

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Some News Collected at the National Capital by Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21st, 1901.—Oh no! the McKinley administration has no understanding with England, and does not act for the preservation of English interests. It just happened that the administration bosses forced a caucus of Republican Senators to decide to take no action upon the Nicaragua Canal bill, while the Hay-Pauncefote treaty is under consideration by the British government. In other words, a majority of the U. S. Senate informs the world that it has turned the question of whether the Nicaragua canal shall be provided for at this session over to the British government. All and all this is one of the most remarkable instances of trucking to a foreign nation in the history of the Senate, and it is not surprising that four Republican Senators should have revolted and openly said that they would not be bound by the action of the caucus—the surprising thing is that a majority of them should have been willing to make such an exhibition of themselves. If the British government wishes to prevent Nicaragua canal legislation at this session of Congress, it has only to defer making known its action on the treaty until after the 4th of March. Naturally, the Panama lobbyists are jubilant. This is playing right into their hands. As the administration doesn't wish to take any more chances, the conferees on the part of the House on the Army bill, have orders to agree to the bill as it passed the Senate. It is expected to go to the President in a day or two, and months are already watering for the nice little commissions that he will distribute under the new law. The Ship Subsidy bill has been patched up so as to please Republican opposition, and it is now claimed that it will get the vote of every Republican Senator, if it gets voted upon. It is to be considered in the Senate whenever a regular appropriation bill is on hand, for a time, but Senator Aldrich reminded Senator Hanna that the time would be limited when he gave notice that the Finance committee would, during the present week, report the Revenue Reduction bill. The prediction has been made by a Senator that if the Ship Subsidy bill was not passed before the Revenue Reduction bill, which will have the right of way before the Senate, it would not pass at all. If the Democratic Senators choose they can easily prevent the Ship Subsidy bill getting to a vote, but they may conclude that it will be good party policy to allow the Republicans to pass it. While protesting all the time that he would not be a candidate, Senator Hanna is constantly busy laying wires to bring about his nomination for President, by the Republicans in 1904. His latest move in that direction was to make a bid for the soldiers' vote, by announcing his intention to join the G. A. R. If the Democratic leaders can help Hanna get that nomination, they will certainly do so, because of their belief that his nomination by the Republicans would assure the election of any Democrat. That "pull" under this administration is stronger than the Civil Service law is nothing new, but a disgraceful proof of it has just been given by the appointment of William Hamble of Maryland, who was forced to resign as a general inspector of the Postoffice Department, for having his name on the register of railroad pass inspectors in the Baltimore district.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Local and Other News of Interest for Our Readers in a Brief Way.

Various games with choice music entertained the guests until the small hours.

WEDDING BELLS.

Financial Editor of the Baltimore American and a Junior Editor of Record Mary.

One of the prettiest early morning weddings solemnized in the central section of Queen Anne's county for many years, was that on Wednesday morning of Miss Martha Lillian Reed, only daughter of Mrs. John Doud, of Centerville, and Mr. Arzides Smith Goldsborough, financial editor of the Baltimore American. The ceremony was performed in St. Paul's P. E. Church, Centerville, by Rev. James A. Mitchell, rector of the church. The church was beautifully decorated with evergreen for the occasion, and on the altar were lighted candles and vases of beautiful Easter lilies. Promptly at 7 o'clock to the beautiful strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Prof. Walter Derr, of Baltimore, the bride entered the church with her step-father, Mr. John Doud, who gave her away, and preceded by the ushers, Messrs. J. L. Evans and William McKenney, of Centerville, and B. Palmer Keating, Jr., and J. Kennard Brown, of Baltimore, marched up the aisle and was met by the groom, accompanied by his best man, Mr. P. B. Hopper, of Centerville. The betrothal service was first used and at the chancel rail they were pronounced—after the usual beautiful and impressive marriage ceremony of the Protestant Church—man and wife. The bride was charmingly and becomingly dressed in a brown tailor-made suit, with hat and gloves to match and carried a white prayer book. The groom, best man and ushers wore frock coats and light pantaloons. After the ceremony they were driven to the home of the bride, and from there to the depot, where they took the 7.51 train for an extended wedding tour. They were the recipients of many handsome and useful wedding gifts, consisting of silver, cut glass, china, bric-a-brac, etc. They will reside in Baltimore. Mr. S. Chester Coates, junior editor of the Centerville Record, and Miss Lydia E. Witworth, youngest daughter of Mr. Roger Witworth, a prominent merchant of Elkton, Md., were married at the home of the bride, West Main street, Elkton, Wednesday evening at 7.30 o'clock, Rev. T. E. Terry, of the M. E. Church, performing the ceremony. The parlors were decorated with evergreen and potted plants for the occasion and presented a most beautiful and pleasing appearance. Owing to the recent death of the bride's mother, none but the immediate relatives and friends of the families were present, yet the rooms were filled. The bride, who was given away in white silk, trimmed in white ribbon, entered the parlor with her maid of honor, Miss Elora Paradis, of Stockton, Worcester county, carrying a white silk organza and carrying white carnations, tied with chiffon ribbon. They were met at the entrance of the room by the groom and best man, Mr. A. Clayton Hayden, of Centerville, where the ceremony was performed. Miss Bessie E. Gilbert, of Baltimore, played the wedding march. At the conclusion of the ceremony a wedding supper was served and the bride and groom took the 8.26 train for a wedding tour. They will, upon their return, reside in Centerville.

OBITUARY.

Mr. David L. Downes and Miss Mary Ethel Green, of Virginia, Depart This Life.

After an illness of several weeks, Mr. David L. Downes died at his residence early yesterday morning in his 61st year of paretic. Mr. Downes has been a resident of this town for many years and has lived in this immediate neighborhood nearly all his life. He was a young man, and was an energetic worker and followed farming as a vocation but, after many years of hard toil, he left the farm and came to town where he engaged in the butchering business which he managed successfully until about three years ago when, on account of failing health he had to withdraw from such laborious work and exposure but, even after this, he was very active in the store of his son, Mr. J. Burton Downes. Besides the son named, the deceased leaves a widow, Mrs. M. A. Downes, and a large circle of friends to mourn his loss. Mary Ethel Green, youngest child of Mrs. A. C. Green, who was born in Amelia county, Virginia, September 19th, 1883, died January 21st, 1901, at the home of her brother-in-law, Mr. J. F. Woodson, pastor of W. M. P. Church in Centerville, Md., about three months ago she died and passed her life at her home in Virginia but in October last she came to Maryland to spend the winter with her sister, Mrs. J. F. Woodson. In the second of January she was taken sick with the measles, which was followed later by pneumonia from which disease she died after an illness of little more than two weeks. Funeral services were held at Wye plantation, Tuesday at 7.30 A. M., conducted by Rev. J. K. Kennerly, after which the remains were taken to the home of her mother, Mrs. J. F. Woodson, where she was laid to rest in the cemetery. She leaves a mother, one sister and two brothers as well as many relatives and friends to mourn her loss. Her pall-bearers were Messrs. James Carter, Jas. Dodd, Tilghman Bishop and S. R. Shawen.

FEES OF CONSTABLES.

An Important Decision Rendered by Judges Pearce, Stump and Martin in Talbot.

Judges Pearce, Stump and Martin, in the Circuit Court for Talbot county, have just rendered an important decision relative to the fees of constables and sheriffs in the commitment and release of prisoners, which applies throughout the whole circuit. It has been the practice in Talbot, as well as in the other counties of the circuit, for Justices of the Peace, after commitment of a prisoner upon a criminal charge to issue a release directing the sheriff to deliver the prisoner to some constable named in the release, either for a partial hearing or trial and, at the conclusion of the hearing, if the party was not discharged to issue a new commitment, the services of both release and commitment being charged for by the constable and collected from the prisoner. In Talbot county the commissioners refused to pay the fee so charged and suit was brought. The court rendered a verdict in favor of the commissioners and held "that when a prisoner was once committed by the date of the sheriff upon a criminal charge, no release can be properly issued to a constable at all. Once within the custody of the sheriff his custody continues until the prisoner is bailed or discharged. When a hearing or trial is had it is the duty of the sheriff to produce the prisoner, upon the proper order from the justice before whom the case is pending for hearing, but he is not entitled to any fee for serving release or recommitment any more than he is entitled to a fee for producing the prisoner in a criminal court for trial or under habeas, unless he is required to produce him before a justice in the country, in which case he should be entitled to fees."

Crabs in Winter. Where do the crabs spend their winter? For a long time this has been the source of a great deal of discussion on the part of the local oystermen and crabbers, who are unable to arrive at any definite conclusion. A St. Michaels correspondent to the Baltimore Herald says: "A few days ago one of our oystermen took up in a pair of 30-foot tongs a fine, healthy, soft crab from the soft bottom of the river, proving to his mind conclusively that during the cold winter months they seek the deep waters and mud, and that as the weather and water get warm they return to the shallow water, where the warm sun is an auxiliary in the process of their shedding; while there are many others who believe that they bury deep in the mud at the approach of cold weather and remain there in a dormant state until the warm sun of spring and summer revives them as it were. Since the catching of the soft crab recently the former theory is more generally accepted."

Beat Out of an Increase of His Pension. A Mexican war veteran and prominent editor writes: "Seeing the advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, I am reminded that as a soldier in Mexico in '47 and '48, I contracted Mexican diarrhoea and this remedy has kept me from getting an increase in my pension for an every renewal a dose of it restores me." It is unequalled as a quick cure for diarrhoea and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by B. E. Cockey & Co.

The Mother's Favorite. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the mother's favorite. It is pleasant and safe for children to take and always cures. It is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough, and is the best medicine made for these diseases. There is not the least danger in giving it to children for it contains no opium or injurious drug and may be given as confidently to a babe as to an adult. For sale by B. E. Cockey & Co.

Reumatism. Nobody knows all about it; and nothing, now known, will always cure it. Doctors try Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, when they think it is caused by imperfect digestion of food. You can do the same. It may or may not be caused by the failure of stomach and bowels to do their work. If it is, you will cure it; if not, you will do no harm. The way, to cure a disease is to stop its cause, and help the body get back to its habit of health. When Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil does that, it cures; when it don't, it don't cure. It never does harm.

The genuine has this picture on it, take no other. If you have not tried it, send for free sample, its agreeable surprise.

When threatened by pneumonia or any other lung trouble, prompt relief is necessary, as it is dangerous to delay. We would suggest that One Minute Cough Cure be taken as soon as indications of having taken cold are noticed. It cures quickly and its early use prevents consumption. J. S. Denny.

Pepsin preparations often fail to relieve indigestion because they can digest only albuminous foods. There is one preparation that digests all classes of food, and that is Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It cures the worst cases of indigestion and gives instant relief for it digests what you eat. J. S. Denny.

Caterer Shuster, of Centerville, served wild ducks and the other necessities to make a duck supper Tuesday evening to the best men, ushers and a few close friends who assisted at the Goldsborough-Reed nuptials. Mr. A. S. Goldsborough furnished sufficient funds to satisfy Caterer Shuster for his trouble.

This season there is a large death rate among children from croup and lung troubles. Prompt action will save the little ones from these terrible diseases. We know of nothing so certain to give instant relief as One Minute Cough Cure. It can also be relied upon in grippe and all throat and lung troubles of adults. Pleasant to take. J. S. Denny.

Persons who suffer from indigestion can not expect to live long, because they cannot eat the food required to nourish the body and the products of the undigested foods they eat poison the blood. It is important to cure indigestion as soon as possible, and the best method of doing this is to use the preparation known as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and restores all the digestive organs to perfect health. J. S. Denny.

The most soothing, healing and antiseptic application ever devised is DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It relieves at once and cures piles, sores, eczema and skin diseases. Beware of imitations. J. S. Denny.
