WASHINGTON LETTER.

The Topics of the National Capital by Our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, April 5th, 1897 .-The Civil Service Rules may be likened to a punching bag in a public gymnasium, and the Senators and Representatives to the punchers. Whether they can punch the bag to pieces is yet to be seen. The Senate bonnet is close by.
Civil Service Committee is preparing to make an exhaustive investigation of the workings of the Civil Service under those rules, but that isn't going fast enough for some of the op-ponents of Mr. Cleveland's numerous extensions of the rule, and Representative Corliss, of Michigan, has offered a joint resolution providing for the repeal of every extension Mr. Corliss tried to get immediate consideration for the resolution, but Speaker Reed would not have it that way, so it has gone to join the numerous bills and resolutions which are awaiting the appointment of the House committees. Mr. Corliss says thority to rescind those rules, but mer. that he thinks it would only be right for Congress to assume the responsi-bility of doing so.

The House is taking things quite easy since the passage of the tariff bill. It met Saturday but only remained in session a short time, during which it adopted the joint resolution to charter a vessel to carry the by the planting of a tree. grain which has been contributed to fumine stricken India by citizens of until Wednesday, and the present understanding is that it will only meet Wednesdays and Saturdays unfil the Senate acts on the tariff bill.
