The Trade Boomed By the War-The Great Variety of Goods That Are Canned-A Mistaken Idea.

Novel Method of Fishing. The two Indians were going to show their method of catching trout and lmon. While not sportsmanlike it was wild-like interesting.

us their method of catching trout and salmon. While not sportsmanlike it was decidedly interesting.

They first select a suitable hole with the prough to be an object. In this case it was about 200 yards long, thirty feet wide, and varying in depth to ten feet. At the bottom, lazily swimming around, were a number of big fish. From a sack Johnnie produced two light gill nets, which were stretched across the atream, about forty yards apart. Then he produced the tps of a spear, which were bound to a strong willow pole. These tips when thrust into a fish come off the pole, but are held by buckskin strips.

By the way, in every shop that we have visited, says Carter Harrison's Bombay letter, the most costly articles were for the American market. In this shop we saw a score or more of men at work on friezes and entablatures for a Mr. Forrest, of New York. I would like that he should see this letter, for it would be a pleasure when he sips his wine and looks upon his elaborate sideboard of teakwood to know that some of the most exquisite of its rich carvings was done by a father and son, the little fellow being only seven years old.
