Capt David Stodder of Baltimore Town represents that by virtue of the authority vested in him by the Board on the 27th of March 1790 he has collected near two hundred Stand of Arms of which he has completely repaired for the use of his volunteer Company of Artillery - but that these Arms being disproportioned in their length and his Company prevented thereby from making an uniform appearance, He prays that in consideration of his trouble in collecting them the Board will direct the Armourer to deliver him seventy five Stand of the new Arms with the Accoutrements in Annapolis, for the re-delivery whereof in perfect order on demand of the Board, he is ready to give ample Security.

Resolved that on Capt Stodder's giving security as aforesaid, and on his engaging to send all the Arms in his possession to Mr Engels Armourer at Frederick Town as soon as a proper Conveyance offers - Mr Shaw be directed to deliver him seventy five Stand of the new Arms as agreeably to his request, and it is further resolved that the expence Capt Stodder has been at in repairing the Arms and the expence of Transportation to Frederick Town be paid by the public, Capt Stodder furnishing an Account of the same legally proved.
