

His Excy and the Board reflecting on the many - misdemeanours the petitioner has been guilty of and how often he has promised reformation but had yet given so little proof thereof that they have newly resolved he should not be admitted to practice in any of her Majesty's Courts in this province having often contemned and affronted the Justices as well as abused his Oaths until they were better satisfied of his change of Behaviour. And the said Thomas Macenarran is made acquainted therewith and told that when it will be time enough for him to apply hereafter to his Excy and this Board. -
