The Board took into consideration the settlement of an account between the State and Col Moses Rawlings, by which as it is adjusted by the Auditor Col Rawlings appears to owe a balance of two hundred and twenty two pounds, four shillings and six pence red money with interest till paid - from which balance he prays to be relieved in part and to have the interest remitted, for which he offers the following reasons -

That during the late war he was employed by the State as a purchasing Commissary - That supposing his accounts of Receipts and expenditures to be nearly balanced he did not make a point of settling them finally, when to his great surprize he was called upon last year to pay nineteen hundred and seventy five pounds, five shillings which appeared on the Auditors Book to remain due from him to the State - that being confident that the public was in possession of the vouchers for his expenditures which would entitle him to a credit for the greater part of the said balance, he made a laborious but unsuccessful search for them and at length made two expensive Journeys to New York and Philadelphia, at which last place he was fortunate enough to find the papers which have enabled the Auditor to reduce the charge against him to the present balance of two hundred and twenty two pounds, four shillings and six pence - that in addition to his expenses
