Saturday, January 18, 1890. TARIFF REFORM CLUB FORMED AT

On Tuesday night, 14th inst., pursuant to call, there was a meeting of persons interested in the subject of tariff reform held at the Court House, Towson, and a strong Club was organized. Mr. James E. Green called the meeting to order, and on motion Mr. Washington Stevenson was elected President, and Mr. S. C. Tomay, Secretary.

Prof. Green in calling the meeting to order explained the object of the gathering to be for the purpose of forming an organization for the | 000. discussion of tariff reform and furthering the views of the great principles as enunciated by amount of $45,000. Grover Cleveland.

Mr. Stevenson on taking the chair said be was only a plain farmer and had come out to hear this matter discussed in which the whole community is so much interested, and he thanked the gentlemen present for the honor they had conferred on him. Dr. T. K. Worthington, of Maryland Tariff Reform Club of Baltimore, then addressed the assemblage and explained the object of the Club and the necessity for the dissemination of articles pertaining to tariff reform. Mr. Roger W. Cull followed with a spirited points in explanation of the injury worked to the whole country and the dire stress laid upon the great majority of the people by this falsely called high protection theory. He was followed by Mr. C. M. Howard, who made a short address on the necessity of a thorough study of the question in all its bear ings, and the spreading of information upon the subject among the masses. Mr. Chas. E. Fendall was called on and made a short address. He said he took a great deal of interest in the subject and had listened with pleasure to the gentlemen who had spoken, and he hoped that the people would take as much interest in tariff reform as they North Avenue. The company asks no money do in the road question. The question is an economic one and touches every man alike. It we can get rid of this burden of the tariff tax | bonds; merely the privilege of a right of way in the farmers will then have more means and | which not less than $7,000,000 will be finally can then spend more money on the roads in the county. The Republicans have fastened this "grippe" of high tariff on the people which is as surely strangling the nation as the Russian "grippe" with which the people are physically affected, and to Grover Cleveland is the whole country indebted for a clear and sound exposition of the fallacy of this socalled protection, and with him in 1892 we will sweep this dread incubus from off the country. [Loud applause.] The thanks of the Club were tendered by a rising vote to the gentlemen of the Maryland their interest in the matter. The gentlemen present from Baltimore were Mr. Roger W. Cull, Dr. T. K. Worthington, Messrs, C. M. Howard, R. S. Lee, T. R. Duvall and C. Baker Clotworthy. The gentlemen who became members of the Club are as follows: James E. Green, Col. D. G. McIntosh, Wm. H. Ruby, Wm. M. Isanc, Judges Andrew Dorsey and B. H. Gorsuch, B. P. Butler, Chas. E. Fendall, John W. Shanklin, L. M. Bacon, Wm. P. Cole, Chas. J. Beckley, John Beckley, Geo. C. Tracey, Geo. L. Stockshis administration may result in the highest dale, W. B. Warner, Jos. B. SENATOR WILSON.

In obedience to a law of Congress the Senate and House of Delegates of Maryland voted separately at 12 M. on Tuesday 14th inst. for United States Senator for another term for the seat now held by Sanator Wilson, whose term will expire March 3d 1891. The Democratic cancus having unanimously selected Hon. E. K. Wilson as the candidate, the 16 Democratic Senators voted for him, and the 6 Republican Senators voted for Mr. Thos. S. Hodson. Senators Adams and Somerville, Democrats, and Randall and Wilkinson, Republicans, were absent. In the House 50 Democrats voted for Senator Wilson and 28 Republicans voted for Mr. Hodson. On Wednesday the Senators repaired to the Hall of the House where the result of the vote was declared and the election certified to the Governor, who in due time will issue his certificate to Senator Wilson.

It is scarcely necessary to say the re-election of Senator Wilson is unanimously commended throughout Baltimore county, as well as throughout the State. In accordance with Democratic precedent the honor of an endorsement was due Senator Wilson, and in addition his eminent abilities as a statesman are fully recognized by the people of Maryland. Judge Wilson's views upon the important subject of the tariff are those of the Democracy of Maryland; and his views of all questions involving the prosperty of Maryland as well as that of the entire country, finds in him a faithful advocate and defender. Maryland can well feel proud of the distinguished statesmen who represent her in the Senate of the United States. ____

CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO CANAL. Majority holders of the 1878 repair bonds of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company say they will apply to the courts for the appointment of a receiver, and that they expect their application to be successful. This action will be taken without reference to the pending application for a receiver made by the 1844 bondholders. It is well known that the Baltimore and Obio Railroad interest controls the majority of these 1878 repair bonds, which are a mortgage on the corpus of the canal. The | is a very valuable publication, containing inforpurpose is, if the application for a receiver | mation not found in any annual of the kind as obtains, to repair the canal and maintain it as | yet received. a waterway. This policy has been determined upon by the interest, and is not treated as in any sense a secret by its promoters. Canal bills will also be introduced in the Legislature. In its present condition the canal is a disgrace to the State.

KIND WORDS.

Senator Lindsay, of Baltimore county must be a hustler, judging from the number of standing committees on which he has been placed in the Senate, being no less than nine, and Chairman of two of them. The committees to which he has been assigned by President Bratton are as follows: Corporations, Inspections, Executive Nominations, Engrossed Bills, Library (Chairman,) Contingent Expenses of the Senate, (Chairman) Article 49 of the Constitution, Amendments to the Constitution and Temperance. The Senator is young and quite active, but if he attends to his duties properly he will not have much leisure time for recreation and pleasure during the session. [Anne Arundel Advertiser 16th.

YOU WAIT.

The Baltimore Sun's Washington correspondent states that Secretary Windom says there will not be any further removals of Federal officers in Baltimore until their terms expire.-In view of what has recently taken place as to the Baltimore Postmastership, you wait until the several delegations recover their breath.-Secretary Windom might prevent the removal of Collector Groom, as he served with him in the Senate. The Senators stick to each other like wax. Politics don't operate as a bar to "Senatorial courtesy."

A terrible cyclone swept over a large portion of Wisconsin, Kentucky and Kansas on Sunday, 12th inst., doing immense damage.-Considerable damage was also done in portions of northern New York by the force of the wind. At Clinton, Kentucky, 11 persons were killed, and over fifty wounded. NORTHERN CENTRAL ELEVATOR

Monday evening, 13th inst., fire was discovered in the large grain elevator of the Northern Central Railway at Canton, and the immense structure was destroyed, with about 500,000 bushels of wheat and corn, involving a total loss of over a million dollars, with an insurance of $175,000 on the elevator building. A large iron steamsphip, the Sacrobosco, lying at the wharf to be leaded with grain, was also burned, and two hands, White and Jansen, lost their lives. Their bodies were found beteween decks. The elevator was under lease to the Baltimore Elevator Company. All the wood work of the Sacrobosco, down to the water's edge, was burnt, and the vessel was hauled off and beached at Point Breeze. The fire was a severe blow to the present large business of grain shipment at Baltimore, but, as there is a smaller elevator, it is now made to do double duty, the hands on the burnt elevator assisting, so that work now goes on day and night. The Elevator Company will rebuild, as soon as possible, a much larger and improved building. The grain shipping firms are all insured upon their contents, to an aggregate amount of $275,-

The pier and trestle was also insured to the For two of three hours the fire was plainly visible at Towson, the immense light being reflected. It is stated that the burning coru made a tremendously hot fire. The Baltimore County Chemical Fire Engine at Highlandtown materially assisted in saving con tiguous property near the burning mass. BELT RAILROAD LINE.

If not loaded down with impossible conditions by the City Council of Baltimore, the Belt Railroad Line project will be of as much importance as any railroad project which has and stirring address, and gave many lucid ever been inaugurated for the city of Baltimore. The City Council has it within its power to kill the goose which is capable of laying a large golden egg. It is not hoped, however, that such will be the case. No project of so important a character could well enter and pass through the heart of a large city like Baltimore without more of less appropriating some of the streets. But those streets where it proposes to cross before it enters the mouth of its tunnel are not of vital importance. As well might this be said also of its exit near from the city treasury; no endorsement of spent in construction and equipment. Are not these tremendous considerations and such as cannot well be disregarded? We have no in-

> POSTMASTER JOHNSON CONFIRMED. Mr. W. W. Jehnson on Monday 13th, appointed by President Harrison Postmaster of Baltimore city, was, on Phursday, confirmed by the Senate without any opposition whatever. Mr. Johnson is President of the Young Men's Republican Club of Baltimore City, and is one of the most prominent Republicans in the State. He is a gentleman of the highest integrity of character, a first-class business man, and will no doubt make Baltimore an efficient Postmaster. Though opposed to him politically, we sincerely congratulate him upon the high distinction he has attained and trust

SPEAKER HUBNER. Of the ninety-one members of the Maryland House of Delegates, there is not one who could have been chosen to preside over that body who would have more creditably filled the place than will Speaker John Hubner .-Speaker Hubner represents Baltimore county in the lower branch of the Legislature, and he is now serving his third term. He is a native of Germany, and is 50 years of age. Mr. Hubner is a practical business man, being largely interested in real estate and building operations. In the last House he was Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, and was one of the busiest and most diligent members of the Legislature. His past experience will enable him to make up the committees and manage the workings of the House so as to subserve the best interests of the people.

[Correspondence of the Maryland Journal.] OUR ANNAPOLIS LETTER. ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 16th, 1890.

As yet the Legislature has not gotten into working trim. There is little attempt to do business until the various committees shall have had an opportunity to digest what is presented to them. Even at this time (16 days after the opening of the session) but little has been presented to either House as coming from the standing committees. About the beginning of next week the committees will have acted upon some of the business before them, and the usual hum will then show that the machine is in full operation. Your delegation is alert for the best interests of Baltimore county. As yet no bill of paramount importance is in the hands of either our Senator or of any of the delegates. The entire House, without regard to political feeling, speak in the highest terms of the romptness, ability and dignity with which peaker Hubner discharges the duties of the Chair. He seems familiar with parliamentary die, even so-emphatically-in Christ shall all law; but he relies less upon technical and arpitrary law than upon that common sense an ustice which all men love and which go far to assist in the regular dispatch of business. Your vigorous young Senator is in a world to himself, and has no one to share the important esponsibility which belongs to his exalted staion. This makes him more circumspect, and he necessarily becomes grave and thoughtful, when I think he would rather prefer to laugh upon the other side of his mouth. I predict a good record in both Houses. The Senators and members of the House patiently await the arrival of such road bill as has been ordered by the road meeting held at Towson, Wednesday, 15th. From what developed at this as well as the previous meeting the delegation feel satisfied there will be but little trouble in passing through both Houses such bill as may meet the just expectations of

There is much road talk among the members of both Houses. The people of Baltimore county need not suppose that they alone are excited upon the bad road question. The same cry comes up from every portion of the State -even from our flat Eastern Shore, where all that is necessary to be done is to scrape the sand into the middle of the road, and go of about ones business.

The resolution presented in both Houses to extend the term of Judge Stone, of the Court of Appeals, is exciting much comment. The meeting of citizens of the Eastern Shore, held nere on Wednesday, 15th, was a noted assemplage. The speeches made in opposition to the resolution were very emphatic, and it is thought by those best informed that the resolution will not be adopted, either in the Senate or in the House. By the leaves of absence of various members each day on account of sickness it shows that many of the members have taken "la grippe,"

(much more troublesome than either a Mason or an Odd Fellow's grip,) and the constant coughing each day made it evident that they were unfit for business. On Thursday 16th a joint resolution was adopted in favor of holding the World's Fair in 1892 at Washington, D. C. On Thursday at 1 o'clock each House lurnished every particle of business upon the desks of the presiding officers and adjourned for the day.

The people of Maryland are not generally aware of the critical condition of the canvas of Senator Wilson for the United States Senate the past week. There seems scarcely any doubt, that had Col. L. Victor Baughman chosen to have accepted the proffer of the Gubernatorial chair, he would have received the vote of every Democrat in the Legislature. But, as the proposed election of Gov. Jackson as Sentor was closely interwoven with that of Col. Baughman as Governor, the latter, with that rare good sense with which he is gifted, respectfully declined to create any trouble in his party and thus under the circumstances he declined the Gubernatorial crown. There is not one out of a thousand men who would have resisted the temptation.

"Etheral Mildness," &c-A Contrast-Whys and Wherefores-As to Cometary Consequences-A Meteoric Mystery-Census of Sheol-A Chance for a Hero-When Ignorance is Bliss-"World" versue "Age" _Plea for Purgatory.

BALTIMORE, January 17th, 1890. In the depths of our mid-winter it is not a ittle remarkable to find ourselves luxuriating in the balminess of a delightful spring. Yet such seem to be the peculiar times upon which we have alighted, in our flight through time and space. The grass is springing up everywhere; the buds on the trees are swelling; and numerous shrubs in our public squares are bursting out into bloom and leaf. Even the rose bushes, in some places, have their buds displayed to view. Winter clothing is intolerable, much of the time; house-fires are at a discount, except for culicary purposes, and we either sit with open windows, or stroll out into the "ethereal mildness" that has come upon us, this time without waiting to be invoked. It is estimated that fully ten thousand persons disported themselves in Druid Hill Park, on Sunday last, enjoying the delightfully unseasonable weather, and, perhaps, returning thanks to indulgent Nature for furnishing a bit of Florida climate to the crowds of her children who happen to be unable to visit the sunny South. And certainly the birds, and blossoms, and the warm sunshine which made the shade more pleasant, formed a great contrast to the frozen, wintry scenes that the park usually presents at this season.

What the weather means by conducting itself in this manner is a subject of much speculation among us. Some persons suspect that its design is, by a hypocritical mildness, to tempt unwary mortals out upon the damp streets and the sodden grass, and to induce them to be incautions as to clothing &c., only in order to secure them the more easily as the victims to fell diseases of some sort, or get a "grip" on them in some way. Possibly by means of the sudden and violent change with which our modern climate seeks to work its

But as to the cause of this strange state o affairs the all-wise scientists appear to be so much in the dark as ever. It seems that the authorities sent to investigate the Gulf Stream question, and found that the theory of the warm weather being produced by a change in the course of that miraculous current, was 16th, 1890, Thomas W. Renshaw, aged 66 years. rendered untenable by the fact that the stream had not changed its position. So a new theory has been devised which accounts for our experiences upon the supposition that "the earth has probably been for some time travel-

In which case, it would of course be proper to characterize the "grip" as a cometary disease, and this would sound like an endorsement of the old superstition concerning the malign influence of comets, when we have quite outgrown such ridiculous nonsense. And besides, if the earth were careering through this heated cometic atmosphere, why would Kansas, and Omaha, and Canada, be having such snow storms and blizzards as they are, at this season? And why do not the snows melt on all the earth's mountains, and all our icebergs dissolve in the midst of our seas? "No; the mystery of our climate is as mysterious as ever, and we shall have to wait awhile longer to have it explained. As will probably be necessary, also, in the case of the question concerning the population of "Sheol" which appeared in a recent number of the JOURNAL. In this article it was computed that the descendants of Adam have by this time amounted to a grand total of a hundred and seventy-seven billions. And upon the hypothesis that only true Christians can be saved, the conclusion was reached that all but two billions of these unfortunate human beings are now enduring the paugs of everlasting torment. To be sure, these figures speak volumnes for the popularity of that diabolical region, and would secure any one who goes there from the danger of being lonesome. Something might be made out of these considerations; but the marvelous part of this business is that so many good and benevolent Christian people accept such estimates of mankind and their Maker as could lead to conclusions like these. That a good and just Divine Being could create thousands of millions of creatures, and "from the foundation of the world, make a wretched and merciless provision for their hopeless and eternal torment," is an ideal so absurdly atrocious that even Satan himself may be supposed to laugh himself into convulsions at the thought of it. Well; but does not the Bible teach us that only those who believe in Christ can be saved? heard of Christ, the natural conclusion is that their souls are forever lost. Some tenderhearted people meet the case with the belief that the big majority of evildoers will be annihilated; though the utter destruction of nearly all the people that are created, would seem to be a great waste of labor, as well of the Creator with folly, in order to clear him of malignity. But the most part of Christian thinkers, per haps, take refuge iu the belief that God will not punish those who are ignorant of the right way, and never had any opportunity to believe the truth. So they exempt the half of our people who have never had any chances. Yet if this were true, it would be anything but kind in us to send missionaries to the heathen to give them a chance to go to perdition; and there would be something cruel in preaching the gospel to the ignorant among us, and so perchance, seeling their eternal doom. While on the other hand, it would really be a charitwithin range of our power, before it had arrived !

at the age of discretion. In fact, he would be a hero, and would deserve to be canonized as a saint, who would kill all the children, he could, and so secure their salvation, even at the expense of his own.

The doctrines which lead to and such preposterous results, however, must have fallacies in them somewhere; and it is a marvelous thing that people can be deluded in this unreasonsble manner. For it ought to be plain to the very lowest comprehension that if ignorance can save anybody, while a failure to believe the gospel condemns us to eternal perdition, it would have been better for us never to have any gospel, so that everybody might be saved. And that is just where this logic would land us. But the real reason why people reach such formidable figures in the taking the census of Sheel, is to be found in the terrible doctrine that death ends mankind's probation; that the dissolution of man's physical form fixes his fate and settles his soul's destiny for all eternity. Than which it would be difficult to frame a proposition more unjust and unreason-Besides being unscriptural: for the Scriptures plainly tell us that as in Adam all whatever the human race lost through Adam, it shall regain through Christ, and to the same extent, it is difficult to imagine what it can signify. One reason for our confusion of thought upon this subject may be traced to the usage our translators in giving us the word world," where the original Scriptures say "age." So that we read of the things which are necessary to be done in "this world," instead of in "this age." And the Bible nowhere says that the blessings of this age are not available to any persons unless they are received in the flesh. And considering the limited opportunities of almost all people, it would seem that some sort of a Purgatory, or its equiva-

Joppa Road Adjoining M. E. Parsonage, TOWSON, Md. ODD FELLOWSHIP. ITS HISTORY AND MANUAL, BY THEODORE A. ROSS. SECRETARY TO SOVEREIGN GRAND LODGE.

This work is the most succinct and correct history and chronological record ever prepared by any historian of the Order. Mr. Ross, from his constant association with the internal workings of the Order for many years past, and his prominence in official station, makes him the best qualified person to prepare such a history as he presents.

The work, besides, is a complete Manual to the interested Odd Fellow. It corrects many facts as to the origin and wonderful progress of the Order.

No intelligent Odd Fellow should be without the ork.
