Mr. Worthington delivers the tollowing report:

The committee to whom was referred the communication of the state agent for the western shore, relative to the charges standing on the treasury books against Baltimore and Frederick counties, for advances made about the commencement of the revolutionary wer, for the public roads and the poor house in Baltimore county, ask leave to report,-That after a careful examination of the subject, together with the letter of the honograble Thomas Kell, attorney general of the state, to the present state agent, and the correspondence between Thomas Johnson, E q. of Frederick, and the state agent for the year :795, the committee are unanimously of opinion, that a further prosecution of the claims would be expensive to the state, detrimental to the public interest, without a probable chance of recovering the same, and even, if recovered in whole or in part, it would operate unjustly on some of the citizens of the state, who after a lapse of fifty years cannot have the means of producing satisfactory evidence in relation to the matters in dispute; they therefore submit the following resolution:

Resolved by the general assembly of Maryland, That the treasurer of the western shore be and he is hereby authorised and required, to close all the accounts standing on the treasury books for advances made for the poor house in Baltimore county, or for public roads in Baltimore or Frederick counties, or westward of Fort Cumberland, and that all such claims, standing on the treasury books, against any person or persons whatsuever, be and the same are hereby released.
