6. That they are now going against Cascattoway Indians, and desire the English not to follow any thing for they will not molest them and since as they have brought the Cascattoway Head, to be as small as a finger they will now see if they can make an end of them; they hear likewise that the Eastern Shore Indians are desirous of a war, which if they be let them begin, and they will make an end and drive them out of the West that they shall never disturb the English more.

7. And whereas there is one more Bell of Peace presented it is on this Account the one half that was by information of the prisoners they took last winter, that the English had sent the Cascattoways 40 Gunpowder with all w. they now use in the war they desire they may be called in. The other half is that whereas they have returned all the Prisoners they have taken, the English should likewise returne all the Sagadahamoh Prisoners which are amongst them.

8. They desire the English to assure themselves that their great men will be down in Spring to confirm what they have done; they likewise desire that the Cascattoways may not know of their coming down upon them, and in pursuance of this request have sent down two of their Indians to receive an answer from my Lord that they may inform the rest at their return to their fort which they intend to build by the Cascattoways, and that Jacob Young may accompany them thereto to satisfy the whole Troop.

Which Articles being read they proceeded to Examination of Jacob Young and the two Indians that came down with him.

Jacob Young acquaints the Board that some of the Northern Indians told him that the last time their Troops were down and lay before the Cascattoway Indians fort the Cascattoways told them that it was long of the English they did not go along with them for they were inclined to go with them but the English would not let them.

By order from his Highness and Council Jacob Young demands of the Indians where their party may be and where w. may come to speak w. them.
They answer that from this time they left them being the 17th instant they appeared within Seven Days at further to be before the Sachem's fort w. will be on Wednesday next the 24th instant, they bring in all about two hundred and expect to follow him 2 day or two behind about a hundred
