MINERAL WATERS.

WE are happy to present to the public the following respectable and satisfactory testimony from some of the most eminent physicians of Baltimore, which fully attests the utility and medical virtues of the Artificial Mineral Water, as prepared by us, and which places us beyond the reach of envy or calumny.

HANNA and HAWKINS

No. 1.

Baltimore, July 19, 1809.

Messrs. Hanna and Hawkins,

HAVING had frequent occasion to procure the famous waters manufactured at your laboratory, I take great pleasure in testifying to their virtues. I can assert with truth, that my expectations have not been disappointed in a single instance.

NATHL. POTTER

No. 2.

Messrs. Hanna and Hawkins,

THE establishment of your famous mineral water, which, cannot fail to be highly beneficial to such citizens of Baltimore as labour under debility of the stomach or bowels, with various concomitant complaints of such affections.

JOHN CAMPBELL WHITE, M. D.

No. 3.

Messrs. Hanna and Hawkins,

I AM of opinion, that the artificial mineral water prepared under your direction, will be found highly beneficial to the citizens of Baltimore, and very little inferior in medicinal virtues to the natural mineral waters of our country.

ASHTON ALEXANDER

No. 4.

Messrs. Hanna and Hawkins,

IT gives me very sincere pleasure to find an establishment such as yours, so likely to become permanent in Baltimore; as it affords to invalids, whose cases require the use of mineral waters, an opportunity of receiving all the advantages they produce, without the necessity of taking a long journey to obtain them at their source.

A. HAMILTON

No. 5.

Messrs. Hanna and Hawkins,

HAVING examined the artificial water as prepared by you, I am of opinion they are a very good imitation of the natural waters of those Springs, and can recommend them as not only salutary but highly beneficial in all those diseases where the natural waters have been found useful.

JAMES SMITH

No. 6.

Messrs. Hanna and Hawkins,

YOUR preparations of mineral waters I consider near imitations of their originals, they will therefore, no doubt, be often referred to by the Faculty, and add very much to the comfort and convenience of the public.

No Relief—No Pay.

TO THE PUBLIC.

There is perhaps no medical observation better established, none more generally confirmed by the experience of the best physicians, of all ages and countries, and none of more importance to the practitioner, than the fact, that many of the most difficult and incurable complaints originate in neglected colds.

I have the satisfaction now to offer to the public such a remedy, under the name of the VEGETABLE PULMONIC DETERGENT, well adapted to various constitutions and habits, and to declare with the fullest confidence that I found this composition in a great variety of cases far superior to others intended to answer the same purpose.

GEORGE ROGERS

No Relief—No Pay.

This motto may be deemed ostentatious by some, and amounting to a positiveness by the medicine will invariably effect a cure in any state of disease, like a miracle, the proprietor is far from believing that this medicine will render mankind immortal, but he is fully sensible if taken seasonably, and according to the directions, it will either prevent or cure, and if unfortunately, it will most sensibly alleviate distress and prolong life, this is an inducement for him to make the above assertion should the contrary appear in any instance, as in some it possibly may, the money for the medicine will be cheerfully refunded by the person who may vend the same.

P. BYRNE.

N. B. The above named medicine is secured to the subscriber by letters patent from the President of the United States, and prepared at his dispensary in Northampton, county of Hampshire, and State of Massachusetts.

The above terms will be complied with by the subscriber, in the sale of the above Medicine.

THE PROPRIETORS OF THE Mineral Water Warehouse

Are now engaged in the introduction of all the Medical Gases, which have been administered with the greatest success in England, by Drs. Bell-dows, Thomson, Stranger, Dobson and Samuel Varley, professor of chemistry, and many others.

That the public may form some idea of the efficacy of these Gases, they submit the following extract of a letter from Mr. Varley to his daughter, Mrs. Hawkins, as well as several extracts from the manuscript of his lectures, delivered in London.

Cleaving House, Jan. 19, 1809

My dear Jane, If you could make a connection with a medical person of character, who would deal honorably with you, I think you might introduce the Medical Air with advantage to yourself and the public. The greatest cures that have of late been effected with them, is truly astonishing, in almost every species of inflammation; even inflammation of the brain, in a case where every other application was despaired of.

Extract from Lecture No. 10.

Gentlemen, I shall begin my narrative with the case of Mr. Newman—He was dangerously hurt in his leg by his stable boy; the wound lacerated rapidly, his leg up to his knee was full of ulcers—there was no want of surgical assistance, but all attempts towards his cure proved fruitless.

From page 56.

Mr. Wilson's malady was also very remarkable, which was the Leprosy of 23 years standing. He was full of sores and ulcers, some parts were holes which gave out pus—his back was particularly offensive. He heard of Dr. Thomson's recommending facilius air, and for this reason he called for my assistance. I administered to him a species of Medical Gas, with as equal success as in all preceding cases, and it effected a radical cure, though the Gas was applied only to one leg and one thigh.

From page 53.

Another instance to prove that Facilius Air may be employed with safety. I have seen it succeed in a lady labouring under an Obsthesis—She was given up as lost and incurable by the physicians. I administered to her the Hydro-carbonate, and she recovered, and is now perfectly well.

Lecture 4, page 90

Oxygen is of a great use in asthmatic complaints. A Mr. Hill, one of the life guards at St. James's, had long laboured under this disease, given over by his physicians, and intended to go to Nottingham, his native place, to die amongst his friends; he was told of oxygen gas, and applied to me—I had a small portion prepared for another purpose, which I willing gave him. He came the next morning, felt much relieved, and had a better appetite for breakfast. I administered to him another portion, and so on successively for some time; he was cured, and has been well for several years past.

I also administered the oxygen gas with equal success to Sir H. Fletcher, Sir Richard Neave, Dr. Lyle, Lady Stanhope, &c. &c. who were all cured (by inhaling this gas) of this or other complaints.

Many other striking instances might be referred to, in febrile heats, mortifications, debility and pulmonary affections; but the foregoing are deemed sufficient to prove the utility of the gas, which can be taken with the greatest safety and ease, without any disagreeable sensations. Those who wish to be further satisfied, can see the manuscript from which these extracts were taken.

It is not the intention of the subscribers to administer these gases indiscriminately; and that they may not be accused of using them empirically, they will refer in all cases, to Dr. Potter, and other eminent Physicians, who are well acquainted with the theory of Dr. Hays, of Leeds, Dobson, of Liverpool, Beddoes, Stranger and Thornton, of London, who have all administered them with the greatest success, in Europe.

These Gases will be prepared and administered by the subscribers at No. 11, South Calvert Street, in private rooms appropriated for that purpose.

August 26 1809. 10 w.

Notice is hereby given, THAT I intend to petition the Judges of Calvert County Court, or some one of them in the recess of said Court, for the benefit of the act of insolvency, passed at November Session, 1805.

JAMES D. PATTERSON, TO THE PUBLIC,

In order to avoid censure, and appease the anger of the interested, I have deemed it necessary to make the following statement, which I trust will convince every impartial mind, that my petition for an act of insolvency has proceeded from absolute necessity. In July, 1801, I embarked for India, in the employment of a respectable mercantile house in any in America, and under as favourable prospects as I could have expected; in fact, they were such as justified an anticipation of the most prosperous and pleasing voyage;—But the reverse was my fate; for, on my return, in June 1803, I had an interview with my constituent, when I discovered to my mortification, that I had sustained a loss to the amount of nearly 2,400 dollars, which I was sued for in the City of Baltimore, as well as I at present recollect, in the September following, which suits I answered by giving the security in such case required. Those suits I defended for four or five years, when they came to an issue, some in favour of, and some against me. But it may not be unnecessary to observe, that the cost of one particular suit, which terminated in my favour, amounted to within 200 dollars of the debt, which was 900. The refuse of debts proceeding from this voyage amounted to nearly 1,600 dollars, which I have within a few hundred said. And I do now solemnly protest, as the most sacred of truths, that had I been fairly and justly dealt by, I should not have had one dollar to have paid; but, knowing I was the primitive cause of the debt existing, I could not bear the idea of taking an undue advantage of those, who had on the responsibility of my constituent, situated me in time of distress; these weighty considerations induced me to hold myself bound, and endeavour to discharge the debt;—this I have done for six years past, with the most indefatigable diligence, but finding, in giving my situation the most ample consideration, that it will be impossible under existing times and circumstances, to make my engagements, I am bound from the principle of self preservation to surrender. Painful as it is to me, in doing it, I trust no person will be so destitute of humanity, as to ascribe an act of necessity, to that of ingratitude. I am, however, too well acquainted with the nature of mankind, to expect to escape the aspersions of some; to those that shall make the attempt, I hope will, in justice to me, do it in such a way as I may have an opportunity of a refutation.

JAMES D. PATTERSON, September 2, 1809.

The State of Maryland, to wit.

To all whom it may concern. FREDERICK WILLIAM BRUNE, Esquire, having produced to the Governor, an Exequatur signed by the President of the United States, and sealed with the seal of the said United States, authorizing him as Vice-Consul from his Danish Majesty for the State of Maryland, to reside at Baltimore—ORDERED, by and with the advice and consent of the Council, that the said recognition be published for the information and government of the people of this State.

GIVEN in Council, at the city of Annapolis, this nineteenth day of September, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and nine, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the thirty fourth.

EDWARD LLOYD.

By the Governor, NINIAN PINKNEY, Clerk of the Council.

JAMES MADISON, President of the United States of America,

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

WHEREAS it has been made to appear to me, that Frederick William Brune, Esquire, has been temporarily appointed Vice Consul of his Danish Majesty for the State of Maryland, to reside at Baltimore—I do therefore recognize him as such, and declare him free to exercise and enjoy such functions, powers and privileges, as are allowed to Vice-Consuls of such friendly powers, between whom and the United States there is no particular agreement for the regulation of the Consular functions.

In testimony whereof, I have caused these letters to be made patent, and the seal of the United States to be hereunto affixed.

GIVEN under my hand at the City of Washington, the tenth day of July, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and nine, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the thirty fourth.

JAMES MADISON.

By the President, R. SMITH, Secretary of State.

ORDERED, That the foregoing be published twice in each week, for the space of five weeks, in the American and Federal Gazette, at Baltimore; the Maryland Gazette and Maryland Republican, at Annapolis; the National Intelligencer; the Eastern Star; Mr. Greene's paper at Hagerstown, and in Mr. Bartgill's paper at Fredericktown.
