AMUSEMENTS NEXT WEEK. Ford's Grand Opera House -An Easter Celebration.-Pretty Minnie Palmer and her merry Company will begin a week's engagement at Ford's Grand Opera House Easter-Monday. Miss Palmer is one of the public's especial pets, and in Baltimore—her home—she is always received by admiring crowds. Her popularity is due her merits as an actress whose efforts to please are never unnatural—bewitchingly pretty, with a simplicity of manner, and just piquant enough to be catching; a beautiful voice; a delightful dancer: attractive plays, and an excellent company, success must at-tend her. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday nights, "My Sweetheart;" Thursday and Friday nights and Saturday matinee, "My Sister," (her new play,) will be produced. This petite, pert bit of humanity will only be in the city one week this season, and probably not again for Next week, April 29th, Geo. H. Adams and an excellent company in the musical comedy "He, She, The Funds and the Tax Levy .- At a meeting of the Fullerton Permanent Loan Association, held at Fullerton on Thursday, 11th inst., the following esolutions were passed: WHEREAS, Centennial Grange, No. 161, P. of H have passed resolutions recommending that tax-payers of Baltimore county demand that the full mount of money received of the city be at once set apart to reduce the tax levy for the coming year and that it is not lawful that any of it should be paid for collecting the same; therefore be it Resolved, That we, the members of Fullerton P L. Association endorse and fully concur in the ac tion of Centennial Grange, No. 161. Resolved. That copies of these resolutions, signed by the President and Secretary, be furnished the newspapers for publication. ALEX. McCormick, President. CHAS. BROCKMEYER, Secretary.

Badly Hurt .- On Tuesday afternoon Harry Irving, driver for Mr. John Wolf, was badly hurt on the hill beyond Mr. Wm. Bowen's gate on the Dulany's Valley Pike. It is not known exactly how he was thrown from the saddle horse, but his foot had caught in the stirrup and he was dragged for nearly a hundred vards before he got loose .-The stirrup broke and released him. He was found in the road in an unconscious condition, and Officer John A. Bosley, of Towson, had the wounded man brought back to Bosley's Hotel, where Dr. R mbs on his left side were found to be fractured, and one rib dislocated. He had seven scalp wounds on the head, as if he had been kicked by one of the horses. Irving made a narrow escape with his life. Prisoners Sentenced .- Chas. Bratian, white. trunk of a fellow-boarder at a boarding house at | ing officers were elected to serve for the ensuing Steelton, (Sparrow's Point,) in the 12th District, and stealing therefrom $17, and who was convicted of the charge, and whose counsel, Messrs. John F. Gontrum and A. A. Piper, filed a motion for a new trial which motion was heard by Judge Watters and was overruled, was brought before the Court on the 16th inst, and was sentenced to 1 year in the House of Mary Britton, a colored girl, apparently about 20 years of age, heretofore tried on the charge of stealing some wearing apparel from a lady with whom she lived as a servant, in the 11th District, was found guilty and sentenced to 1 month's confinement in the county Jail. Wedding Announcement .- Cards are out for the marriage of Mr. A. W. Perrie, of Towson, and Mrs. Lilie Conrad Rind. The ceremony will take place at St. Peter's P. E. Church, Lanvale street and Druid Hill Avenue, Baltimore, on Tuesday afternoon, 23d inst., at 5 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott. of Govanstown, have issued cards of invitation for the marriage of the daughter. Miss Rowena Kingsbury Scott, and Mr. Geo. B. Stewart. The ceremony will take place at Ascension P. E. Church, Lafayette Square, Baltimore, on Tuesday, 30th inst., at 7.30 P. M. What's in the Wind? -- For two or three weeks past Senator Lindsay of Baltimore county has been in receipt of profuse specimens of dress goods by mail. Now, what does this young bachelor-Senator want with so many specimens of dress goods? There can be but one event to transpire from such store toggery. Do these events cast a shadow? Temperance Address at Hunt's Chapel.—On Thursday, April 25th, at 8 o'clock P. M., Miss Mary

Magruder, organizer of the Young Woman's Christian Temperance Union for the State of Maryland, will deliver a temperance address at Hunt's M. E. Church, near Sherwood. All are most cordially in-The Caves Improvement Company.—On Saturday last Messrs. Macdonald & Olstead, engineers and contractors, together with some of the officers of the Caves Improvement Company, passed over the line of the proposed new railroad for the pur-pose of making estimates for building the same. The Hedge Fence Company,—There will be a meeting of the Baltimore County Hedge Company held at the Smedley House on next Tuesday, 28d inst., at 11 o'clock A. M. John T. Dillihunt, of the Waverly Chemical Engine Company, was sent to the Homestead House as houseman. On the 18th Capt. Dillihunt resigned A Bunday School Library.—Through the kindness and efforts of Mr. Wm. G. Wisner, of Tow-sen, the Epsom M. P. Sunday School has been furnished with a valuable library. Base Ball at Govanstown,--At a recent game of base ball at Govanstown the Govanstown (Jr.) nine defeated the Glenwood Club by a score of Monkton Items.—The funeral of Miss Mary Louisa Pearce, which took place from here on last Thursday, 11th inst., was one of peculiar sadness and gloom to those to whom she was closely associated by the ties of sister, kindred and friend, and the vast concourse of people who came to pay the last tribute of respect and followed her remains to the grave testified by their solemn demeanor that they also have lost a friend not easily to be replaced. Miss Louisa was about 51 years of age at placed. Miss Louisa was about 51 years of age at the time of her death. She was the daughter of the late well-known Gen. John B. and Sophia Pearce, of "My Lady's Manor," 10th District. By her sweet temper, uniform kindness to all, rich and poor alike; by her happy, free and affectionate disposition, and by her tender and sympathetic heart, which was always ready in response to the cry of the needy, the wail of the sick or distressed, she made perhaps more stamped friends than gener.

made, perhaps, more staunch friends than generally falls to the lot of man, and it can be truly said t her that she died without an enemy. She was a member of the Protestant Episcopal Church and was buried in that faith. She sleeps now with her ancestors in the family lot attached to that beautiful cometery among the hills—St. James, on "My lady's Manor." Rev. Dr. Damer, of Baltimore, her rmer pastor, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Geo. K. Warner, rector of St. James' Parish, read the services of he church. Mr. Melvin Edward and Harry Pearce, hephews, and Mr. Marcus Denison, Mr. Frank noles and Mr. Edw. Rich, cousins of deceased cted as pall-bearers. Miss Nettie Warner presided at the organ, and, assisted by the St. James' choir, rendered beautiful chants for the dead. Miss Pearce leaves one brother, Mr. Jacob M. Pearce, and one sister. Mrs. John M. Denison, of Baltimore. She was confined to her bed for about six weeks.

and died from Bright's troubles, and not from ner yous prostration, as erroneously stated in the papers. Miss Pearce enjoyed a handsome income from property which she held absolutely in her own right; also from a large amount of entailed property. Her will has not been opened as yet, but t is supposed that she left quite a legacy to an intinate friend, and has also set apart other bequests or charitable objects.
The Rev. J. Fred Heisse, of Guilford Avenue M. L. Church, Baltimore city, delivered his celebrated ecture "Banana Peels" to his old friends at Vernon thurch, in the upper end of the county, on last Friday night, April 12th. He commenced in a humorous strain, commenting upon the insignifi-cancy of a banana peel, but the dangerous obstacle when placed in a right position. He then went on o enumerate the many falls man and woman may suffer by unguardedly treading upon the slippery peel. Thus the speaker illustrated the slippery parts of life by which man and woman may fall in their unguarded journey through life, and their consequent trouble and struggle to recover from these fallen positions. The speaker pointed out in forcible lenguage the way recope whould pursue forcible language the way people should pursue and thus be safe from an ignominious and degrad-ing fall. The church was well filled with people, and the lecture was well received, which could be seen by the many smiling faces greeting the lecturer. The proceeds, we understand, are to be devoted for the Sunday School of that place.
The Rev. Edward Hays, junior paster of Hereford

Mr. Hays is quite a young man of very pleasing manners, and by diligence of study will no doubt succeed in his calling. There was a good congregation at the church who were much pleased with Miss May Forbes of Baltimore, is the guest of the Misses Holmes, at "Bellefield." Ressville Jottings .- We have all been enjoying spring; yet, on last Sunday morning we noticed ice in a bucket at the well. We must commence with griculture, for this branch of industry is the base of our food supply. Peas, polatoes, oats, corn and other seeds have been planted. Mr. Jas. M. Gillessupplied the neighborhood with good ones at moderate figures. Our road supervisor is repairing the highways.

Circuit M. E. Church, who was recently appointed by the Baltimore Conference as third preacher to that charge, filled the pulpit at the Monkton

Church for the first time on last Sunday night.-

Mr. Martin Kolatzka has improved his truck farm by putting a wire fence along the front of the place. Mr. John Hayes. Jr., is pushing the farm work right ahead on his beautiful plantation. Mr. Charles Hall has improved the appearance of his farm very much. Everything looks business like about the farm of Mr. Jacob Gross. Mr. G. is a good manager. Governor's proclamation was well observed in this part of the District. At school 6 flowers were planted. As there are large oaks around the school house we presume no trees were needed. Miss Anna Bosley, the efficient teacher, did all possible to make the day a memorable one.

The scholars at school 10 prepared a program and acquitted themselves creditably. Miss Katie Volz resided at the organ. Mrs. Jacob Gross favored the audience with several fine selections. Mrs. Schenkel played several patriotic airs. Something like twenty trees were donated, but there was not space o plant all. Among the donators were Mr. Henry Volz, Masters Reese Feltz, Willard Schenkel, Willie and Bennie Parlett, George Evering, Wilfred Shaffer, Harry Oppertshauser, Miss Minnie Hillen, Katie Volz Lizzie Bartenfelter, Mildred Feltz, Sophia Berk, Dora Pugh, Arrie Gettman. The trees were dedicated to Longfellow, Emmerson, Mozart, Alice and Phoebe Carey, Jackson, M. A. Newell, Chas. B. Rogers, W. II. Mace, Benj. Harrison, Henry Volz, and some of the children dedicated their trees to their parents. Among the pleasant group of people were Rev. J. H. S. Clarke, Dr. S. V. Mace, Mrs. Jas. Slad, Mrs. Barbara Berlett, Mrs. Henry Volz, Misses Ida Gettman, Cora Taylor and Anna Asher. Mr. Henry Volz, Sr., used his muscle in planting the trees-mental energy is not sufficient in such cases. The Historical Class has suspended business until autumn, when probably the pleasant work will be resumed Rev. Wm. Brucker confirmed the following young people at the Howard church on the 14th inst.:— Miss Mary Weikert, Mr. Conrad Lengenfelder and Mr. Chas. Teufel. Also, several young folks from Second District Itens .- Having not seen anything in the JOURNAL for some time from our District, perhaps a few words may be interesting. If your readers will remember, some time ago

our correspondent made some allusions to gold being discovered in the District and promised to say more about it in the future. Now, in conse-quence of assays made by four of the leading anaviical chemists of the country, a rich yield of gold and silver has been discovered, and a company has been formed, known as the Mineral Hill Mining Company of Balttmore City, with a capital stock of $150,000. Thomas N. Reid is the President, and Dr. J. W. C. Cuddy, Secretary. The office of the com-pany is at No. 12 N. Holiday street, Adelphi Building. In addition, they say, to gold and silver, rare stones of very great value have been found in abundance, and as a valuable accompaniment there is also a large yield of pyritic powder, one of the finest compounds yet known. This, in itself, they say is very valuable. Specimens of the minerals and powder can be seen at the office of the com-Politics is beginning to loom up in the 2d District. Keech both have a great many friends in the District, But it is supposed that if Mr. Keech is determined in his course, as stated in a prominent newspaper the other day, no one knows what may be the result, as everyone is aware the Repub licans, stimulated by their recent victory, will assume the aggressive in place of a defensive policy, as heretore in Baltimore county. We hope that everything may be settled amicably. At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Randalistown Hall Association, held on the 11th inst, for the election of officers and other business the report of the Scoretary-Charles N. At the last meeting of the Fullerton P. L. Association (after business was finished) several subcistion (after business was finished) several subjects were discussed, notably among them was the subject of our school house at Fullerton, if you can call it such, for myself, I don't think it fit for an animal to stay in, much less our children. I will touch it light by saying it is a disgrace to Fullerton, Baltimore county, and the State of Maryland. Your readers may doubt this, and to them I will say, come here and convince yourself of the truth of it. Now that the Connty Commissioners have 3970. Albert J. Mellor $725, John Hubner $1,500, Geo. of it. Now that the County Commissioners have received the money from the city they ought cer-tainly give us a decent school house. We don't ask for one with a steeple and bell, but one with room and light enough to accommodate the children, some of which have to sit on the floor. The following committee were appointed to confer once more as the last appeal to the School. Board and County Commissioners for a school house, and if it proves to be no use, we will give it up—Chas. Brockmeyer, John H. Hertlein and August Dumer. Building John H. Hertlein and August Formalities are offered if we can only get the money.

C. B. Relateratown Items .- Mr. Frank Rich, a son o Rev. Dr. Rich, was among the number who grad-uated on Monday last in medicine from the Univer-sity of Maryland. He has not yet decided where he will practice.

Bishop Paret will administer the sacred rite of confirmation in All Saints', P. E. Church on Wednesday, 24th inst., at 8,80 P. M.

Gunpowder Items.—The present cool weather impresses one with the variableness of the spring season. A few days ago the generous sunshine and balmy air came woolng into action the long dor-mant life of vegetation. The feathered songsters warbled their sweetest notes in their glad salutition, bud and leaflet and blossom, the vanguard of grace and beauty are everywhere springing into life. Farmers have made rapid progress with their spring work and the out look for an abundant har-vest is auspicious. The fire flend has given emphasis the past week to the wisdom that proclaimed Arbor Day.

Among the number of distructive fires in the woods that which began in the Joppa woods just over the Harford line from a spark from a locomotive on Tuesday at an early hour must be classed as a success for it raged with unremitting fury until Thursday. A large area was burned over and much damage done to fencing and young timber. An incendiary fire caused the destruction of a car and contents that was standing on the siding at Bradshaw Statiou on last Tuesday night. The car was loaded with cotton consigned to A. A. Blakeny & Co. Loss on cotton $1.250.00 at 225.500. $1,250, on car $500. Large numbers of fishermen with dip-nets are to be seen daily at the Big and Little Falls. Some o them make a pilgrimage of many miles and remain on the fishing grounds several days and nights.— Herring are the fish they are after, which they salt away for future consumption. The run of herring up the Falls has been small, but it is expected by old fishermen that in a week's time there will be a glut of them, and then a barrel may be caught in I peruse with much pleasure and profit the very able papers of "Chelys" on "The Problems of Existence," published in the Journal. "Chelys" is a lucid and logical writer, approaching and defending the properties of his great subject with account. ing the principles of his great subject with scrupu-lous and critical care, and establishing the truth of his influences by the cogent reasoning of a cultivated mind. SILAS. WEDDINGS. Rutledne-Harris.-There was a large attendance at the M. P. Church at Parkton on Wednesday evening, 17th inst., to witness the marriage of Mr Chas. T. Rutledge, son of Mr. Joshua Rutledge, of Maryland line, 7th District, and Miss Luella Harris, The officiating clergyman was the Rev. J. S. Bow ers the pastor of the church. The ushers were Messrs. Walter Harris of York, Pa.; J. B. Wright, of forrisville, Harford county: Charles Plowman, o Parkton, G. F. Fishel of Baltimore. The brides maids were Miss Calder Harris, sister of the bride and Miss Jennie Bond, of Maryland Line. The bride and groom approached the altar preceded by the bridesmaids and ushers, while Miss Tillie Ut derwood, of Yo.k. Pa., played a wedding march on the organ. The bride, who wore a travelling dress and the bridesmaids, who wore white dresses, car ried beautiful bouquets of flowers. The bride and groom will reside at Cockeysville. Carr-Wisc.-The residence of Mr. William Wise at White Hall, 7th District, was the scene of a gay wedding on Tuesday afternoon, 16th inst., the conracting parties being Mr. Willian B. Carr. of Balimore, and Miss Lannie M. Wise, daughter of the ost. The Rev. W. F. Roberts, of the M. E. Church erformed the ceremony. The bride was dressed n silver gray Henricita cloth. Charles A. Wise prother of the bride, and E. Rohn, of Baltimore were the ushers. Hableston-Currens.-Mr. John M. Hableston,Jr. roker of York, Pa., and son of the late John M Broker of fork, ra., and son of the Baltimore Hableston, for many years cashier of the Baltimore Sun, and Miss Estella T. Currens, of York, Pa., were married on the 19th inst. The guests were numerous from Baltimore, Philadelphia and other points Gardenville Items .- The 14th inst. was ob served as Confirmation Day in the Lutheran Church. The sacred rite was administered to 15 children by the Rev. G. W. Sigelen. The interior of the church was beautifully decorated with evergreen, bouquets and potted plants, and the building was crowded to its utmost extent by an interested audience. The sermon by the pastor was a their day's work. But we are sorry to state their listened to with a great deal of attention.

Garrison Forest Grange, held on the 16th inst., the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That Garrison Forest Grange, No. 158, Patrons of Husbandry, request the Hon. Board of County Commissioners to place to the credit of the Appropriate remarks by the teacher concluded the tax lays of 1880 all the money received from the tax levy of 1889 all the money received from the city for property in the Belt, so as to reduce the tax rate to its lowest possible limit.

ALPHA. Resolved. That in our opinion, by keeping the tax rate below that of the part of the county annexed to the city, it will be an inducement for persons to move out into the county to take advantage of the Resolved. That the Master and Secretary of this Grange be requested to sign these resolutions and send a copy to the Hon. Board of County Commisdoners, and to the county papers.

MUNDER TRIALS. The Boulden-Jackson Murder Trial.—The case of Gilmor Boulden, colored, charged with the murder of Benjamin Jackson, colored, at the saloon of Mickey Doyle, on Union Street, Baltimore, on the 22d of October last, which was taken up on Thursday, 11th inst., before Judge Yellott, in the Circuit Court for Baltimore County, was concluded on Friday 12th inst.

on Friday, 12th inst.
Officers James Rourke, Michael Hogan and Jas.
F. Brown testified to the commotion in the street and the finding of the man Jackson with a wound in the neck and his death in the patrol wagon from the effects of the wound while on the way to the hospital, and the carrying of the body to the police station, where the post mortem examination was made by the Surgeon, Br. S. V. Hoopman.

Frederick Polheim, a youth 15 years of age, who was on his way home driving a cart of his father, testified to seeing the accused (Boulden) start across Union street just ahead of his horse in a sort of a trot and stab the colored man (Jackson) in the neck; he saw the knife in Boulden's left hand with the blade open, and saw the policemen put the wounded man in the patrol wagon.

Lizzie Cook, colored, a frequenter of Doyle's saloon, testified that the men had had some words in Doyle's saloon. Boulden called Jackson a ———; they went outside to have a fight, and she looked out of the door and saw Jackson backing; saw Boulden cut Jackson, and saw Jackson backing; saw Boulden cut Jackson, and saw the latter stagger—first on one side and then the other, and she then went back into Doyle's.

Henry Hewitt, colored, testified to seeing the men fighting; they separated, and Boulden crossed to the opposite side of Union street, and Jackson came back to get his hat, which he had dropped in the fight, and they commenced to fight again, and then the witness left. in the fight, and they commenced to higher and, and then the witness left.

Geo. W. Barker, colored, Hanson Watts, colored, called "the dude," teatified to the quarrel in the saloon and the fight outside, but did not see the stabbing. The quarrel originated over a treat called for by the deceased, (Jackson.) in which Hanson Watts, colored, called "the dude," took fish and binary instead of something to drink, and for and biscuit instead of something to drink, and for which Doyle charged the Delmonico price of 6 cents. To this stupendous charge Jackson demurred, and this led to words, in which Jackson Emma Peters, who is said to be housekeener for Doyle and even to occupy a more intimate rela-tion, testified to the quarrel and the men going out

Michael Doyle, the keeper of the saloon, testified to the difficulty about the charge of 6 cents for the fish and biscuits, and to the men going outside, and to the cutting of Jackson.

Lieut. David H. Bruchey, of the Baltimore police force, testified to the arrest of Boulden on Henrictia street the night after the murder. The ac-cused denied his name and said it was Charles James Johnson. The Leutenant replied, Charles James Johnson, I want you, all the same, and took him into custody.

This closed the case on the part of the State. FOR THE DEFENSE. The prisoner was put upon the stand. He said: never saw Jackson before that day. I went to Mickey Doyle's saloon about 9 o'clock in the morning, and went back again about 2 o'clock in the atternoon. About 4 o'clock Henry Hewitt, Hanson Watts, Benjamin Jackson and another man came in. We had some words, and Mickey Doyle told us to have no trouble in there. I went out and Jack-son and the stranger followed me out. We had a fight and Jackson came back at me with his hand behind him, and then I cut him with the knife.

ran away to avoid arrest; I threw the knife away; I went out on the Washington Road and returned Baltimore the next day. This was all the testimony offered for the defense.
Mr. N. Chas. Burke, the State's Attorney, in the cross-examination of the prisoner, asked him if he had not served a term in the Maryland Penitentiary, and he also read out a long list of numerous arrests in which the prisoner Boulden had figured for various misdemeanors and crimes, which the prisoner, under the advice of his counsel, declined to answer. The case was submitted without argument Judge Yellott, in rendering the verdict, said: "There is no doubt of the commission of the crime of homicide on the day and in the manner in question, but there are doubts as to the grade of the crime. Formerly, under the old statutes, there were but two grades-murder and manslaughter; but in 1810 an amendment taken from the Pennsylvania Code was made to the Maryland Code, which added the second degree. The Code says that all murder by lying in wait, or by poison, shall be murder in the first degree. A person may have determined to kill another; and days may elapse before the commission of the crime, in such case there can be no doubt of the grade of the crime. In this case there appears to have been a fight, but there was not sufficient provocation to relieve the accused from the consequences of his act, nor to con-atitute a case of self-defense. The deceased had only returned to get his hat when Boulden walked across to him and stabbed him. I shall therefore say that he is guilty of murder in the second de-The prisoner, who had sat all through the trial with his head hanging down, was greatly relieved when he heard the verdict, as he was expecting a verdict of murder in the first degree.

Messrs. John Grason and Randolph M. Isaac appeared as counsel for the defense.

The Johnson-Lee Homicide.—The case of Wm. E. Johnson, colored, aged 17 years, who was charged with the murder of James E. Lee, colored, by stabbing him with a knife while in the gallery at Ford's Opera House on the night of January 28d, was tried before Judge Yellott on Monday, 15th, Mr. John T. Ensor appearing for the defense.

Dr. N. G. Kierle testified to making the post mortem examination on the body of Lee at 205 Welcome Alley, Baltimore, on January 29th. The wound was in the left breast and an artery had been cut causing an internal hemorrhage, from which death resulted Charles Lee, colored, a brother of the deceased, testified to the death of his brother from the effect of the wound received.

James A. Jones, colored, testified that the two boys got to wrangling about a seat at the theatre, and that the quarrel was over when Johnson pulled out a knife and cut Lee, and the police then arrested both of them. Alex. Pinkney, colored, and Charles Conquest. colored, testified to the quarrel about the sent and the cutting. Officer Poultney, of the City Police Force, testi fied to arresting the accused, who said he had cut Lee and surrendered the knife, which was a large pocket-knife. This closed the case on the part of the State. FOR THE DEFENSE.

John Ridgely, colored, testified to the quarrel and fight, and to the boys getting into a fight again, when Johnson cut Lee Wm. Ridgely, colored, corroborated the testimony of the previous witness. THE PRISONER ON THE STAND. The prisoner, Wm. E Johnson, who is lame from some defect in one of his hips, in his testimony in his own behalf, said he had made room for Lee, who was a stranger to him, on the seat beside him that Lee wanted to get another fellow in and there was not room; that Lee cursed him and they got to fighting, and Lee put his hand behind him, and he (Johnson) grabbed hold of him; that the other fellow was behind him somewhere and that he was afraid of them. He took out his knife to defend himself and made a jab, with it, sideways, at Lee, int did not have any idea of killing him Dr. R. C. Massenburg and Mr. Charles W. Lee, of Towson, testified to the quiet disposition of the accused when he lived with Mr. Samuel Lee, in

> A Singular Horse Case.-A short time ago Messrs. Bird & Bro., provision dealers of Baltimore, replevied a bay mare from Mr. Theodore Clayton and wife, of Look Raven, Baltimore county, and a motion was made for a return of the animal to Mr. Clayton and wife pending the decision of the re-pleyin case. The Mesers Bird & Bro. swore positively to the identity of the horse, alleging that in the summer of 1885 a horse of the same description as the animal replevied was stolen from the farm of Mr. Spinner, on the Frederick Boad, where Mesars. Bird & Bro. had sent her for pasture. A host of witnesses, principally colored men, who had been in the employ of the firm, testified to the same facts and positively identified the animal as the same one that Mesers. Bird & Bro. had owned.
> On the other hand Mr. Clayton swore that he had ent and swore that he raised the mare, and that the mare replevied was the same animal he had raised. During all this time the mare in question was tied near the Court House, and Sheriff Whiteford and a number of other witnesses, mostly farmers, who knew her, examined her and testified positively to her identity as Clayton's mare, which originally belonged to Whiteford. They all recognized her by her general appearance and especially by a most psculiar and unusual formation of a certain part of the beast's anatomy. The testimony and hearing occupied a day and a half, and the possession of the mars was finally awarded by the Court to Mr. and Mrs. Clayton.
>
> Mr. R. B. Roarman appeared for Bird & Bro., and Messre, John F. Gontrum and A. A. Piper for Mr. and Mrs. Clayton.
> The strangest thing about the case was the unhesitating and positive testimony of the witnesses.

A Sharp Seritence.—George Stabbins, a youth 15 years of age, a resident of Baltimore, was tried before Judge Yellott on the 18th inst. on the charge of throwing stones and breaking the windows in a moving passenger train on the B & O. R. R. near Mt. Winans. The matter was submitted without argument. Judge Yellott said, "this is a most serious and dangerous offense, as the cars may be filled with men; women and children, anyone of whom might be seriously injured, and if death ensued the party committing the offense could be tried for murder. There is a special statute covering these offenses and the penalty on conviction is confinement in the Maryland Penitentiary from one to ten years. The traveling public must be protected, and in view of the youth of the prisoner I will sentence him to 2 years in the Maryland House of Correction."

Business Local. AN IMPORTANT ACHIEVEMENT for FARMERS.—The McCormick Harvesting Machine Co., of Chicago, Ill., has succeeded in perfecting a very simple device to be quickly interchangeable with the Twine Knotter for binding grain, thus enabling the farmer to use either twine or wire on the same machine. In view of the present high prices of twine this is a big achievement, as it effectually protects the purchaser of a machine against exorbitant prices on twine, which are liable to occur hereafter in consequence of the enormous increase in consumption and the scarcity of fibres of which it is made. The device referred to is practically their old wide famed wire binding device simplified equal to the knotter of their new Twine Binder. It is purely
