 for Evidence is called William Hodgson who declared that James Rumsey Reported that M^r. Tyrling should say in presence of to swear that the Lord Prop. had sent a packet of powder to his Indians for them to come and cut off the Protestants, to which he said - Tyrling replied that the said Mathina and those who reported it after him ought to be whipped, that possibly he might hear this to some other person at some time but the words laid to his charge
