THE CCMING AMUSEMENT SEASON Ford's Grand Opera House to Open in Au gust With Prof. Bristol's Great School of Horses-The Coming Attractions .- Ford's Grand Opera House, handsomely embellished for the coming season, will open during the month of August with Prof. Bristol and his circus of trained horses, an attraction remarkably entertaining and wonderful in the intelligence which a thorough knowledge and training of these beautiful animals will develop. Prof. Bristol, who has not been to Baltimore for two years, has added largely to his stock of valuable animals, though he still retains little "Denver," brilliant "Mattie," daring "Dynamite." His orses display almost human intelligence. They hold a regular session of school, ring the bell, assist the master off and on with his hat and coat, accomplish difficult sums in arithmetic, spell correctly ise the blackboard with correctness, are good musicians, run, jump, swing, walk the tight-rope, and various other attainments The attractions booked for the season of '89-'90 a the Opera House include the greatest English and American stars, the most successful plays of the time. Among others Mr. and Mrs. Kendall, of London: Chas. Wyndham, of London: Rosina Vokes Comedy Company, of London: Wilson Barrett, of London; Joseph Jefferson and W. T. To Those Who Pay for Advertising ,-Often it is that some small merchant-small in ideas, small in calibre, small in stock and small in everything, thinks he will gull the public by t tional advertisement. On this small scale of ideas he hunts around for the cheap papers, gets the most for his money, according to his idea, fails to make connection with the purchasing public and then says that advertising does not pay. We say frankly to the merchant of repute and good standing that— Advertising fictitious bargains is a failure. A small business and large expenses is a failure. Poor clothing and big advertising is a failure. Night trade is a failure. Two prices is a failure. A low price in the window and a high price in the store is a failure.

Old styles and condemned fabrics (no matter how cheap) are a failure. Shoddy clothing advertised and sold as wool is failure. Cheap and inattentive salesmen (hired on com mission) are a failure. Bargains in the newspaper and apologies in the Large profits and small sales is a failure. Running down your competitors is a failure, be sides being mean. Advertising goods "at less than cost" all the year round is a failure and a he in the bargain. Stick to a legitimate business. Advertise sensibly and keep the stock you advertise and you are bound The Flim-Flam Game in Towson .- On the 23d inst. two plausible young fellows stopped at Mr. Chas, Bosley's bar room, in Towson, and ordered two drinks and gave a $10 Mill in payment. When the bar-keeper made the change they asked for an exchange of notes for smaller change, and distracting the bar-keeper they secured the note and small change too and made off. It was not long before young Bosley discovered the little game which had gen played on him and he and his brother, Officer John A. Bosley, started after the swindlers and overtook them at Bosley's Shop, on the Dulany's Valley Pike, and the fellows seeing that they were in a trap, said that in their hurry to get away they had made a mistake in the change given to them, and they returned the money. Officer Bosley concluding that he had no case against them let them go with a warning to make themselves scarce. Damages to Bridges .- Mr. W. H. Shipley, St perintendent of Bridges for Baltimore county, has made an estimate of the damage by the recent heavy rains to bridges in various parts of the of buildings on the lot he bought and that the matcounty. He gave an approximate statement to the County Commissioners on the 22d inst. He suggests that the citizens of the town should use lime freely about their premises, especially the outhouses, which will keep down the disagreeable odor that we notice after night. The Prohibition Convention--Nearly Unanimous and Quite Harmonious.—The delegates elected on Saturday, 20th, to the County Prohibition Convention, met at the Court House on Tuesday, Mr. John S. Biddison called the Convention to order and Mr. W. H. Flayhart was called to act as Mr. Biddison said: Brethren, we will join in prayer, and called upon the Rev. Joshua L. Benson, who delivered an impromptu prayer.

On the call of the roll the following delegates answered:

1st District—W. T. Watson, Rev. Chas. H. Young, col. Samuel Owens, Reuben Jones, David S. Cline. 6th District—Wm. C. Sparks, Harry Cooper, Daniel

Beckley, Wm. Boyd, Rev. Joshua L. Benson.

7th District—A. W. Hendrix, R. E. Benson, John

11th District—J. E. Standiford, James A. Frances,
C. E. Akehurst, John E. Allender, Wm. Gambrill.

12th District—Abraham J. Biddison, Richard T.

Vivoont, J. Better C. Fredman, J. M. Gillernie, John Vincent, Jr., Peter G. Erdman, J. M. Gillespie, John A Committee on Credentials and Permanent Organization was appointed as follows: Jacob M. Pearce, Chairman, W. T. Watson, Rev. J. L. Benson, E. W. Heisse, Dr. J. E. Benson, Clarence W. McMaster, J. M. Gillespie. The Committee reported the credentials of the members correct, and recommended that the temporary officers be confirmed as the regular officers of the Convention.

Mr. John S. Biddison, rising, said: Brethren, I thank you for the honor of naming me as Chairman thank you for the honor of naming me as Chairman of the Convention. This Convention has met for the purpose of suppressing vice and immorality and to do away with the saloon—this business which controls the whole political interests of both political parties. We have prayed and voted for 50 years in the hope that the parties would give us some relief from the accursed incubus which bears us down.— We have worked until consistency has ceased to be a virtue, and we will now take the control of affairs into our own hands. I have been preaching and working for temperance for 50 years, but without success. We go to the polls and vote for this man and that man who are put up by the liquor interest, and we are worse off than ever. The baneful curse corrupts the bench and the pulpit and the State and county officials from the highest to the lowest in man or person who will give him 5 cents, comes

The man who deals out liquid hell to any into this Court and pleads guilty in one case, pays $20 fine, has two or three others stetted, and walks away and laughs and continues the hellish traffic. We have not been able to find a man game enough o accept the nomination for State's Attorney on the Prohibition ticket; and I here say that the present State's Attorney had Hiteshue's Hotel at Relaterstown kept open all one Sunday before the last election where liquor was dealt out. Then how can you expect this man to prosecute the liquor dealers? say it is impossible to expect this thing unless you make the Prohibition Party a success. He then an nounced the Convention ready for business. Nominations were then made as follows: Sheriff-Samuel W. Owens, 1st District. Treasurer-Rev. Joshua L. Benson, 5th District. County Commissioners-Alex. Guthrie, 10th; Wm. 12th; John Knight, Sr., 7th. House of Delegates-Charles N. Phipps, 9th; Jacob I. Pearce, 10th; Wm. Hendrix, 7th; Abraham J Biddison, 12th; Wm. H. Singleton, 8th; John E Allendar, 11th. At this point Mr. N. Chas. Burke, the State's Attorney, who had been informed of the statement nade by Mr. Biddison about keeping Hiteshue's

Hotel open on Sunday, had a short conversation with Mr. Biddison relative to the charge, when Mr. Biddison said: Brethren, it becomes a pleasant duty to me to state to you that according to a statement made to me by Mr. Burke about Hiteshue's Hotel that what I stated to you was a mistatement made to me, or a wilful lie, and it affords me pleasure announce the fact that he was not at thue's Hotel or any other hotel on any Sunday, and have always felt kindly disposed to Mr. Burke, as e is a young man for whom I always entertained ne highest respect. Fourteen Delegates were then named to meet the tate Convention at Glyndon, as follows: Daniel J. Beckley, 5th District; Dr. J. E. Benson. 8th; Jacob M. Pearce, 10th; C. E. Akehurst, 11th; Geo. P. Morris, 6th; C. W. McMaster, 9th; John S. Biddison, 12th; Martin L. Jean, 2d; Wm. Sparks, oth; Richard Vincent, Jr., 12th; John E. Allen ler, 11th; John C. Carpenter, 9th; Wm. Daniel, 8d Reuben Jones, 1st. These delegates are to represent the county at the State Convention which will nominate a candidate for State Comptroller, and also elect a new Execuive Committee for Baltimore county, and also take into consideration the propriety of nominating a candidate for Chief Judge to fill the place just made On motion Mr. Calvin S. Harlan, 11th District, was named as the candidate for County Surveyor. The Convention then adjourned The 2d, 3d, 4th, 6th and 13th Districts had no rep esentatives in the Convention, and some of the other Districts did not have the full number of delegates present. The Convention was a very quiet, harmonious and omewhat inoffensive body—all the fight there was n it seemed to be in the Chairman. The County Fair .- Preparations should be beun for the county fair by those who intend to exibit, and this should include practically every farmer and gardener, every breeder of stock, every grower of fruits and vegetables, every head of a household-in order that the display of '89 shall not equal merely, but surpass, all preceding it. The premium list is prepared with especial reference to the local environments of our people. The crop and stock and articles are such as abound here, and with our population, our resources, the activity and enterprise of our citizens, the public spirit which makes them conduct such enterprises, such an abounding and creditable collection of products ought to be produced as would be an honor and glory to our county. Scarcely a farm but could send something worthy of public inspection; not a housewife but has some specialty which would do her credit in the exhibition hall. There are many ndustries, some small, others of larger proportion whose products should be shown. Not a manufacturing establishment but should display samples of ts wares, the aggregate making an erray which vould surprise our own people even, as well as delight all who are concerned in the advancement nd prosperity of this, the central and most popuous and wealthy county of the State. For the young people the usual departments are open, and inducements offered them to show the fibre of which they are made, and to compete with each other for the palm of excellence. Such emulation has in it nothing unhealthy or feverish and s to be commended. In that the fair opens up to all ages and occupations opportunities for honorable distinction; for all to do their several communities and their common county a service in directing attention to the number, the variety and the character of her products. Let all avail of them to the utmost limits. and such a display will be made as will be the talk of our people for a decade to come, and which will geographical location. A Suit as to Titic .- Some time since a writ of ejectment as against Mr. James A. Bosley, was issued at the suit of Bridget Kane, of Dulany's Valley, to recover possession of a lot of ground said to be wrongfully held by Bosley. Messrs. R. R. Boarman and W. Gill Smith were the counsel for Mrs. Kane and her daughter. On the 23d inst. Messrs. Wm. S. Keech, N. Chas. Burke and Hon. J. Fred C. Talbott filed a bill of complaint in the Circuit Court against Annie E. Kane and Bridget Kane, praying a writ of injunction to restrain the defendants from proceeding with an electment suit now pending against the plaintiff. The bill recites that Bosley bought from the defendant, Bridget Kane, on October 2, 1883, one acre of land on Dulany's Valley turnpike, upon which he has since placed valuable improvements, not knowing at the time of making the purchase that Mrs. Kane had previously conveyed to her minor daughter, Annie E. Kane, for a nominal consideration, about eight acres of land, including the acre afterwards conveyed to Bosley. The bill charges that the conveyance to Annie E. Kape was made by her mother in fraud of creditors in suits pending at the time, and that the daughter was present during the negotiations with Bosley, and interposed no objection when her mother represented herself to be the sole owner of the properit is stated that Bosley has put about $3,000, worth Presented .- The Grand Jury of Baltimore City has presented the following magistrates for chargoperation. Typhoid Fener and Dysentery.—Three cases of typhoid fever exist in Towson. We notice that the disease is quite prevalent in various parts of of the country, the press chronicling that the disease is in their midst. ease is in their midst.

The same may be said as to dysentery. It is thought by physicians that unwholesome vegetables have much to do with the prevalence of dysentery. Vegetables are brought to the markets before they are sufficiently ripe or grown. Used under such also mysterices they are liable to produce stomachic. circumstances they are liable to produce stomachic disorders. The greatest care should be used to avoid the use of unripe fruit or vegetables. It is best to be on the safe side. The Beard of Appeal.—The Board of Appeal.

Mr. G. W. Lurman, Chairman, appointed by the Democratic Executive Committed of Baltimore county, met at Towson on Wednesday, 24th inst. county, met at Towson on wednesday, 24th 1981, pursuant to a published notice to hear any complaints that might be made against the Judges and Clarks appointed to act at the Judicial primaries to be held on Saturday, 27th. No complaints have been made, and as far as heard from the appointments and any west with the appropriation of all good ments made met with the approbation of al citizens. This is a very gratifying state of affairs.

Watch Found and Returned.—The gold watch lost by Mrs. J. Badger Brown, one of the guests of "The Hampton," Towson, while driving along the Hillen road, was found by Dallard Chencolored, driver of the milk wagon of Mr. Wm. E. Stansbury and was by him returned to the owner, who rewarded him handsomely for the return of the property. The watch was advertised in the Journal, and valued more as an heirloom than for its intrinsic value. Mrs. Brown was very much pleased at its recovery.

Additional Contract.—In addition to the contracts heretofore secured by Messrs. Otto Duker & Co., to supply furniture to various new U. S. government buildings throughout the country, noticed in the Journal last week, the same firm have also been awarded the contract to furnish the public buildings at Kort Smith, Arkansas, to the amount of $3,148. Bishop Paret at St. John's.—The Right Rev. Bishop Paret will visit St. John's Church, Kingsville, on Sunday, July 28th. Service begins at 10.30 A. M. The public cordially invited. Loyal Legion.—The Loyal Legion will meet in the Towson M. E. Church on Sunday afternoon, 23th inst., at 2% o'clock. Public cordially invited.

highly respected citizens of Baltimore, died at his residence, Carrollton Avenue, on the 19th inst. aged 58 years. Many years since he was a member of the City Council, and for twelve years he was the Register (Treasurer) of the city, and filled the position with the highest integrity to the city and tion with the highest integrity to the city and honor to himself. He was a man of good judgment and his advice was frequently sought.

Mr. Thompson was a prominent Odd Fellow, having connected himself with the Order in 1881. He was a Past Grand Master and took an active part in the actual work of Columbia Lodge, No. 3, and Jerusalem Encampment, No. 1, until about the last six months when the infirmities of increasing age admonished him that his physical powers were no longer equal to the occasion. Even then he sur-rendered with reluctance. For over half a century his familiar form was semi-weekly seen in the present Hall. From a bright, vigorous, cheerful young man he developed to the grey, tottering old man, in the service of the Order, and he never lost sight of nor abated a jot of his high appreciation and love for the henion principles which form the founds. for the benign principles which form the founda-tion upon which the superstructure of Odd Fellow-ship is erected. From the crude form in which the Order had been established he assisted Mathiot and Marley and Ridgely, and a nost of other bright men to polish it and make it what it is to-day-one of the most useful and prominent institutions of the age, and destined to still greater deeds of love and mercy. It was a work of severe labor to shear the Order of the excresences which usually at ach to organizations of the kind, but Mr. Thompson to organizations of the kind, but Mr. Thompson was a man of judgment and resolution, bravely pursued the right course, and had the satisfaction to see the Order grow from a mere handful of men to over 500,000 members at present, dispensing its benefits and charities to the amount of millions of dollars annually. His brethren in the Grand Lodge remember with pleasure his familiar figure in their

Wheeler, Sr., at Towson, the sessions for over forty years as he sat in front of the presiding officer and took active part in the business. He was a connecting link with the past, probably the last link which bound himself with Wildey, the founder, and especially the coterie of old men who devoted so many years of their lives to large the large the foundation of an Or dence suffering from typhoid fever. He was slightly improved on Thursday morning. Mr. Thompson's funeral took place from the Odd Fellow's Hall, Gay street, on Sunday 21st. The body had been taken to the Hall that his brethren might take a last look at his features. Of members of the Grand Lodge there were present Jas. B. Guy-ton. Grand Master; George Plaggemyer, Deputy Grand Master; Augustus Bouldin, Grand Warden: John M. Jones, Grand Secretary; Alex. L. Spear, Grand Treasurer, with a large number of Past Grand Masters and brethren of the Lodges and Encampments. There were no services at the Hall. The body was conveyed to Loudon Park Cemetery. son M. E. Church, who went to Europe on the 26th ult. states that he is enjoying himself splendidly and is improving in health. He left Liverpool for home on Thursday, 25th inst., and the vessel is due where it was interred in the family lot, the Odd Fellows and Red Men reading the services of their respective Orders. The following were pall-bearers: From Grand Lodge-Past Grand Masters Wm. P. Bookmiller and John F. Plummer, Jr.; from Columbia Lodge, John W. Deshon and Matthew White; from Jerusalem Encampment, Wm. G. Mc-

Clure and Wm. Craft: from Ottawa Tribe of Red Men, Wm. Davis and James Jones. Hannah E. Linzey. Mrs. Hannah E. Linzey, wife of Mr. James H. Linzey, of Towson, who had suffered terribly for two or three months past from Bright's disease and who died on Thursday of last week, was buried on Sunday 21st. Her remains were conveyed to St. Francis Church, where the pastor, Rev. M. O'Keefe, said Solemn High Mass, and afterwards to St. Mary's Cemetery, Govanstown, and interred in the family lot, Rev. D. E. Lyman, performing the last offices at the grave. The following were pallbearers—N. Charles Burke, John McGrain, Samuel J. Robinson, C. Bohn Slingluft, Wm. H. Emory, W. Her fuperal took place on Wednesday 24th, Rev. M. O'Keefe officiating at the house and at St. Mary's Cemetery, the following being pall-bearers: Joseph Padian, Howard Emory, Chas. Ewing, Harry Davis The entire community extend its sympathy to Mr. Linzey in his great loss. He is still greatly debilitated from loss of sleep and constantly watching at the bedside of his wife and daughter. Andrew F. Crutchfield. Andrew F. Crutchfield, one of the proprietors and ditors of the Baltimorean, died at his residence in Baltimore on the 24th inst. aged 65 years. He had been in ill health for two or three years past. He was an honorable gentleman in all the relations in life, and never wilfully wronged his fellowman in auything. He had a high appreciation of the amenities of journalistic life and fully carried it out in the columns of the Baltimorean, which he established and conducted with dignity and ability. The tone of the paper was always up to the highest moral standard and was an honor to journalism in the State. His fellow journalists throughout the State look with pride upon his work, and will warmly revere his memory. William Canby. William Canby, a member of the Society Friends, tor many years past a citizen of Mt. Washngton, Baltimore county, died at his residence aged 67 years. He was for many years a member of the well-known drug firm of Canby, Gilpin & Co., Baltimore, but had retired from business a few years since. He was an honorable business man and a most excellent citizen. Mr. Canby leaves one son, Wm. Canby, and three daughters, Mrs. Robert Marye, Mrs. E. A. Robinson and Miss Laura Canby.

Samuel Hazelhurst. Samuel Hazelhurst, an old retired merchant of Baltimore, for years engaged in the milling and distillery business, died on the 21st inst. aged 75 William H. Oler. Wm. H. Oler, for many years engaged in the ice business, died on the 20th inst. at his residence, 2007 Madison Avenue.

Monkton Items .- Mr. E. A. Young, the well known butcher of this place, is the possessor of a team of mules that are large, slick and innocent looking, and like the majority of mules, are very fond of hard work, but some of them will resent an insult quicker than wink if offered in malice. A few days ago Mr. Young on leaving his farm bethought himself of a pair of large chains which he ought to bring home with him, and as they were rather unhandy to carry, he wrapped them around the mules neck. The "critter" said nothing to this indignity but looked on very quietly and smiled a knowing smile. No sooner had Mr. Y. mounted on the back f the quadruped than the show commenced, and for fully a square Mr. Young found himself in very imaginary position, sometimes on the mule's lead, sometimes in the air, and then again on the after part; the animal in the meantime performed all the latest steps of can-cans and other approved dances known only to mules. As soon as Mr. Y. found a soft spot he dropped, and then the mule stood still, looked his master square in the eyes prove the best possible advertisement that can be framed of our advantages of soil, climate and and with earserect as much as to say: "I told you so," resumed his peacable avocation as though nothing unusual had happened. The equestrian experience has not been very wholesome. Mr. Y complains of being rather sore and a good deal out of joint and temper.

Mr. and Mrs. Doctor J. W. C. Cuddy, of Baltimore, have arrived on a brief visit to their parents, the venerable John P. Cuddy. The Dr. however, had to return immediately, as he has a great many patients on hand at this time who claim his attention.

Mr. Joshua McCauley has commenced the building of a commodious dwelling near here. The house will be of brick, and when done will add much to the place. Rossville Items.—Oats and hay harvest are about completed in our district. Notwithstanding the unfavorable season for curing hay and gathering oats, we are disposed to believe there is a heavy Mr. Fleetwood Kautz and family, of the city, paid a short visit recently to his father, Mr. Andrew Kautz, of this section. Mr. Kautz is engaged in the manufacture of fruit and oyster cans.

The many friends of Mr. Lawrence Hedeman. son of Mr. Henry Hedeman, of Baltimore, are sad to learn that he has his arm broken. Mr. Hedeman was endeavoring to back a horse attached to a cart. when the animal caught his arm in his mouth and held it until it was broken in two places. We trust Mr. H. may soon recover.

Our Road Supervisors are busily engaged repair ng wash-outs and bridges. Travel on the Bel Air Road has been partly suspended, owing to the destroyed hridges, we are informed.

We intended to say earlier in this writing that the numerous friends of Mr. Nicholas W. Smith, of Putty Hill, are glad to learn he is convalescing rapidly.—

Mr. Smith has stirling business qualities. The whistle of the steam-thresher is now heard throughout our land, and we welcome it. On! how could we accomplish the task on hand without modern machinery? "Knowledge is power."

The people in the neighborhood of Fullerton are highly elated since it has become a fact that they are to have a schoolhouse erected. No other place in the district needed a school building worse. Now the school at Rechabite Hall, No. 10, ought to soon come in for its claim. We believe Baltimore couny's intelligent School Board will aid at this point as soon as possible. School houses are the nation's safeguard.

We shall soon have cool nights. Some one has said, "After the wind hlows over the cats stubple we may anticipate cool and pleasant nights." Those residing in malarial districts had better hunt un their prayonal respirators. Never mind shout that, their prayonal respirators are able to cons with the our intolligent physicians are able to cope with the most obstinate ills that hefall mankind. Soon the farmer will think about brightning up the mould-board of his plough preparatory to plowing for wheat. The writer has heard some agriculturists remark that they would rather plow than be idle when they have a good team. We would like to add, let the circumstances be good all around Peclared a Lunatio.—Sheriff Joshus Tracey on the 24th inst. summoned a jury de lunatico inquirendo on the petition of Peter Deckman to inquire into the condition of Anthony Hanley. The jury was as follows: Chas. H. Mann, foreman; Wm. P. Cole, T. Z. Linzey, Wm. C. Payue, Henry Dienstbach, John H. Scharf, Wm. H. Emory, Neison Cooper, Geo. W. Hook, Geo. F. Wheeler, Jr., Chas. E.
