tance being therefore out of the ques-n, I felt that my only chance—if indeed there was a chance—was to conciliate the ruffians and buy myself off.
With a presence of mind for which I still take to myself considerable credit, I still take to myself considerable credit, I asid at once:

"I understand it all, gentlemen, and you will find me a very liberal person to deal with. There is one thing I value then, somehow, I have, and I can not replace it—that is my life. Everything else of mine is at your service, even beyond what I have with me "there is no question but women are superior to men, but it sounds better for my life. Everything else of mine is at your service, even beyond what I have with me."

They were undoubtedly surprise to hear me speak in that cool, off-hand manner, but they marched forward and surrounded me before either returned a state of perfection.

monsieuf?"

"How much have you with you then?" sciousness of performing a duty entirely inquired one in a civil way, but in a low, free of expectation.

There is nothing that injures the force having the poet discover them."—Pack.

This street is little frequentout the last in the world I

I immediately mentioned the different of faith so much as an assumed knowlected for disposing of a articles of value, and the exact amount edge of what to expect.

The race of life is its of money.

"All of which I rhall be pleased to present you with, if one of you will be kind enough to escort me to the street above," I asked.

The race of life is like two men trying to hide their modesty by each insisting. The other to be better fitted to lead off.

The can who thinks he is a fool is far who thinks he is a fool is far than the probability.

"You said you had more, monsieur."
"Yes, gentlemen, I have 10 000 frame "Yes, gentlemen, I have 10,000 france in the Bank of France, and will willingly add a check for half that amount." "Checks do not serve our purpose very ell," said a second voice.

"Then I pledge you my honor that I handle what you have "Where does she reside?" "What is the matter with her?" "She has a high fever, for one thing."

"When was she taken?"

"She came down last night, not left her bed since." 'We hoped she would get better soon, is your price?" said I.

nd said:

house of a good turn out to-night a

"My mother!" with a de lowncast look.

and it is so expensive for poor people to employ a physician."

"I am myself a medical student, with eh, comrades?" said the mask, turning considerable experience among the sick to the others.
of the hospitals, and if you are disposed "A very lib ight of day. A distant lamp just served ing his prayers." o make the gloom visible, till she suddealy stopped and opened a door into me?" I asked.

"Monsieur uses a very barsh to

to goany further, though I mechani-were numbered.

A death-like

It is interesting to hear two "scholars" convince each other that they are both

No reward can be greater than con

The man who thinks he is a fool is far wiser than he who has never had experience enough to know what a real fool is. -Sturdy Oak.

An Empress and Her Five Boys.

An Empress and Her Five Boys.

A correspondent describes the daily life of the German Empress and the five little Princes at Bassnitz, where they have been staying. Every day schools and other institutions in the neighborhood the fair decoynorested the last shall depart and the form the staying and there are plenty of opportunities for doing so, for the Empress is as fond of being on the water as the Emperor himself. The Empress has already been several times on the beach, together with the Princes; the beach, together with the Princes; the four elder boys wear blue sailor suits and straw hats with long ribbons. Prince Oscar, the youngest, who is dressed all in white, is carried about by the nurse. the first speaker.

In white, is carried about by the nurse.

The Princes climb about among the stones, trying to find curious stones or other treasures of the deep. The Emplaced them all in his extended hand.

The Princes climb about among the stones, trying to find curious stones or other treasures of the deep. The Emplaced them all in his extended hand.

Well as in the other amusements of the accd them all in his extended hased.

"You make me a present of these well as in the other amusements of the Princes on the beach. The thoughtful new, he said.

"Yes, on condition that one of you will forthwith conduct me to the street," shown in a little incident which occurred a few days ago. She had come down to the beach with her four sons - the Crown Prince had remained at home for lessons and was "I am myself a medical student, with considerable experience among the sick of the hospitals, and if you are disposed to trust the case to me, I am at your service without charge, "I rejoined, already feeling deeply interested in the fair girl." "Oh, how shall I thank monsieur?" she exclaimed, with clasped hands, and an upward, graful look. "Pray, tollow me pour feeling deeply interested in the fair girl." Then they drew off together, scrutinged the articles by the light of a smoky tamp, and conversed together in Low consultation that involved my life, and an upward, graful look. "Pray, tollow me pour feeling deeply interested in the fair girl." At length the principal spokesman turned to me and said, in a very cool and methodical manner."

At length the principal spokesman nurned to me and said, in a very cool and methodical manner." "Monsieur has acted more like a gentleman than any other person we ever had dealings with our business, oblige him, we should be happy to do so; but unfortunately we are governed by a rule, which is a law with us, that 'deed mean covered passage, which led in back among habitations that I should never have voluntarily visited in the broad light of day. A distant lamp just severed to make the gloom visible, till abe sudomental manners and the properties of the substance of the substance of the substance of the gentleman than any other person we ever had dealings with and if we could, one and methodical manner."

"Is it much further?" inquired I, beginning to feel uneasy, "Only a step, monsieur. It is just here."

Almost immediately she turned into a covered passage, which led in back among habitations that I should never have voluntarily visited in the broad light of day. A distant lamp just severed to make the gloom visible, till she sudomental to make the gloom visible, till abe valued to make an exception in this case. We will, however, in consideratio

James Robinson, tall, robust, with a sandy complexion and forty years of age, has spont almost his entire life mining in the mountains of the West. Two months "Monsieur uses a very harsh team, but he said, at the same time taking it and he said, at the same time taking it and reading me forward.

I was tempted to draw back and relight, and I felt indeed that my minutes are light, and I felt indeed that my minutes.

"Monsieur uses a very harsh team, but has spent almost his entire life mining in the mountains of the West. Two months ago he went to Kansas City, Mo., from Phonix, Arizona. He could neither read nor write. During the past eight were numbered.

A death-like silence then reigned in that gloomy apartment for some time, and then one of the ruffians bent downward and lifted a trap-door, and from the dark pit below issened a missome smell. I beheld my intended grave, and solding the modern that gloomy apartment for some time, and then one of the ruffians bent downward and lifted a trap-door, and from the dark pit below issened a missome smell. I beheld my intended grave, and shuddered and shook like an aspen. But why stand there and die like a dog, without a single attempt at escape! At the worst it could be but death, and there was a bare prossibility that I might get away. I fixed my eyes on the door which opened upon the stairway, and with a single audieu bound reached it, but found it fast locked. Then, as the lands of the ruffians seized me, with callive.

To this my fair guide deigned no reply. On reaching the foot of the stairs she were numbered.

A death-like silence then reigned in the transaction of business involving the buying and selling of mines, through which he has been placed in confortances of otten that he was been placed in confortances involving the buying and selling of mines, through which he has been placed in confortances intolving the buying and selling of mines, through which he has been placed in confortances intolving the having and selling of mines, through which he has been placed in confortances intolving the having and selling of mines, through which he has been placed in confortances intolving the having and selling of mines, through which he has been placed in confortances intolving the having and selling of mines, through the has been placed in confortances intolving the having and selling of mines, through the has been placed in confortances intolving the having shall be hat been attached to deeds and contracts so often that he was been placed in confortances intolving the has been placed in confortances intolving the has been placed in confortances of the number of the winds with san appear.

But why st

HE NEVER HALF DID

Doctor-"Calm yourself, madam. Munsey's Weekly.

NO DOUBT ABOUT 17. "So Jack is married, ch? Do you think he'll get along well with his wife?"
"I'm quite sure he will. They sang in the same choir for two years without

"No!" exclaimed Verser, "the American magazines have never yet discovered

"You seem to be very fond of soup, Mr. Skiparlor," remarked the landlady, as he asked for a second help. "Yes," he returned, with a meaning of his own; "especially thin soups."-Puck

ONE OF THE LATEST PADS Country-"Why, look at that girl! She can't be over twenty, and see that wave of white hair on her head. What sorrows she must have had, poor child!"

City—"Poor——! Bleached."—Chat-

SUMMER WAITERS FROM COLLEGE. "Give me two fresh boiled eggs," said the guest at the summer hotel.

"I beg your pardon," said the young man, who will be through college in two years, "but don't you mean two free eggs boiled?" -- Washington Post.

What number do you want?"-Hartford

A LONG PELT WANT. Knowles-"Fassett's making a for Bowles-"How?" Knowles-"He has invented a process manufacturing interchamonograms for engagement rings.

LOVE AND MONEY.

Fannie-"Papa, Mr. Havmuch has asked me to marry him. Papa-"And, my child, do you think you love him?"

Fannie (astonished)-"Love him, papa! Why, he's worth a million dollars!

"GOOD," IN A BUSINESS SENSE. Mr. Corner-"Here's a good business outlook! The grain crops of the whole world have turned out disastrously ----

Mrs. Corner—"Mercy!"
Mr. Corner (continuing—"Except those of this country."

Mrs. Corner (brightening) .-- "Why, John, we'll be able to go to Europe next

THE EXPECTED IT. Miss May Ture-"Oh! Edith, dear, do you know that Fred setually proposed to me last evening?" Edith—"Just as I expected."

Miss M. T.—"Why did you expect

E .- "Why, when I refused him last night he said he would go and do some-thing desperate."—Mercury.

MET HIS MATCH.

A fellow thinking to appear smart entered a notion store on Sixth avenue the other day, and said to one of the sales-"Have you any call for hus

"Oh yes, occasionally. Are you look-ing for a market?" "Yes," said Smarty:
"All right. Step right up on the ten cent counter."—Tense Siftings.

THAT MADE A DIFFERENCE.

Miss De Simper-"Oh, my! I am an | Mail and Express

To this day those match-making the rais caught on board the ships as a comen can't understand why those two daily perquisite. Before their voyage was over, Magellan's sailors were glad enough to follow his example, and to place these fellow-voyagers on their bill of fare at the rate of a ducat spiece.

This party of six-and a party of nine another time-which may have included part or all of the first six, are all of the natives whom Magellan and his men ever saw. Of these, it seems certain, that two at least were very large, All the Indians wore large shoes, which they stuffed with straw for warmth regs boiled?"—Washington Post.

The imperiuebable hello fierd against his middle vest button, and they stuffed with straw for warmth, they stuffed with straw for warmth. From this custom the Spaniards gave a bursting heart. Then she laid her ear against his middle vest button, and they stuffed with straw for warmth. From this custom the Spaniards gave a bursting heart. Then she laid her ear against his middle vest button, and they stuffed with straw for warmth. From this custom the Spaniards gave a sphere, successfully sphere, successfully successfully successfully straight and and a bursting heart. Then she laid her ear against his middle vest button, and they stuffed with straw for warmth. From this custom the Spaniards gave a sphere, successfully sphere, successfully succ at that time that these savages were to be ranked among brutes, over whom Christian men had certain special rights.

The two friendly giants, being about to leave the chief of the control of the contro The two friendly giants, being about to leave the ships, Magellan loaded them with presents. He gave them knives, mirrors and glass trinkets, so that their hands were full, then he offered to each a chain. They were passionately fond of iron, but could not take the chains from very embarrassment of riches. With their full consent, therefore, Magellan bade the smith fasten the chains to their

A German scientist is confidence of the confidence of th > and vainly called on theff god Setebos to come to their succor. Not satisfied with this surcess, Magellan tried to make more captives. He di rected sine of his strongest men to com-pel the Indians to take them to the stapel the Indians to take them to the station where their women were. One of > them escaped, but the other was subdued after a hard coeffict. He consented > to lead them to the wives of the two > prisoners. When the women heard of > the fate of their lords they uttered such > screams that they were heard at the ships > far away. The Spaniards had such suteresterite in recompany that they expected. far away. The Spaniards had such such periority in numbers that they expected the pext, merning to carry the Indian of being buried alive, when the youngest toddler in the family ventured to suggest toddler in the family ventured toddler in the family ventured toddler in the family ventured to suggest toddler in the family the pext morning to carry the Indian women and their children on board ship. But meanwhile two Indian men came, who spent the night with them, and at daybrak the whole party escaped to gether. In their flight they killed one of the Spaniards with a poisoned arrow. Magellan sent a large party on shore and buried him.

>
> And so they perted the Spaniards and the short by detectivity."

presents, and that in their very wealth they were made slaves. When they discovered this they were wild with rage

And so they parted—the Spanjards and the Patagonians. The two giants were separated; one was placed on the Trindad, and the other on the Sant' Antonio. It was from these experiences that haps, not yet fully dispelled, that Pata-gonia was a region of giants.—Harper's Magazine.

Mrs. John A. Logan says she hav taught herself the use of carpenter tools until able to build a cupboard or put a new shelf in the pantry. one thumb, sawed the office herrippies two fingers and kneed kneed, but perseverance wen jack plane is king.

A learned writer declares that butter was unknown to the ancients. This makes it harder than ever to account for "Gentlemen." said the orator, "go along our wharves from one end to the other, and what will you find?" "Water," crowd. - Light.

from loss of memory, isn't it!" Wild-man-"Dunno. It depends on how much money a fellow has borrowed."--Burlington Free Press. . . Robinson Crusoe—"Well, Friday, what have we for dinner to-day?" Friday— "Goat soup, goat chops, boiled goat, roast goat—" Robinson Crusoe—"Don't,

A German scientist is confident legs by the manacles which were attached to them. When it was too late the poor bread out of wood. American giants found, as so many wiser men have men not only make their brotound, that they had accepted too many but their butter also.—Net

Is happened one time that a many fell in love with a maiden and kr.

And he said, "Be my wife

And bring joy to my life"

She said, "No, but I will be your sr."

—Chicago, Post,

Chicago Teacher-"Yes, corned beef is who can tell me what stands next to corned beef?" Boston Little Boy (triumphantly) — "Cabbage." — American Grocer.

The conversation turned on the danger

(turning to the ticker and I what I am doing.

Bookkeeper-

"Now, Samuel, "said er, "you are going to a nicest girls to-night that en this town, and I want you good impression. Now, the that is to show appreciation one says: "Be a good listen don't you forget it." "I won't, mother," answere ful Samuel.

At another house, the one Samuel's feet were tending, a le vas saying to her visiting nice if Sam comes don't you rattle you hadn't any brains. Just you quiet, and let him do the talking. young folk despise each other, - Puck.

OLD HEADS AND "Now, Samuel," s

A PRUDENT LITTLE MAID. "I am a lawyer's daughter, you know, George, dear," she said, after George had proposed and been accepted, "and you wouldn't think it strange if I were to ask you to sign a little paper to the effect that we are engaged, would George was too happy to think any-thing strange just then, and he signed the paper with a trembling hand and a bursting heart. Then she laid her ear

"Ah, yes," she sighed, with infinite ntent, "indeed I do! But, George ear, I have been fooled so many

An Island Infested With Rats. Bean's Island, an uninhabited piece of land lying in Freuchman's Bay, off the coast of Maine, would be a paradise for cats. It is infested with rats, and how they reached there no one can tell. It is the general supposition that some years ago a coasting schooner must have been wrecked in the bay, and that it had rats among the other valuable portions of its cargo. The rodents are there by thou-sands, and they fairly swarm over the island. Any one who is not foud of them does well to give the place a wide berth, for they know no fear and make it interesesting for visitors. Much of the iswith their holes that it resembles a sieve. How they live is a mystery. No on knows of any fresh water up so the rats must have been the sole disrers of some hidden spring .-

A Smuggler's Ruse Early the other morning Inspector Au-Chies, heard a splash in the water astern then the cry of "a man overboard." Hurrying toward the spot whence the the surface of the water. He was not drawning though, but was accoutered in a complete Paul Bonyton swimming suit. When he saw the inspector coming he swam away. Suspended by a rope from a port-hole of the steamer was a sack, which when examined was found to contain 100 five-tael boxes of optim. The value of these, with the sixty boxes preciously captured, is about $1200,- San Francisco Chronicle.

Rhede Island's First Woolen Mill.

The village of Peacedala is noted as having been the location of the first woolen mill in Rhode Island, being built in 1803, and containing one set of cards, while now, on the same site is a plant of of twenty-five mill buildings, with seven-Miss De Sinper.—'I want to buy a liamond necklace."

Jeweler.—'Something worth about 1500"

Jeweles and worsted spindles and 125 looms, producing about 350,000 yards per year, besides about 35,000 shawls.—