

Under the danger of a Bill of that nature, he is very sensible of his former miscarriages, which his desires may be wholly imputed to his ignorance & incapacity of discharging what was imposed upon him, & not at all to any wilfull designe he had of bringing a mischiefe upon the inhabitants & Province of Maryland; in which fact he earnestly desires quietly to enjoy what he has there, & to end his dayes in that Countrey And because I have no desire that the said Freeman should imagine I have the least malice or prejudice to his person, & that he should see that what I formerly did order was only occasioned by the great urgency of affaires at that time I am inclined & willing to shew him favour herein by giving you order hereby to discharge him from his Recognizance of the good behaviour And you are therefore hereby fully authorized and empowered to see that he be discharged from the same, hoping that his future behaviour & carriage & deportment towards my Governmt.
 & the people there may deserve this kindness & favour shown him by
