

called at the House of Col. Thomas Cresap at the old Town and laid in the said Cresap's Upper Court one Night and the next Morning they went into a Cellar under a Shed of the said Cresap's House to look for some dried Beef for themselves to eat and found there four Barrels of Lead which this Deponent imagines would weigh about a hundred each and that this Deponent took two of the same and the said Lane took the other two and carried them away and converted the same to their own Use and this Deponent further saith that in a Discourse had between the said Jacob Lane and this Deponent the said Jacob Lane told this Deponent that he the said Jacob Lane William Lockhart and Henry Enochs junior had taken a Jugg of Melafes which the said Jacob Lane and James Fox were eating some of and this Deponent eat some with them at the House of Henry Enochs sen. in Cape Henry and that the said Lane at the same Time said there was a large Kettle in a Hole out of which they had taken the said Jugg and that the said Henry Enochs jun. took a large Jugg that was full of Sugar in order to set at the said Kettle and was going to take the same away till the said Lane cured him and threatened to tell if he did, and this Deponent further saith that when he was at the said Cresap's House he saw sundry Goods lying about the said House to wit: Weiding Hoes, Fryng Pans, and several Bars of Steel, and further this Deponent saith not.
