

I have hitherto waited upon you both Houses that a Tobacco Act is highly necessary but the means of doing it appears to have been committed with such a variety of Opinions that we could not get a satisfactory Bill passed. Great dissatisfaction have not been able to reconcile them as to making any thing for the good of the staple tho' very much wanted and earnestly desired for by the People.

I highly approve of the method proposed in your Bill for limiting and restraining the time of shipping Tobacco the disadvantages in it are so obvious that no reasonable man would willingly be deprived of them but such is the Temptation of men being having different views as well as different conceptions in the means of advancing the common good / that one part of them close to be deprived of the advantages flowing from a good Tobacco Law rather than give into the mean ways of bringing it about.

We are.....only two of that would venture for the publick good have proved so unsuccessfull partly owing to the late season of the year which is so far advanced that most People will have buried their Crops before the Tidess / with the Required previous letters my government could well be advised

But we shall always be in hopes that a favourable Construction will be put upon our late and recent course also friendly correspondency with the neighbouring colony of Virginia and that you will believe me hard neither thing in view by the preparing of a beneficial Tobacco Law than a general Advancement of the staple of Tobacco by a mutual concert between the two colonies.....that we shall always be ready to put in our share along with Virginia towards the accomplishment of so desirable and which that it may soon be brought