

Attest of the fourth day being the 27th February 1837.

Between the 9th and 10th of the morning

Assembled

President
Mr. Hawley
Capt. Cornwall
Capt. Wintour
Capt. Dublin
Mr. Sawyer Secretary

Henry Allen
Robert Waugman
James Balbridge
Francis Radwell
Euphian Snow

Thomas Maurice
Robert Peck
John Langford
~~Edward Clarke~~
Robt. Clarke

Edward Fleete
James Canege
Mr. Corbett
William Lewis

Summoned

Richard Craven
Marshall Snow
Edmond Parry

and Robt. Clarke exhibited it, proper for him.
and Euphian Snow exhibited it, proper for him.

Richard suggested, desired to revoke it, and was admitted.
and made Robt. Clarke it proper.

The Committee reported to the house that they thought fit to read the former draft of laws against, & to put them to the vote the second time, in regard to was found a great deal of misunderstanding of them among the members, & made them to revise them.

And it being put to the vote of the house whether they should be read again or no it was affirmed by 40. yeas, and denied by 21. yeas.

Then was an order made of general consent of the house that all bills proposed to the house for laws, should be read 3. times on 3. several days before they should be put to the vote.

When the draft of laws was presented the second time. And hereby bills proposed by the Committee were read the first time.

Capt. Cornwall desired it might be put to the vote of the house, whether they should at the first reading should be voted severally, or the whole body of them together. And that they should be voted altogether was affirmed by 47. yeas, denied by 37.

In the afternoon of the said day, between the 9th and 10th of the morning

Assembled

President
Mr. Hawley
Capt. Cornwall
Capt. Wintour
Mr. Sawyer Secretary

Capt. Dublin
William Lewis
Capt. Allen
Robt. Waugman
James Balbridge
Francis Snow

Francis Radwell
Euphian Snow
Thomas Maurice
Robt. Peck
John Langford
Francis Snow

Robt. Clarke
Edward Fleete
James Canege
Andrew Campbell
Cyprian Throughgood
Antony Cotton
William Lewis