

into the hands of the treasurer of the sum of money to be ascertained as above by the faculty; and any one of said examiners may grant a licence to practise until a board, in conformity to this act, can be held. Ibid. § 5.

5. After the appointment of the aforesaid medical board, no person, not already a practitioner of medicine or surgery, shall be allowed to practise in either of the said branches and receive payment for his services, without having first obtained a licence, certified as by this law directed, under the penalty of fifty dollars for each offence, to be recovered in the county court where he may reside by bill of presentment and indictment, one half for the use of the faculty, and the other for that of the informer. Ibid. § 6.

6. Every person who, upon application, shall be elected a member of the medical faculty, shall pay a sum not exceeding ten dollars, to be ascertained by the faculty. Ibid. § 7.

7. Every person who, upon application, shall be elected a member of the medical faculty, shall pay a sum not exceeding ten dollars, to be ascertained by the faculty. Ibid. § 8.

8. The said medical faculty are hereby empowered, from time to time, to make such by-laws, rules and regulations, as they may find requisite; to break or alter their common seal; to fix the times and places for their general meetings, for the meetings of the board of examiners, the modes and times of electing officers, filling up vacancies in the medical board, and to do and perform such other things as may be requisite for carrying this act into execution, and which may not be repugnant to the constitution and laws of this state, or the United States. Ibid. § 9.

M I L I T I A L A W.

1. IF any person, whose duty it shall be to meet and muster under the provisions of this act or the act to which this is a supplement, shall not attend on any day of meeting prescribed by any officer authorized to require the same, or attending, shall refuse to do the duties of his station at such meeting, such person, if a non-commissioned officer or private, shall at the discretion of a company court-martial, to be appointed as herein after directed be fined a sum not less than seventy-five cents, nor exceeding five dollars; and if a commissioned officer shall refuse or neglect to attend at any company battalion or regimental meeting, he shall be fined, at the discretion of a regimental court-martial, not less than five dollars, nor more than fifty dollars. 1798, c. 100, § 1.

2. The captain, or other commanding officer of each company, shall appoint the non-commissioned officers of his company, and if any person so appointed shall accept, and neglect to do the duties annexed to his appointment, or refuse or neglect to obey the orders of his superior officers, he shall forfeit and pay a sum not exceeding ten dollars, in the discretion of the commissioned officers of the company, without a sufficient excuse for his refusal or neglect. Ibid. § 2.

3. In all cases where such fine or fines may be incurred in consequence of non-attendance, or otherwise, the court-martial shall, at the next meeting day of the company, and at the place of such meeting, proceed to hear and determine on the excuses of every such delinquent, and if such delinquent shall, on such hearing, be adjudged liable to a fine, or if such person shall not attend on notice, without a good excuse for said neglect, and thereupon be considered liable to a fine, the captain, or other officer (as the case may be) commanding the said company, shall, within two months thereafter, make return of said fines so imposed and remaining unpaid, to the lieutenant-colonel commanding the regiment, or commanders of extra battalions; and if any captain or other commanding officer as aforesaid shall neglect or refuse as aforesaid, he shall forfeit and pay the sum of ten dollars, and the lieutenant-colonel or commander of an extra battalion shall place such fine in the list to be delivered