

Henry Adams on the said charge was settled and compromised. In consequence of which the witnesses who were bound to appear at court did not attend under the impression that the affair was entirely settled, that he did attend court on other business but believing also that the affair was settled did not go to the Grand Jury that he is poor and very unable to pay the forfeitures. The Board on consideration of which circumstances and from the recommendation of the court of the said county do remit the said forfeitures.
