On motion by Mr. Forrest, that the following question be propounded to James Sly. Did or did you not, at the last election, produce to the judges of election a memorandum of your age and swear that it was correct?

The question being objected to by Mr. Maulsby, as irrelevant, and consequently improper, the question was put, Shall the said question be propounded to the witness? The yeas and nays being required appeared as follow:

On motion by Mr. Dorsey, that the following question be propounded to James Sly, to wit: Have you ever said that the paper you produced before the judges of the election on the 4th day of last October, was not a true copy from the entry of your birth made in the bible or copy book? The same was objected to by Mr. Harrison, and the question put, Shall the said question be propounded to the witness? Determined in the negative.

Mr. Boyle having asked James I. Bowen for whom he voted? the question was objected to by Mr. Forrest, on the ground that to make the witness answer the question will be a violation of his constitutional privilege of keeping secret the names of the persons for whom he voted; and the question put, That the said question proposed by Mr. Boyle be propounded to the witness? Resolved in the affirmative.—Which being propounded to him, he answered that he was not bound to tell, and refused to answer said question.

Mr. Boyle having asked Wm. Dossey for whom he voted, Mr. Forrest objected to the question, on the same grounds that he objected to the question proposed to James J. Bowen, which objection being overruled by the house, he answered, it was not a fair question, and refused to answer.
