

Her Majesty's Council with her Majesty's Council of the City and the Bishop of the Assembly and by the to motives they can use to induce them to comply with her Majesty's Royal Command.

But inasmuch as Sr Thomas Laurence has suggested that by the Assembly applying the Sines of those Lycenets to the Depraying the publick Charge for four years he is defeated of £600000, so that he computes them to be annually worth £150000.

And whereas upon inquiry and nice inspection of the County Clerks Returns of the said Lycenets they have not in all exceeded in four years, which not being dispersed in sundry Countys and not being upon Education is not worth above £100000 take it all together on both sides of the Bay the Salary of 100000 for collecting being deducted, and very often those Lycenets are ill payd being they who keepe Ordinaries are very poor & poor in meaner Circumstances, and their Securitys - not in much better, and many of them for keeping ill Orders often put down before the Tymes become due. - However his Grace and his Doan being willing to give their Lordships the Right hon^{ble} the Lords Commissioners of Trade & forraign to contentation the best Satisfaction they can to of the value of the said Sumes of 100000 to be carried over.
