

Smallwood was the nominal purchaser and did actually pay to the late Major Jenifer the then Intendant of the Revenue a large part of the purchase money to wit, two hundred and forty pounds, twelve shillings and four pence, and that the Intendant did afterwards loan the said money to the said Pendergast so paid in by the said General Smallwood, and which the said Petitioner did not intend to become security for, and which was not in his contemplation at the time of becoming bound - and the said Petitioner in consequence of the loan by the Intendant aforesaid became liable to pay the whole sum contrary to his intention in consequence of the Insolvency of the said Pendergast and Smith - that the Petitioner from a concurrence of a variety of unfortunate events is become wholly unable to pay the said Debt - and it appearing from the report of the Agent that he is unable to make composition with the said Maybury, and the Board upon mature consideration being of opinion that the prayer of the Petitioner to be discharged from the purchase, and that the State would take back the property, should be granted - It is ordered that the Bond of the said Maybury be cancelled on his releasing his right of the said property to the State and paying all costs arising thereon

(In)