It seems that the several warm and the public in general think that summer had arrived. Wednesday began before daylight with heavenly Queenstown, Md. pyrotechnics and rain enough to fill Granulated Sugar 5c. a 135, and then the sun came out as Coal Oil, 10c. if it was determined to evaporate all the moisture on earth, and people were full of perspiration and unhappiness, and there were sighs for the cool spell, now only a happy

The heat is complicated by polities, which have a regular temperature of 111 in the shade. The heroic efforts the leaders to make everything harmony has caused the friction which has caused the heat, and, as the situation is continuing, there does not seem to be much hope of a fall of temperature. On the contrary, the indications are that the situation will keep on getting up steam until it bursts.

Still the summer will probably be pleasant, and it is always possible to get into the country or on the water. Our rivers are running over with healthfulness. There ozone is always at flood tide. Their breezes are always delightful, and their influence on our people are that of a constant benedition.

The President of the American National Association of Dancing Masters declares that the bicycle has dealt a serious blow to dancing. This opens up an ideal topics for ethical discussion; and now the moralists who argue that waltzing is "the dance of death" and the other set who hold that wheeling is an invention of the devil should get together and fight the issue to a finish.

A New York soubrette sued a dentist for pulling the wrong tooth, because she said it destroyed her stage smile, and was awarded $90. Now she wants to sue him in another court for $5,000. An extravagant value, indeed, to place on a smile, when most soubrettes are more than willing to give them away.
