Night, and there likewise heard of Endall and Goddard being there, and the said Randall Kirk also told this Deponent that he saw them there; and that Goddard Spencer being asked his advice by Endall and Goddard what they should best to do, and that they should say they would have a brush with the Papists God Spencer advised them not to meddle in the business but to let them alone and be quiet at home or words and Discourse to this Effect. That this Deponent with the said Kirk and much more that this Deponent cannot now positively remember, but the general discourse there was about Endall bringing his wife and Children to God Spencer, and Cap: Goddard was to bring his wife and Children to Mr. Hardwicke. That on Monday they went onwards in their voyage and were forced to putt into Herring Creek in St. George's, and there met with John Wynn who inquired of them, we answered him we had none bad, he replied he was New bad enough, there was a family cutt off at Point Look out and that they were forced to keep watch and ward night and Day expecting every hour to be cutt off by the Papists and Indians together, Mr. Depo: asked him how he heard that New, he said Cap: Endall had been that way in his way to God Spencer, and that Endall did intend to stir in it to prevent the Protestants being destroyed, they asked Wynn how Endall could raise men who was his power or Commission, Wynn told him that he knew his own power well enough he could have men enough when he pleased, for he had one a week or fortnight Intelligence from the Captain there and all parts of the Country or words to the like effect.
Then this Deponent with his family came to Point Look out, and there lay one Night, and finding the winds so various and against them they putt in to Richard Atwoods at St. James on Wednesday last where they left off their resolution of going to the Southward. And Further this Deponent saith not, only this Deponent doth remember that Randall Kirk told this Deponent that when God Spencer advised Endall and Goddard to be quiet and sit still, Goddard swore God Damn all the Catholic Papist Dogs, and swore he would be revenged of them, and spend the best blood in his body.

Grace Bright wife of the said John Bright being duly sworn saith that she having heard the said Oath of the said John Bright her husband read distinctly over, the same is in substance true as the said John Bright hath above declared, and that she was by and present when Kirk and Wynn said the discourse above mentioned, and that she hath from all times heard Cap: Endall say and express himself to this effect at his house of plantation in Charles County within this two Months last past that he believed in his Conscience the Papists and Indians joined together to destroy the Protestants, and that discoursing of the family cutt off by the Indians near Point Look Out, Endall said it was thought the Indians were thereunto
