Our Washington Letter.

From our regular correspondent Washington, Jan. 7, 1888 Since I last wrote you our lawmakers have returned to their desks in the Capitol, and the brilliant festivities of New Year's Day have inaugurated the season's social life in the official world. No doubt is expressed that the season in the fashionable world will be as gay and giddy and brilliant as the lightest winged buties of Washington society could wish. But Congress is more of an anknown quantity, It is hoped and there is some reason for believing that it will settle down earnestly to the great tasks before it, and that the session will be one marked for hard work, but it is not safe to predict or Fultz...... 78(a)80
