AMUSEMENTS. Ford's Grand Opera House, (Easter Week) "Little Lord Fauntieroy"—Easter Week at Ford's Grand Opera House will be eventful for the production of that most delightful of plays, "Little Lord Fauntieroy," which has probably been more successful than any play of recent times. It is a charming story and has been eleverly dramatized, making a play of extraordinary attractiveness to all lovers of the natural. It will be given with all the New York advantages of cast and surroundings, and will, without doubt, be greatly successful in Baltimore, where the 'Little Lord' is more than ordinarily a favorite. It is certainly a most appropriate selection for an Easter enjoyment for the little ones who have been at school all the winter. The usual prices of admission will prevail. A April 14th, the successful military drama, "Shen-Solemn Service .- On Tuesday evening last

1st inst., a large congregation assembled in Trinity Church. Towson, to hear the Cantata of the Cruci fixion, which the choir of Christ Chuch, Baltimore, had kindly offered to render. The music of the Cantata is by the celebrated composer Dr. J. Stainer for a long time organist of St. Paul's Cathedral, from the Go pels, interspersed with hymns written by Rev. J. Sparrow Simpson. The singing of this Cantaia is now one of the solemn features of Holy Week in a number of Fpiscopal Churches, and nothing, surely, could more vividly or reverently portray the Divine Passion. Perhaps it is best no to attempt any criticism of the various members where the subject is of so sacred a character. Still it may be mentioned that the choruses, of which there are several very fine ones, notably "The Pro-cession to Calvary" and "The Appeal of the Crucified," were equally well rendered with the solos, and, with the opening and closing prayers and hymns made up a most devotional service.— The soloists were Mrs Doane and Messrs Sumner, Poehlman and Whitney, to whom, with the other members of the choir, and to the orga ist and choir master, Mr. Wright Nicols, those who were present must have felt deeply grateful for so impressive a service. The visiting choir returned to the city by a special train over the Maryland Cen tral Rollroad after having been served with a collation in the Chapel by some of the ladies of the

Badly Injured by a Dynamite Cap.-On Monday last, 31st ult., M13. Kane, wife of Mr. John Kane, who resides at Lutherville, had the thumb and forefinger of her left hand badly shattered by a dynamite cap. She picked it up and, not knowing its explosive character, began picking it with hairpin, when it exploded and literally blew her thumb and finger to a oms. Some of the fragments of the fingers struck the ceiling and a portion o bone was hurled against her face with such force as to enter the flesh. Prof Louis McLane Tiffany, of Baltimore, and Dr. Thomas P. Peebles, of Lutherville, amputated the remaining portions of the finger and thumb. Mrs. Kane was about to give the cap to her child to play with, but concluded to make an investigation of it first. "Doc." Burroughs Caged .- Wm. Burroughs who called himself "Doc Burroughs," and who floated into Baltimore somewhere about the close of the last war, subsisting by dubious means apon the public ever since, and who, for the past 3 or 4 years, has been tramping about Notre Bame, Govanstown and vicinity, gouging credulous people out of small sums of money and odd meals, lodging in barns and outhouses at nights, and was a particular nuisance to the Perine estate and Mr. G. This bell will be set in motion by the approaching train by coming in contact with an electric wire which is run up and down the track for a considerable distance, giving time by warning of danger.
