

" that he this Deponent must go with them This Deponent then said that he would not go
 " with them, then the Person a^d. who was the Constable laid hold of this Deponent, and
 " this Deponent shoved the Constable from him, upon this near six Men fell upon
 " this Deponent and got this Deponent down upon the floor, and One of them took
 " hold his Gun up and said Damn him for an Oldson of a Bitch I will kill him; then
 " they violently halled this Deponent out of Doors of his own house and when they
 " had got this Deponent out of Doors they dragged this Deponent on the ground near
 " fifteen or twenty Yards and pulled off One of this Deponents Shoes Hat and Cap and
 " almost throttled this Deponent, and then taking hold of this Deponent, they forced
 " this Deponent to go over Susquehannah River on the Ice, this Deponent having
 " only One Shoe on and without Hat or Cap and when they had got this Deponent
 " over Susquehannah they kept him in custody the remaining Part of the Night and
 " the next morning carried this Deponent before Samuel Blunston and John Wright
 " (who this Deponent was informed were Justices of Lancaster County) That the said
 " Blunston and Wright then read over to this Deponent an Affidavit or Information which " contained to the best of this Deponents Knowledge, That One of this Deponents Sons should
 " say that he would kill all the heathens, and this Deponent saith that he doth not remember any " thing informed or sworn against this Deponent, and then the said Blunston said he
 " had done with this Deponent and dismissed him And this Deponent saith that there
 " were to the best of this Deponents belief, about fifteen Persons in company who came to
 " this Deponents house and assisted in the Matter aforesaid but this Deponent saith that
 " he only knows the Names of the following Ten (viz^t) Charles Jones James Pattison, Alexan.
 " M^r Key, John Capper, John Hart, John Patten, James Patten, James Pattison jun. John
 " Trotter and William Macmanac And this Deponent further saith that the
 " in Manner a^d. but also violently pushed this Deponents Wife back
 " into the house whenever she came to see what they intended to do with this Deponent
 " And this Deponent further saith that the Persons a^d. seized on and pulled this Depon.
 " two sons out of Bed and some of them broke the head of One of his Sons, and then forced
 " this Deponents two Sons along with this Deponent on the Ice over the River to the said
 " Blunston and Wright who after Examination of them bound this Deponents two " sons over to appear at Lancaster County Court the first Tuesday in February next, and
 " this Deponent saith that he this Deponent and Edward Evans were Sureties for
 " the Appearance of both this Deponents Sons at the Day and Place a^d. And this
 " Deponent further saith that he is in very great fear that his houses and other parts
 " of his Property will be destroyed by the Inhabitants on the Eastern Side of Susqueha-
 " nah River
