

to a Person who shall be so jects: for his Majesty doth very particularly express His great Satisfaction in the Loyalty & Affection which his People have universally shewn upon his Majesties Accession to the Crown. —

At the opening this Session we did not mention to you the apprehensions we had from the Smallness of the Summe at that Time advanced that the Lottery would not be full being desirous in the first place to try to make it in the most in the manner the Parliament had established it: but we are obliged now to acquaint you that all our Endeavours have failed of the desired success tho' the Contributions have been considerably increased —

We must therefore earnestly recommend to your Gentlemen of the House of Commons, to take this into your Consideration and to give such further Encouragement as you shall think proper for raising the whole Summe which was intended and absolutely necessary for carrying on the Service of the Year. —

Resolved likewise Contradictorie, that an humble Address be presented to his Majesty to returne humble thanks of this House for the Satisfaction His Majesty has been pleased to express in and Affection which his Subjects have universally shewn upon his Majesties Accession to the Crown and for his gracious intentions of making his People speedily happy with his Royal Bounty and also to assure his Majesty of the continuance of the same Love and Affection to his Majesty all Occasions, and that this House will contribute their utmost Endeavours to the same.
