WASHINGTON LETTER. Some News Collected at the National Capital by Our Regular Correspondent. WASHINGTON, Feb., 10, 1902 .the House of Representatives and that chamber appears to be bent up-on amply demonstrating to the country that with a republican majority and the Reed rules it is a thoroughly impotent and irresponsible body Even the President has ceased to urge his wishes upon the lower house and has concentrated his efforts upon the Senate where there seems to be every reason to believe that they have proved effective. The recent state nents of Senator Platt, of Connecticut, chairman of the committee on relations with Cuba, and Senator Proctor, of Vermont, are regarded, not only as indicative of the attitude of the Senate on the question of Cuban reciprocity but, as a threat that if the House does not pursue a reasonable course the Senate will disregard it and effect the desired recip rocal relations by means of a treaty The excessive fear, inspired by the attack of Representative Babcock upon that portion of the Dingley ta-riff bill which serves to augment the immense profits of the steel trust, seems to have paralyzed the ways and means committee and that body is afraid to report any measure grant-ing reciprocity to Cuba because of Babcock's announced intention to move the amendment of the bill to secure a modicum of tariff reform. While the ways and means committee is dominated by the extreme protectionist view such is not true of the entire House and a republican member who would not permit me to use his name, said yesterday: "The situation is most distressing to the more progressive republicans. They appreciate the truth of Senator Platt's statement that protection is likely 'to suffer most in the house of its friends' and they realize that, if the demo-crats have the foresight to drop their 'anti-expansion' theories and go be-fore the country on a straight tariff reform platform they will make serious inroads in our ranks. Our only hope is that the democratic propen-sity to blunder will lead them to adopt 'anti-expansion' as their slogan rather than 'tariff reform.'" The speaker was an astute western republican who may be counted upon to know the situation in his own sec tion, at least.

The republicans are holding a perfect love feast in the Senate commit tee on the Philippines over the testi-mony of Judge Taft in regard to con-ditions in the islands. It never seems to occur to them that a gentleman who is drawing a salary of $30,000 per annum for governing the "colo-" is most likely to see the rosy side of the situation. Without impugning Judge Taft's sincerity, it is reasonable to assume that from his mag-nificently furnished offices in Manilla and surrounded by the members of a commission all handsomely recompensed for their services, things may look very bright in the Philippines. As a matter of fact, however, there are others, perhaps equally competent to testify, many of them, officers who have penetrated into the strongholds of the insurrection, who do not regard the situation from the same hopeful and complacent standpoint as does Governor Taft.

The Philippine tariff bill continnes to occupy the attention of the Senate and drastic censure of the course of the administration has been the usual order of the day on the democratic side. Senator Lodge has, however, stated that the Senate proposes to pass the measure regardless of the opinion of the minority; and his position, that he and his colleagues are not open to reason or conviction, may serve to precipitate the passage of the bill, in view of the large amount of business which the Senate still has to consider. Representative Newlands, of Nevada, has introduced a resolution in the House providing for the collection of three-fourths of the Dingley rates on Cuban sugar and tobacco in consideration of reciprocal concessions from Cuba and concludes with an invitation to Cuba to come into the United States under a territorial form of government and with the proviso that statehood will be grant-ed when, in the judgment of Congress, it seems advisable. Newlands deems such a course the most expedient solution of the Cuban problem. Speaking of the matter he told me that he had no reason for waiting until the Cubans had formed powerful political organizations, the members of which would expect to derive their livelihood from politics and would therefore oppose annexation, before inviting the island to come into the United States. "Under annexation," said Newlands, "the beet sugar men believe they would be better protected than with a reduction of the tariff and I am inclined to think they are right. The Cubans have admitted before this committee (the ways and means) that they now have employed in the production of sugar all the labor in the islands and arrived in port early last Saturday they have tacitly admitted that the extension of the industry must come cargo of "tanglefoot." While passsrom the importation of cheap Chinese and other labor. If the island he ran into the sloop "Tobe Kilson," was annexed to the United States our immigration laws would apply, the missioner Aker after hearing the rate of wages would be gradually case, let "Big Sam" off after paying raised to the same level and their su$4.25. gar would be produced under conditions so similar to our own that the competition would be by no means as ' The introduction of the Newlands resolution caused a sensation in the House and it was everywhere actively discussed. Had it come from a republican source it seems most likely that it would have been adopted. Under the circumstances its future is most problematical.

A bill, introduced by Senator Peter, Tuesday, proposes to enlarge the powers of the Chester River Steamboat Company, by authorizing it to navigate the waters in this and other states, instead of limiting it to certain waters named in present charter. It increases the capital to $100,-000, and authorizes the election of five directors.

A bill has been introduced in Con gress providing for the coining of a two and one-half cent piece. The two-cent piece proved a nuisance and the three-cent piece proved just as bad, so there is apparently a small field of usefulness for the proposed new coin. In fact, we believe it will prove a bigger nuisance than both the other coins combined.
