England; In which station, I shall do the best to discharge my self with honour, Integrity & service; and you may depend upon the sincerity of my Correspondence; I hope for the happiness of Yours, as a means of Knowledge from your Ability, Long Experience and Right Judgment on Publick & private Transactions within the Province. Your advice therein, shall be by me with fidelity communicated to the Lord Proprietary, therefore I hope You will with freedom use it. You have a son well versed in the Law & who is Esteem'd by the Lord Proprietary, from whose Abilities he hopes great service, being desirous to give him Instances as well as You of his peculiar mark of favour.

In my next I shall particularize on Affairs, which at this time I cannot, being prevented by not having yours sooner, and the Delivery of my Packet of Correspondence with Mr. Tasher to the Ship now to sail. I can only add as to the Memorialist Sr. Brookes (who you know) whose Papers with the Evidences to prove the Falshood & his Inconsistency of his Charge, have been presented by me to the Proprietary & his Lordship's Guardians, they are to meet the 20th of this instant to deliberate thereon; as will be productive of such measures I do not doubt, as to set him deservedly the Figure for the Hand of scorn to Point — his slow & moving finger at —

I am sorry for Your ill state of Health, I wish its being Restored with happiness. and am with Esteem

Your friend & humble Servant.
