed its banks and inundated the adjoining territory. Damage was also done along the course of the Gunpowder Falls. The stream spread over it: banks and flouded the Jarrettsville and Sweet Air Turnpike to the depth of four feet. Cromwell's bridge had a narrow escape from being washed out. The abutments were washed away and it was rendered rather insecure. The Road Commissioners have gone to work to make repairs. The Warren Factory suspended operation on account of the flood and considerable damage was done the Beaver Dam Quarries. At Mt. Washington the dam of Wm. E. Hooper Sons was washed away, entailing a loss of $600.— The tenement houses which are on low ground in

Mt. Washington were flooded to the first floor and all the property near Jones' Falls which is not elevated was more or less damaged. The meadows and flats around the Meadow and Park Dale Mill at Woodberry and the Clipper Mills, of the Messrs.
Wm. E. Hooper & Sons, were partly submerged and considerable damage was done. Pens containing equealing pigs. railroad ties, fence rails, logs and drowning chickens were borne down the falls from above Woodberry. Numerous cellars in Hampden, Mt. Vernon, Woodberry and vicinity and cellars on Calvin and Carroll Avenues, Waverly, and Homestead, Friendship and Oxford were flooded, much damage resulting therefrom. The Hillen Road was rendered impassable near the Owens' Estate, a hole some four feet deep hav-ing been washed in the road bed. Road Commissioner Cowley, of the 9th District, is at work making repairs. The heavy rains will be a cause of heavy expense to the tax-payers of Baltimore county for repairs to roads and bridges.

The Baltimore Conference.—The Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church commenced in Grace M. E. Church, Baltimore, on Vednesday, 6th inst , Bishop Cyrus D. Foss, presiding. The first day was taken up in passing on the characters of the ministers and hearing the reports When East Baltimore District was called Rev. W. F. Speake, P. E., in making his report referred to the Towson Church, how long it had been in litigation and the troubles it had gone through, which were known to a majority of those present, and reported all the money provided for to pay for the church with the exercision of $100. church with the exception of $100, and spoke i glowing terms of the liberality of the people of lowson and elsewhere, not only of Methodists, but ther denominations, who had given money to free this church of debt. He also referred to the noble efforts of the Pastor of the Church, Rev. Page Milburn, who has labored hard during the past year to accomplish this end. It certainly was a gratifying report and was hailed with delight by all the ministers in attendance, and especially by those who had been at this charge and knew all about the troubles the church had undergone. $1,000 has been paid, and of the $3,000 to be paid in June nearly $2,000 is in hand, so that there is only a little over $1,000 of the subscriptions to collect. We understand there is no doubt but that the present Pastor, Rev. Page Milburn, will be returned another year, which will be gratifying to all the people of Towson, as he is very much beliked, not only by the members of his own congregation, but by the entire community, and it is predicted that the church will be more sperous in the future in every way than ever The Conference will be in session about a week, at

To the Hon. the Board of County Commissioners of Baltimore County: Gentlemen:—As the third term of our scholastic year has more than half expired, it becomes our duty to make provision, before too late, for the approaching and last term, and in view of our present debt for which this Board has given its personal obligation; and whereas the only means of continuing the schools for the next term must be through your Honorable Body, it becomes a necessity on our part to ask that such action on your part be taken and communicated to us on or before the lat day of April, otherwise we may be pressed to notify the teachers and pupils that the schools will be closed on the 15th day of April next.

Editor MARYLAND JOURNAL: Dear Sir:—Our thoughtful friend, Mr. J. L. Ilgenfritz, of Corbett, near this place, remembering the request which a certain poet made of your correspondent, respecting spring chickens, kindly gave me a setting of double eggs—eggs within eggs. He explained that as they were twice as prolific as the explained that as they were twice as prolific as the common single eggs they would yield twice as many chickens in the same time. We placed the eggs in a very comfortable nest, but our hens, being fogies of the first degree, sidled off and flatly refused to cover the dangerous-looking combinations. Even the roosters will not touch the curiosities, but only stand off at a respectable distance and crow their disapprobation. Furthermore, we have no double-compound incubator, and, as each and every attempt to extract the dainties have proved signally futile, we "give it up," and send you a signally futile, we "give it up," and send you a BONITA ATENUE. PIKESVILLE, March 4th, 1889.

Deer Journal:—The weather is very inclement to day, very much against the pleasure of visitors wishing to witness the inauguration of the President, and very severe on the residents of Bonita Swamps, who are again imitating the Jews of Harrison street. Such terrible disasters following in such. son street. Such terrible disasters following in such rapid succession must be very discouraging to a community, and how very cruel must King Elick be to allow his subjects to suffer such great loss of life and destruction of property. What is the matter with your correspondent on the other side the past week? His deportment is not at all becoming a gentleman; he acts like a spoilt child. Has he found out the truth is mighty? He stamps that the past week is also become the succession of the stamps up talk down turns over acreams talks. found out the truth is mighty? He stamps his feet jumps up, falls down, turns over, screams talks about the Indians and runs off the high lands of Western Maryland. Grandpa Grimes had a horse once that acted very similar and he died. His neighbors told him he should have given him a dose of new milk and molasses, then in one hour give him one pint of extract of flaxseed and wait coming events. However, I hope he is better, enjoying the mountain air, and has in his pocket his return ticket from Hautimore to Arlingian. Parkers ha ticket from Baitimore to Arlington. Perhaps he can use it in the same way he does to get to Ginrich's. His article (if I am allowed to express my views) is rather tangled and has many new features never heard of before. He gets Bonits Avenue, Worthington's Valley, a harp with a thousand strings, Grandfather Grimes and his half bag of meal with a stone to one end, Cockey's Hill and Cockey's Glen, the ivory bushes and rocks included, Long-fellow's Minnehaha, Western Maryland Railroad, the Indians and their trail, Groff's double and twisted patent Roller Mill, Gwynn's Fails and swamps, Mr. Tagart, Gingrich, the Dover Road, Ed-ward and Mordecai Cockey, Glyndon, St. George's Station, Baltimore and Reisterstown Turnpike, the company and toll-gate, Blue Ridge Mountains and its beautiful roads, Pen Mar, Mr. Phillips and Reese and Daniel Cummings, the Road Examiners' one half mile of solid stone road, old Grandpa Grimes and his bellyache and a box of Liver Pills, all cross ways. Now such a compound as that would give a outchman the colic much less a white man. "True Grit" must certainly be more than a wise man to tell simply by reading an article in your columns that Grandpa Grimes snorts because he has the colic, and decides so readily that a box of pills made out of liver in Grandpa's house, and a carriage road through Bonita swamps, would be greatly for the public convenience. He might find out something else, if he will make it suit to be about, eel the pulse and get the temperature, when Grandpa finds out positively he will have to give an acre of land, put up 150 panels of fence and pay $150 in cash to help enhance other people's property and receive nothing in return except the privilege of trying to pass over another mud road. (when he has a plenty of this road) where his team would be likely to hang up, while he would be serenaded by the frogs' drum corps and laughed at by the screech owls, and the big owls hallooing boo hoo, boo hoo at him. I much fear Grandpa's conduct about that ime would not be such as would entitle him to a place among the angels, nor the privilege of playing upon a harp with a thousand strings. One by one our associations increase, and we find our Bonito Association strengthened by the addition of one more member, who evidently, just before he was initiated, must have been gunning for bull frogs' hind legs in the swamps of Bonita, where the muskrate must have thrown some of the black mud peculiar to that section in his lunch of sauerkraut and grape jelly, of which he got a small portion in his ollow tooth that caused him to exclaim in his native tongue, "Yah, das wush one 'Drue Grit."

We are glad, however, that after six months search he has discovered where this much talked of road is to start, but sorry to see he is not any better acquainted with the geography of the location in question than "Bonita Avenue" was, and the poor fellow appears to be puzzled as to whether "G. F. G," means "Grand Father's Clock" or old "Grand Father Grimes," or why it pretty nearly means both, and in fact he is so bewildered and lost in the crooked and muddy road (and I know it is very trying) he is traveling, we find him craving for the splendid roads and drives that wind up through the Blue Ridge Mountains around and about Pen Mar, and, possibly, that was his business up there.
I'ruly they are good roads and steep, but they lack a Bonita Swamp to wade through, but are high made under pretense, they are for the use of the the farmers in the Valley below; nor that the public convenience requires them to get to someone's patent roller mill at one end and a stone quarry at. the other end, but were made by the owners of that beautiful and pleasant summer resort at their own expense and for their profit. So, go, "True Grit," and do likewise.

Nor does his bewilderment stop here. He gets the grade of the hills on the two roads terribly mixed, and lets the cat out of the bag in the exceptants' behalf when he claims that old Grandpa drimes, when in the vigor of manhood, with his saif bag of cornmeal with a stone to one end, would wend his way from Groff's mill through and along these very swamps, the identical route that is now laid down and christened Bonits Avenue; and he says, where Grandpa then contemplated the opening of this very road, something we have never heard of before, (it is not in Grandpa's will,) but we think if such was the case the old gentle-man was very wise in abandoning the idea of this mud route, and hunted for and found a better and shorter route by fully a mile on solid ground and only one bridge required instead of thirteen.

Right about this point in his article he speaks of tell you in what way or how it will be convenient, and sails to tell you it starts about nowhere; that he has been six months searching for it, and that others used have to hunt to find it; that it does not cross any other county road; is 2½ miles long and has not a blacksmith shop, nor a wheelwrigh shop, nor store, nor post office, nor school house nor church, nor railroad station, nor mill anywher along it or within a mile of it, nor at either end nor any way of getting from it to them, except Mr. Groff's mill; nor does it pass as near to any one's door, nor does it develop any property as it does Mr. Alexander Yearly Dolfield's. Your correspondent may say that Mr. Groff's mill just what he wants to get to from the Valley .-There are two mills in successful operation in the Valley and three or four more rotted down for the solid stone road on the line, but he does not tell you this solid bed of stone are only one stone deep he close of which the appointments will be made. and are held up out of the swamp, (which is from four to six feet deep.) by poles being placed under them and were put there by Mr. Reese for his light hauling, and not for the heavy loads of the public.

He also speaks of shooting Mr. Reeses' saw and grist mill. That matter is between him and Mr Reese, and I have nothing to say about it. Then he says we come to a spot known as Gingrich's, where the Valley farmers ship their milk, cord-wood and cross-ties, &c. Not the truth. There is not a farmer in that part of the Valley in the milk business, nor would the opening of Bonita Avenue shorten the distance, nor make it more convenient for any of them to Gingrich's, but has there been thousands of tons of wood in every shape hauled there by the very shortest, best and most convenient road that can possibly be found? It is open and being used can possibly be found? It is open and being used constantly, and what the exceptants recommend and will help to make better.

He also ways, when this road shall have been opened, graded and paved, Old Grandpa Grimes will conclude it is one of the most attractive drives to and from the Valley, and will add additional charms to Emory Grove, but he fails to show you are road leading from this new road to Emory any road leading from this new road to Emory Grove, because there is none, and we very much fear Grandpa's clock will quit ticking before all this paving spoken of will be accomplished, and we are fully assured it will quit telling the hour, for the route will shorten the distance or lessen the toll from M. G. Cockey's, or any other farm in the Valley: but, on the contrary, (if they ever travel it.) the distance to Baltimore will be increased 13/2 miles and three miles more toll to pay, because now they reach the pike at the 10-mile stone, then they would reach it at 12½ miles.

In conclusion, we think the subject about exhausted, and feel assured that neither the Commisionera nor a jury will ever grant the making of the road, 4% miles long, over such a terrible route as this is, requiring thirteen bridges, a great deal of grading, ditching and quarrying, when a far better road, from same point to the same point, on solid upland, requiring only one bridge, and only 2% miles long, already open and traveled, would answer every purpose and be far more convenient to the public and 100 per cent. less expense to the county to keep up. county to keep up.

I hope you will favor Mr. Fox and encourage him. This is his first attempt at corresponding, and he was not aware of the good rule. We offer every apology in his behalf, and know your generous spirit will accept it. We are satisfied his article will be spicy and luminous, and carry with it a wire-edge. Yours Truly. G. F. G.

And all ye old Turtles and Toads; Come out of that terrible wilderness And tread the old Garrison Road. d if you should chance to get muddy. I'll tell you what you can do:
Be proud that you're in a strong wagon,
And not in the swamps paddling a cance. Then, if you should chance to get thirsty, Again I'll tell you what you can do: We'll have along a keg of hard cider And drink it to Morton and Harrison, too.

But, if you should chance to get hungry. I'il tell you again what we'il do: We'll have along Grandpa's half-bag of cornmeal, Drink cider and eat dodgers to Tippecanoe. We have an abundance of chickens and turkey Pigs, lambs and geese, as you know; We live all around on the fat of the land,

And that we can easily show. Now, if you continue in that terrible swamp You may take it for granted what you will do: Eat kraut and grape jelly as long as you live, And that is the best you can possibly do.

OBITTART. George Hawkins Williams

Hon: George Hawkins Williams, ex-President of the Maryland Senate and one of the most distin-guished members of the Bar of Maryland, died at his city residence, 625 St. Paul street, Baltimore, on the 7th inst. aged 70 years. For about two years he had not been in robust health. His decline seemed to result from a severe fall he received about two years since when he was heavily thrown from his years since when he was heavily thrown from his Dayton wagon whilst proceeding from the Long Green Station of the Maryland Central Railway to his country residence, near-by. After a couple of months, however, he so far recovered as to be able to resume his legal duties; but he never fully recovered. His spine: was injured by the fall, and gradually he felt the effects of it. In September of last was he felt in his room whitst arrange his last year he fell in his room whilst arranging his toilet, and it was subsequently found he had frac-tured his thigh bone. From the effects of this fall Mr. Williams never recovered, but gradually grew worse. He passed away peacefully and painlessly, surrounded by his entire family.

George mawkins Williams was born in Baltimore on October 5th, 1818. His father, George Williams, was a native of Roxbury, Mass., and a descendant of the Williams family, celebrated in the early history of that State. Removing to Baltimore, the elder Williams married Elizabeth Bordley Hawkins, daughter of Matthew Hawkins, of Queen Anne county, whose ancestors settled in that region pre-vious to the date of Lord Baltimore's charter. The family were originally settlers of Poplar Island, but afterwards removed to Queenstown, where the members occupied a leading position from the ear-liest period of colonial history. Through the Fos-ters and the Lowes they were connected with the family of Lord Charles Baltimore. Mr. Williams was descended from the best blood of Massachusetts and Maryland. He was carefully educated and entered Harvard University, where he graduated with distinction in 1839. He at once commenced his legal studies under that solid and brilliant man William Schley, and soon proved himself worthy of so distinguished once took high rank, and his reputation was ever maintained among the very highest men in his pro-During his long and honorable career he administered some of the largest and most wealthy estates in Maryland, and was highly esteemed for his integrity and excellent judgment, which made him a safe and reliable counsellor. In mercantile law he was recognized as having few equals in the State. As a speaker Mr. Williams was, at all times, forcible, clear and elequent, using pure English, and never descended to cant or hypocrisy. When roused and interested he could be severe, though always courteous to his brethren of the bar, and winning the respect of the Court by his presentation of his points, though they might be decided in politics Mr. Williams was an unflinching Democrat, never deserting his party principles for than the effective stump orator, and carefully thought out whatever policy he found commended itself to his judgment. Whilst not dogmatic he was firm in his belief of what was proper and just. In 1877 he was elected a member of the House of Delegates from Baltimore county and took a leading position among his fellow members. Winner in the House it was mainly through his efforts that the repeal of the Eastern Shore law in reference to a U.S. Senator coming from that section was prevented. And he also twice defeated the bill to extend the city limits. In 1879 he was elected to the Senate from Baltimore county and was recognized as one of the ablest members of that body. In 1882 he was elected President of the Senate, filling the chair with the highest dignity and with credit to his county and State. He loved pure literature and was an extensive reader thereof, and his mind was well stored from the most celebrated authors. Mr. Williams was a member of the Protestan Episcopal Church, and, for many years past, worshipped at St. Paul's, Charles street. He always gave liberally of his means, and some years since entirely rebuilt, at his own expense, an old Episcopal Church at Queenstown, where his father and mother formerly worshipped. He was a faithful member of the Society of St. George, a charitable organization, of which he was President for several venrs, as well as Treasurer In 1843 Mr. Williams was married to Miss Eleano A. Gittings, the only daughter of the late John S. Gittings. They had seven children, six of whom are now living, four girls and two boys—William S. G. and Ernault H., Mrs. Morison, wife of Dr. Rubt. Morison; Miss Eleanor A., (now Mrs. Chatard.) Miss Charlotte and Miss Rebecca. Mr. Williams children inherited seven-ninths of the wealth of the late John S. Gittings.

Mr. Williams was genial and happy in his tem-perment and loved the companionship of friends. During his life he travelled extensively in Europe was observant of the men and manners of the Old World, and was very entertaining in his reminisin his home he was a tender, loving husband and indulgent father, and delighted to study how to make all happy and comfortable.

His funeral will take place from St. Paul's P. E. Church, Charles and Saratoga streets, to-day (Satur day 9th) at 4 P. M. Monkton Items .- The Gunpowder Falls at this place, true to his name and nature, became a rushing torrent on last Monday and caused considerable damage carrying away fences and logs, overflowing low lying meadows, wheat fields, do., and covering them with mud. The rain commenced to fall on Saturday evening last, and came down almost uninterruptedly until Monday night. The stream was higher than it has been for several years, roads are washed very badly in a number (The N. C. Railroad did a big business during the inauguration, in spite of the rainy season prevailing at that time. Train after train, loaded down people, passed down the road for Washington The great majority of them with limited means had a rough time of it in facing the storm. Many are now on their return home and look like they stood in need of a good boiling and scouring, and after that a square meal to bring them back to life The Rev. Doctor Geo. K. Warner, Rector of St. James Parish, P. E. Church, on my Lady's Manner, who has been quite ill for some time, is slowly improving. Mrs. Warner, the wife of the Doctor, who is also ill, is not getting along as fast toward convalercence as desired.
Mr. John Bacon, of this place, is also laid up by indisposition. He is reported somewhat better. Mr. James H. Shepperd, Jr., a cherished young friend of ours, we are sorry to say, is again attacked by his old enemy, inflammatory rheumatism. This is the third time that he has been a victim to attacks. We are glad to state, however, that he is tacks. We are glad to state, nowever, that he is resting somewhat easier at this writing.

Mr. John W. Merryman, of this place, made a narrow escape with his life a few days ago, in unloading a heavy log from a wagon which slipped and caught him but prevented from rolling over him by some fortunate interposition. He is now him by some fortunate interposition. He is now laid up for some repairs with a sprained ancle.

Mr. George Burrows, a teamster for Mr. Henry Hunt, residing near here, had two fingers on his right hand badly mashed a few days ago. He was obliged to stop his wagon on a hillside, when he attempted to put a stone under the hind wheel to prevent the team from soing had, when his fingers. prevent the team from going back, when his fingers were caught between the ground and the stone and leased until the team started forward. He is suf-fering greatly but bears his ill luck philosophically. Mr. Abraham Young of this place, is penned up with a heavy cold. We can sympathize with in with a neavy cold. We can sympatrize with father Abraham in his forced retirement. We hope a liberal consumption of catnip tea, Bull's cough syrup, hot toddy, &c., will speedily release him.

On a recent visit paid to Dr. J. W. C. Cuddy, of Carrollton Avenue, Baltimore, we found the Doctor ust as busy as he could possibly be. His practice is very exter sive; he hardly ever gets a full nights rest and often has to be up all night. He is deserv edly popular with all classes and has hosts of friends He is trying, however, to keep up as well as he can under a burden of two hundred and thirty avoirdu-Mr. Hamuel Miller, of Monkton, has just presented the family with a bran new baby girl. CINCOLD COURT PROGREDLINGS. Asfors Judges Tellett, Fairler and Watters . Charles Burbe, State's Attorney .

John W. Shanhlin, Clerk. Joshua Tracey, Sheriff Jupiter Pluvius having dispensed an undue por-tion of the aquious fiuld, the opening day of the March Term of the Circuit Court for Baltimore County did not present that cheery appearance that is wont to prevail on opening days. There was but a slight array of the legal fraternity, and scarcely any spectators, and all the persons summoned on jury duty did not respond to the mellifluous tones of Court Clerk Bason when he called the roll. The December Term was called, and on the question of any business for the term there was no response, and not a single case was entered, an unusual proceeding, as there are generally a number of judgments or matters of that sort entered up on the last day of the term. The December Term of Court was then ordered adjourned sine die. The following members of the bar were present to watch the call of the dockets: N. Char. Burke, Col. D. G. McIntosh, Wm. S. Keech, Maj. John I. Yellott, Col. M. W. Offutt, Hon. J. Fred C. Talbott, A. S. J. Owens, Wm. Grason, C. Bohn Stingluff, Jno. F. Gontrum, Thos. J. Hunter, W. Frank Mitchell, A. A. Piper, F. I. Duncan, Chas. Quigley, Edward Higgins, Amos F. Mussellman, John T. Ensor, Geo. G. Hooper, Samuel Regester.

"Gentlemen of the Grand Jury:
You have been sworn and have had the advantage of hearing the oath repeated twice, and in this you have a guide as to your duty. It has been the practice of this Court to ask your careful attention to the oath which you have taken. Understanding the oath you will have no difficulty in knowing your line of ducy. I am glad to say that there is nothing of a serious character to which to call your attention at this time. You will have considerable business to attend to, but not as much as former business to attend to, but not as much as former frand Juries, from the fact that the county has been shorn of a large and populous part of its territory. It therefore becomes your duty to get through with your duties with all the celerity due to a proper administration of justice so as to lessen the burden of expense on the people of the county.

The Court and its officers will aid you with all necessary advice for the prompt prosecution Mr. Poteet was then sworn as Bailiff to the Grand Jury, and they returned to their room. The dockets were then called: The appearance docket (99 cases) was called, renewsis, made, &c.

(Equity Docket No. 8, folio 28.) The object of the bill of revivor in this case is to procure a technical foreclosure of the mortgage from William H. Leach to Geo. Hawkins Williams and to relieve the property hereinafter mentions from any cloud.

The bill states that on the 14th January, 188 George Hawkins Williams, being seized of a certain tract of land in Baltimore county, near Cub Hill, ontaining about 44 acres, conveyed the same William H. Leach, who, being unable to pay purchase money, re-conveyed the same to said Wil-liams by way of mortgage (Liber W. M. I., No. 92, folio 205, etc.,) to secure the unpaid purchase money ($2,800) according to the tenor of the mortgage notes therein described.

And that in consideration of the indulgence thereby granted, the said Leach agreed that in addition to said mortgage a decree should be passed there upon for a sale of said property upon the happening of any default so as to bind said mortgaged premises not only in his hands but all subseque iders of the title thereof. That through some inadvertance which this plain tiff cannot now ascertain, though the mortgage was recorded on the 17th day of January, 1881, the bill or foreclosure and the assent thereto was not put upon the docket until 18th January, and the decree ented to was not passed until January 20th of That the said Leach conveyed the equity of redemption in said mortgage property, subject to the lein, to one James J. McCann in trust (Liber W. M. I., No. 120, tolio 196, &c...) for Margaret Handle n or life, with remainder over to the heirs of he body, and that through inadvertance and mistake the same was placed on record on January 17th. 1881, prior to the passage of said decree in contra vention of his agreement aforesaid. That the said mortgage was foreclosed by sale of said mortgage premises, and the plaintiff became the purchaser thereof on the 14th day of May, 1888, at $2,500, and the sale having been ratified he received a deed therefor and thereby becomes entitled to all the rights of the original mortgages. That Margaret Handlein, the cestui que trust said McCann, under the deed hereinbefore referred of a Permanent Trustee. to, died intestate in October last, leaving as the heirs of her body several children, one of whom, John Leach, enlisted in the army of the United letes but whether he is now in such service is no known, and who, if he has left the same, is a non That the deed to McCann casts a cloud upon the itle of your orator, (the plaintiff) and that the said conveyance once having been made subject to the effect of said mortgage and a sale having been made under the original decree and the mortgaged premi ses having produced less than the mortgage debt interest, taxes in arrears and expenses, he is entit-led to have the said McCann and his cestui que trusts required to redeem said land and pay the entire debt and expenses owing thereupon by a day certain or to have said mortgages decreed to be techni-cally foreclosed, so that any equity of redemption they may have shall be forever barred and the plaintiff enjoy said lands free from any cloud cast by said deed. It is thereupon, this 18th day of February, 188 rdered by the Circuit Court for Baltimore County in Equity, that the plaintiff, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper pub-lished is Baltimore county once a week for four successive weeks before the 18th day of March, 1889. give notice to the said John Leach of the object and substance of this bill, warning him to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor,
