Ford's Grand Opera House. - December 2nd. - Return of "Captain Swift." - The return of "Captain Swift" to Ford's Grand Opera House, for the week of December 2d, is an event of than ordinary interest. The romantic story of that daring and handsome young man, as interpreted by Arthur Forrest, Rose Etynge and an excellent com pany of artists, drew crowded houses during its presentation in this city early in the season, and it s by special request of numerous admirers of true art that the return engagement was affected. "Captain Swift" is a fit companion to the great play "Jim the Penman." Matine s—Wednesday and Saturday. December 9th-E. H. Sothern-"Lord Chumley and Highest Bidder." December 16th-"Jefferson and Florence. December Term of Court .- December Term of Court will commence on Mor day, 2d. Thanksgiving in Towson.-Thanksgiving day was duly and agreeably spent in Towson, all enjoy ing the day as suited them best. We have no cas ualties of any kind to report, and no drunkenness or bad behavior to chronicle. In the afternoon there was a meeting held in the Towson M. E. Church for the ladies of the town and quite a numwas present and a very pleasant time spent. In the evening Rev. Page Milburn preached an appropri-ate sermon, in which he referred to the prosperity of our State and nation, and also spoke of his church and congregation, how they had been delivered from all their troubles during the past year and how they had prospered since all the financial difficulties had been wiped out. He closed his remarks by giving an invitation to seekers and sever il presented themselves at the altar. A collection was lifted in aid of Superanuated ministers and also for their widows and orphans.

Skin Disease Among Cattle.-For severa weeks past some of the correspondents of the Jou're NAL have reported skin diseases among hogs, appearing first behind the cars. A skin disease has been reported to be prevalent among cattle in Pennsylvania, Maryland and Delaware. Possibly it may be of the nature of the disease reported among hogs. Dr. W. H. Wray, Veterinary Surgeon for Maryland, gives the Baltimore Sun the following prescription: "Give from one to two quarts of lin seed oil; procure one-half pound of the sulphate of iron, one-half pound chlorate of potash and one und of powdered sulphur: a tablespoonful in onehalf pint of warm water, twice a day.

Accidentally Shot and Killed .- On Thanksiving Day, Thursday, 28th inst., Martin Moeler, ged 11 years, son of Mr. Walter Mosler, of Mt. Winans, in the 13th District, with three other boysohn Creamer, Lewis Hann and Geo. Wright-went out gunning, and while handling the guns one o hem was accidentally discharged in the hands o John Creamer. The charge struck young Moeler in the head and tore away part of the skull, exposing the brain. The youth was taken by his companions to the office of Dr. T. B. Hall, and was afterwards removed to his home, where he died about 8 o'clock. The boys were taken before Justice Z. I. Gregg, where they all gave the same evidence and they

Prof. Wm. F. Massey.-The many friends of Wm. F. Massey in Baltimore county, will be pleased to learn that he is pleasantly located at Raleigh. North Carolina, where he is Professor of Horticulture and Botany in the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts. Prof. Massey' bilities are of a high order. His entire life has been devoted to agriculture, botany, and kindred subjects. In Mr. Massey the North Carolinian have a talented gentleman, capable of giving instruction because he is practical and knows whereo

An Evangelistic Detective .- Detective Todd Hall, of the Police Department of is a regular participant in the evangelistic work of the Central Union Mission of Washington city on Sundays. The Mission has a large wagon in which speakers, a choir and an organ, go from place to place in the city. The wagon serves as a pulpit, as well as a place for the choir. The detective is a good speaker. The Protestant churches in Wash-Ington pay the expenses of the mission wagon.

Had'Em a Long Time.—Our neighbor the Baltimore Sun in its issue of Monday, 25th inst., notices the fact that one of its "Old Subscribers" suggests the propriety of sleeping cars being placed on the York Road Railway. "Old Subscriber" is away be-hind the times. We've had Pullman sleepers on the York Road Railway for many years past. If he don't believe it let him get into the 11.30 car every night and he can enjoy a snooze without let or hindrance.

Conductors Brown or Warfield never rouse their passengers but once during the night. Jurors Excused.—The following jurors who were drawn for the December Term of Court have been excused and others drawn in their stead: Excused—George Fisher, 1st District; Thomas C. Worthington, 2d; William J. Nicoll, Israel J. Owens, 3d; Henry Bush. Benjamin G. Todd, 12th; Chas. Gallagher, 13th. Drawn-John Bone, 1st; Geo. E. Lynch, 2d; Dr. J. A. Wright, C. A Fire at Fairview.—On Monday night, 25th inst., the store of Messrs. Parker & Jordan, situated anst., the store of Messrs. Farker & Jordan, situated at Fairview, in the 4th District, together with two dwellings belonging to Mr. Samuel Light and Mr. L. Myers, were destroyed by five. The stock of goods in the store and most of the furniture fn the two dwellings was destroyed. The cause of the fire is unknown, but is thought to have been caused by accident

A Flour Thief.—A man named Martin Willinger has been arrested in Baltimore upon the charge of stealing from George P. William & Son, forty barrels of flour. Willinger was employed by the firm as porter. A number of persons who bought flour from Willinger testified before the magistrate. The flour was worth $180.

Poor "Bun."—Mr. Henry W. B. Ashe, of the 5th District, has amply supplied the larder of the editor of the Journal in the shape of defunct "cotton-tails." They were real fat, and, under skilful culinary treatment, proved palatable, and prevented the shadow of the editor growing less.

Leg Broken.-On Monday last, 25th inst., as

Annie Taylor, colored, of Towson, was about to get in a wagon on a return from a funeral, the mule started suddenly and she was thrown from a chair on the ground and had her left leg broken just be-low the tines. Drs. Jas. H. and H. S. Jarrett reduced the fracture. Annie is a hard working woman, and this accident is a severe affliction to her

It Will Be An Enjoyable Time.—Those inimitable deliniators Joe Jefferson and W. J. Florence, will be at Ford's Opera House, for the week commencing December 16th. Everybody will be glad to greet oid "Rip," as well as the genial To Be Cremated.-The remains of William

Schnauffer, editor and publisher of the Baltimore Wecker, who died last week from heart disease, wil be cremated two months hence. Mr. Schnauffer was a genial and highly-respected citizen. Post Office Discentinued.—The Post Office a Harleigh, at Woodbrook Station, Maryland Central Railroad, has been discontinued. Mail matter for Harleigh will hereafter be sent to Homeland. New Postmaster.-Harah T. Gray has been appointed Perimistress at Arlington, Baltimore to Towson last week.

The Late Wm. Fils Hugh Wharton.—Tribus of the Bench and Bar.—During the session of the Circuit Court on Monday last, 25th inst., Judges Fowler and Burke presiding, Col. D. G. McIntosh rising from his seat said:

"If the Court please, during one of the recesses of the Court one of the members of this Bar, whom we all honored and esteemed, departed this life after a long illness. I refer to the late Wm. Fits Hugh Wharton, and I rise to call the action of the Rough and Bar to his members and mould respect to the late was recommended.

minutes and that a copy of the same be forwarded on Tuesday, 26th inst., by the Rev. J. W. Shoaf. the family of the deceased. Mr. John Grasou, in seconding the resolutions, "Nothing I could say would add to what has been so well said by Coi. McIntosh. The deceased, in his private life, was endeared to all who knew him by his manly, straight forward conduct and his unfalling rectitude of purpose. He was plain, honest and honorable to the highest degree, and in that respect he was without peer in the community; and not even a breath of snapicion can attach to his memory of any act unworthy a gentleman in all relations in life. As a member of this Bar he was at all times fair and honorable in all his dealings with his associates, and his word was his bond, and we shall ever cherish a kindly regard for his mem-Mr. R. R. Boarman also said "he could not le the occasion pass without paying a tribute to the memory of the deceased. I only knew him to usteem him and honor him for his moral worth and manly conduct. He had a fine mind and was a man of many fine parts, and his death was generally deplored."

Mr. F. I. Duncan also added his mead of praise He said he was a man without guile and his friendship was strong and lasting.
Mr. Wm. S. Keech said he desired to say but few words in respect to the memory of his de-ceased friend: "I first met him in 1866 when he was an honorable, high-toned gentleman, and was above the petty weaknesses of human nature. He suffered a long and severe sickness which he bore with a manly fortitude. As a soldier in the Confederate Army his comrades all testify to his bravery and attention to duty. As a Christian he was above reproach, and he conducted himself in an upright manner. Some time before his death he united himself to that bond of faith in which he professed a belief, and I have every faith that he is now enjoying that peace which the world cannot Mr. Wm. Grason said: "I heartily endorse the resolutions offered to the memory of the deceased and give my hearty response to the eulogies offered to his memory. It would suffice to say at this time that he was a high-toned, honorable gentleman in the broadest sense of the term, and I desire to say

n all due respect to his memory that our deceased

brother paid less attention to money getting than he did to upholding the high moral tone of the profession which he loved so well and regulated every action with that high moral rectitude and clear honesty of purpose for which he was so pre-eminently noted." Mr. A. A. Piper also paid a tribute to the deceased for the kind and friendly feeling he evinced for the young members of the Bar, and the kind and courteous consideration they ever met at his hand on all occasions and at all times. Judge Fowler, in accepting the resolutions, said We all take a melancholy interest in the proceedings of this meeting of the Bar held in memory of our friend and brother, William Fitz Hugh Wharon. He will ever be remembered by this Court and the members of this Bar with the most affectionate regard. As an attorney he was an illustrious example of faithfulness and integrity-always per forming his duty to his citents, but never forgetting his duty to the Court. He was an honor to his pro fession, and we may truly say that in his death we have lost an honest lawyer and a good man.' I was my good fortune to have enjoyed the friendship of our deceased brother for many years, and it is a consolation to me to remember that nothing ever happened to mar the pleasure of our intercourse. cannot now find words to express my affection for him as a friend, and my admiration for his strong. manly character. The Court cordially concur in all that has been said in honor and praise of Mr. Wharton as a lawyer and a man, and will order the resoof the affection and esteem of both the Bench and OBITUARY. George R. Stone. George R. Stone, an old resident of Relaterstown keeper of a livery stable for many years, died on the 21st inst. at his residence from cancer.

John B. Emery, for 64 years a citizen of Baltimore, died at his residence, 708 North Carrollton avenue, aged 33 years. He was born at Pembroke, New Hampshire, in 1806. He came to Baltimore when 18 years old. He was a stone cutter by trade, and some years since was in business with the late Cyrus Gault. For several years past he had conducted the business himself. Many of the most prominent buildings in the city where stone was used bears evidence of his handlwork, including which are the Peabody Institute, the House o Refuge, the State Normal School, Lafayette Square Presbyterian Church, Spring Grove Asylum, the Baltimore and Ohio Central Building. He also furnished the stone trimmings for the Masonic Hall, Towson. In his younger days Mr. Emery was frequently elected to the City Council as a Democrat. He was also a director in various banking and other financial institutions. He was a Past Master of Warren Lodge, 51, A. F. & A. M., and a Past Grand of Jefferson Lodge, 9, I. O. O. F. In 1845 he was elected Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Maryland, I. O. O. F.: was a regular attendant upon the sessions of that body when ill health did not interfere. He was also a regular attendant for many years in his subordinate lodges of both the Masons and the Odd Fellows; delighted to dispense charities to the needy and sick in his own way outside the rules governing the bodies of which he was a member. He was pure in thought, and, consequently, upright in action, courteous and kind to all with whom he came into contact, and was possessed of the best traits of human character. Mr. Emery was a member of Lafayette square Presbyterian Church. His second wife and two sons and two daughters survive him. His funeral took place on Wednesday, 27th inst. from his residence, 708 North Carrollton avenue. Rev. Samuel McLanahan, of Lafayette Square Presbyterian Church, officiated at the house while at the grave in Loudon Park Cemetery, services were conducted by members of Warren Lodge 51 A. F. & A. M. The lodge furnished the pall bearers: Messrs, J. B. Oldershaw, Charles Helser, H. C. Larabec, Hugh B. Jones, James L. Gibbons and Samuel J. Diggs. Denny and Mitchell had charge of the Stephens was confined in ville, on the 19th, and was buried at Slate Ridge on jail and was taken sick, and a lung trouble developed which became acute, and an application had been made to the Governor for his pardon on the not expected to live. She has been sick for some been made to the Governor for this parton of this certificate of the physician to the jail that he was months.

Messrs. Henry Merryman, William Barton and Messrs. Henry Merryman, William Barton and the 21st not likely to recover. From statements made it appears that the deceased had at one time kept a sort of a medical office in Baltimore for the treatment of certain diseases, and gotten into difficulties through some shady transactions. At the inquest on the death of Pauline Bouchat, Marshal Frey testified that Grant had served a term in the Maryland Penitentiary for fraudulent practice in procuring pensions in Baltimore, a case which caused a great deal of talk at the time. At the trial he was identified by Caleb L. Packard, Chief of Police of Hartford, Conn., as having served a term of eighteen months in the Connecticut Penitentiary. In appearance Stevens was of medium size, with a long gray beard. He was of a quiet disposition and pleasant Mr. John Burns, undertaker, Towson, preserved the body in ice for four days in hopes that friends, if he had any, would claim it and take it away.— But no one made application for it. On Friday morning, 29th, the body was buried at Govane Cemetery, Govanstown, the Rev. J. L. Elderdice. Chap-

To These Who Pay for Advertising .- Often small in calibre, small in stock and small in everything, thinks he will gull the public by a sensa-tional advertisement. On this small scale of ideas tional advertisement. On this small scale of ideas he hunts around for the cheap papers, gets the most for his money, according to his idea, fails to make connection with the purchasing public and then says that advertising does not pay. We say frankly to the merchant of repute and good standing that—Advertising fictitious bargains is a failure.

A small business and large expenses is a failure. Poor clothing and big advertising is a failure. Night trade is a failure.

Two prices is a failure. Two prices is a failure.

A low price in the window and a high price in the store is a failure. Old styles and condemned fabrics (no matter how cheap) are a failure. Shoddy clothing advertised and sold as wool is a Cheap and inattentive salesmen (hired on commission) are a failure. Bargains in the newspaper and apologies in the store are a failure. Large profits and small sales is a failure. Running down your competitors is a failure, be ides being mean. Advertising goods "at less than cost" all the year round is a failure and a lie in the bargain.

Mr. Charles H. Bosley, the popular Agent at this station, has tendered his resignation to the railroad company. He will shortly leave for the Norfolk and Western Railroad where he will occupy a similar position. Mr. John Baublitz, of Woodberry, will fill the vacancy created by the resignation Mr. Bosley.

The protracted meeting which was announced to commence at the Monkton M. E. Church on last Sunday night had to be postponed for two weeks on account of the sudden illness of the Rev. F. H. avenner, which disarranged the program. The Rev. S. M. Alford, who intended starting the re-vival, had to take charge of Mr. Havenner's work. Mr. H. has not much improved at this writing.

We are glad to hear that the new text-book, entitled "Methods of Teaching Composition," written by our old friend Prof. John G. Donaldson and dedicated to Supt. M. A. Adultery descrition, drunkenness and neglect to provide offer no possibility of misinterpretation. But crueley, or extreme cruelty, or cruel and inhuman treatment, when alleged offer a wide field for the exercise of judicial discretion.

The undersigned, as assignee of a mortgage from George M. Manger and wife to The German Bank of Baltimore City, dated March 18th, 1886, and recorded in Baltimore City in Liber J. cruelty, taken at random: THE WIVES AS PLAINTIFFS. 1. The defendant (husband) does not come home until ten o'clock at night, and when he does return he keeps plaintiff (wife) awake talking. Defendant also keeps a saloon, which sorely presses mind of plaintiff. The husband replying, says, "Plaintiff should not be ashamed of him, because temporarily in the liquor business; that he may do better some day. But the divorce is awarded to wife on the ground and parallel with said Mill Race and distant three of "mental" cruelty. 2. Not liking straws in her nose and ears, gouged his knuckles in her eyes, and said he "wanted to see if she was Dutch." On untying her he threw or shoved her into a nest of bees. All of which sorely grieved the plaintiff in body and mind. 13. Defendant got drunk day after marriage,

38. Defendant quotes verse from New Tesament about wives obeyieg their husbands.-He has even threatened to mash the plaintiff, and drew back his hand to do it. In the decree granting this divorce appears the following: I find that when plaintiff was sick and unable to work defendant told her the Lord commanded her to work; that he was also in the habit of frequently quoting Scriptual passages, in order o show her she was to be obedient to her husband.

39. For the last three years defendant has been kicking plaintiff out of bed, compelling her to seek rest on the floor. 40. Defendant fancies himself a spiritualistic medium, and declares he cannot develop fast enough while living with plaintiff: which declaration causes plaintiff great mental an-44. She married a man seemingly at the point of death; but the man recovered, and vife brought suit for cruelty and fraud.

WHEN HUSBANDS ARE PLAINTIFFS. The following instances show the interpre tation of courts as to cruelty where this has seen alleged by the husband, as coming from the wife. Such cases, of course, are not nearly so numerous as those granted wives making the same charge against the husbands. Statistics show that there were 45,731 decrees issued to wives as against the husband for cruely, while only 6,122 were issued to the husband or cruel and inhuman treatment by the wife: was bruised and sore. She has also smashed the household wares. 6. Defendant pulled plaintiff out of bed by his whiskers.

12. Defendant took all the covering off the bed, leaving plaintiff to shiver until morning. On one occasion she jumped on him with her knees and ran a knitting needle four inches in 21. Husband says: "My wife would not walk with me Sundays. Once in a tantrum she heaved a teapot at me. She hit me on the side of the jaw because I refused to be worked up into a passion; once she pulled out quite a quantity of my hair." Among the papers was a tuft of hair marked Exhibit A.

24. The morning after their marriage the defendant came into the room where the plaintiff was lying in bed, and beat him with her shoe heel badly blacking both his eyes. BY THEODORN A. ROSS, SECRETARY TO SOVEREIGN GRAND LODGE. This work is the most succinct and correct history and chromological record ever prepared by any historian of the Order. Mr. Ross, from his constant association with the internal workings of the Order for many years past, and his prominence in official station, makes him the best qualified person to prepare such a history as he presents.

The work, besides, is a complete Manual to the interested Odd Fellow. It corrects many facts as to the origin and wonderful progress of the Order.

No intelligent Odd Fellow should be without the work. Copies supplied upon application to WM. H. BUBY, Journal Office, Towns.
