That they shall elect a President and such other officers as they may see fit, and fix their compensation, and adopt such rules and regulations for their government as may to them seem proper. And that it shall be the duty of the Legislature to make such provision as may be necessary to defray the expenses of such Convention."

Mr. Brown rose to the following point of order.

That the Convention having accepted the substitute as amended, in p ace of the report submitted by Mr. Sollers, as chairman of the committee, it was not competent to offer a substitute for the substitute just adopted.

The CHAIR ruled the substitute to be out of

Mr. Blakistone then moved to amend the report by adding at the end thereof as an additional section the amendment previously offered by him as a substitute for the report, and which was ruled by the Chair to be out of order.

Mr. B demanded the yeas and nays,

So the amendment was rejected.

Mr. Donaldson then moved to amend the report by adding at the end thereof as an additional section the following:

"Any amendment to the Constitution and Declaration of Rights may be proposed in either the Senate or House of Delegates, and if the same shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two Houses of the legislature, the proposed amendment shall be entered on their Journal, with the year and nays taken thereon, and shall be published at last three months before the next general election for members of the House of Delegates; at which general election the people shall vote for or against said amendment, in such manner as may be prescribed by law; and if the majority of legal voters of the State shall approve of the said amendment, then it shall be the duty of the legislature at its zext session to enact said amendment as a part of their Constitution."

Mr. Sollers offered as a substitute for the amendment, the following:

After a few desultory remarks from Messrs. RANDALL Spencer, Jenifer and Bowie-

Mr. Stephenson moved to amend the amendment offered by Mr. Donaldson, by adding at the end thereof, the following proviso:

"Provided, That if more than one amendment be submitted, they shall be submitted in such manner and form, that the people may vote for or against each amendment separately and distinctly"

Which amendment Mr. Donaldson accepted.
Mr. Spencer explained, what he understood to be the effect of the amendment of the gentleman from Anne Arundel, [Mr. Donaldson.] and
