The said commissioners to meet at the court-house at Leonard-town, on or before 30th August, 1744, in order to divide the county into four distinct parishes, first giving public notice twenty days before such meeting, and then and there agree upon the time, manner, &c. of making the division aforesaid. 3. The commissioners to cause the division of the county into four parishes by them made to be fairly and distinctly entered in a book, by natural and artificial bounds and courses as aforesaid, in four distinct certificates, and return the same to the county clerk, by him to be entered among the county records, there to remain as the true and indisputable bounds of the said parishes respectively; the commissioners also to return duplicates of the said certificates to the vestry of each parish, &c. to be entered in their respective registers; and the division so made and recorded in the county court office, and respective registers of the said four parishes, to be taken and deemed the true bounds and limits of the said four parishes in St. Mary's county. 6. The commissioners empowered either to alter or continue the names of the present parishes, and to give name to what parish they shall add, which names shall be entered in the said respective certificates, and by the same shall be called, at all times hereafter. 7. All that part of All-Faith and King and Queen parishes, now being within Charles county, shall hereafter be deemed and remain a distinct and separate parish, by the name of Trinity parish, but so as not to affect the 40 per poll until after the decease or removal of the present incumbent or incumbents of the same parishes of All-Faith and King and Queen, &c. 8. The freeholders of the said four parishes in St. Mary's county respectively, and of the said Trinity parish in Charles county, are empowered to make choice of vestrymen, churchwardens, &c. and the said respective freeholders and vestries to have, hold and enjoy, all and singular the rights, liberties, privileges, &c. which any other parishes or vestries within this province have, or hereafter may have. 9. Such divisions or alterations of the parishes aforesaid, or the erecting the aforesaid Trinity parish, in Charles county, not to take place or effect until the death or removal of the present incumbents respectively, so as to alter the yearly income of any of the said present incumbents in the parishes they now enjoy.
