of April Anno Domini 1728 —

Baltimore

Whereas I find upon Special Warrants, heretofore made for Resurveys of several Quantities of Land including Surplus Land Granted by such Special Warrants have been Granted are negligent and slow in paying their Money for such Surplus Land, you are hereby required impowered and Directed to cause all such persons immediately to pay you for my use what they owe for such Special Warrants and more especially should any of the Persons so indebted to me, make the least Delay of paying the same under pretence that it may be due to Mr.
Darnall and other the Purchasers of the Quilt Rents under the Lady Dowager Baltimore, upon the suggestions of Mr. James Carroll or any other person whatsoever, you shall sue them with the utmost Severity of the Law, and take all the Advantages possibly in your power to convince them of their Error if they do not quietly Submit after having been admonished by you to pay the same —
