

70
Coco.

Examined upon oath saith that D^r Barre and M^r. Rosewell on the 30th Day of Decemb^r last ^{at night} came to his house, that D^r Barre (as the Dep^t does b^elieve) was Judged, that he perceived there was some difference betwixt Rosewell and him Barre saying that he was Excommunicat^d for hopping ^{Q^{may}} with Thirticks that there was a troope of one hundred horse ready to cutt off the Protestants in Maryland in three daies time or within three daies, (whether the Dep^t knowe or not) the Dep^t asked him who it was that was to command the Troope, to w^{ch} Barre made answer Thom. Curtney and Col^l Darnall, the Dep^t asked him why Thom. Curtney? Barre replied in Latin ob meliorem Expeditionem Somme. The Dep^t made answer again what because he is a horse Curser?
 Rosewell to Barre that he was a Lying Dog and that he would throw him behind the jire, But Barre replied again that it was true enough, and that in the said Rosewells Name was in the list, that M^r. Hill had it in his Custody, The Dep^oment further saith that the said Barre drew his knife and whetted upon his Bootes and swore that an Irish man should cutt Rosewells throte within three daies, and that the said Barre should also say that this ~~Col^l Darnall~~ D^r signe had b^een knowne before in England, and that M^r. John Darnall while he was in England was summoned before the King and Councill about it, being taken for mistake for Col^l Darnall The Dep^oment further saith that the next morning he repeated the same words over again to D^r Barre w^{ch} he had spoken the night before as neere as he could collect them, asking him if he remembered any thing of it to w^{ch} the said Barre replied that he did ownemg all that he had said to be true.

Manley

Examined upon his Oath saith that from 2th Johns Day to the 30th of Decemb^r last himself and severall others in Company had b^een at Cap^t. Goodes house on w^{ch} said 30th Day of Decemb^r. M^r. Rosewell borrowed a boate of Cap^t. Goode to goe on boare Shipp w^{ch} he did and got M^r.
 Rosewell to goe with him, that towards night they came again a shoare and brought D^r Barre with them; Rosewell for soone as they came into the house tells them that he had rec^d good News, for Jam said he Excommunicat^d as Barre was, Rosewell saies Barre its true enough, and that for hopping ^{Q^{may}} with Thirticks, at w^{ch} your wife is very much