

to Bond, with approved security, in the penal sum of fifteen hundred dollars for the faithful performance of the Work, according to the terms of the said Contract.

By the petition of Samuel Quant of Talbot County, accompanied by a transcript from the Records of the said County Court, it appears that he was fined by the said Court at October Term 1827, the sum of ten dollars for assault and battery on John Oney. The Petitioner states, and submits his depositions, which all state, that the assault and battery was committed in consequence of most insulting and abusive language from the said Oney, without any provocation on his part, and that the fine is his claim was imposed to the amount of ten dollars for assault and battery on John Oney, of the Weapow which we used, and of the witnesses having designated it as a whip which was explained by the witness in one of the depositions submitted to be a grape vine switch with a small head. Now therefore, pray a writ of Habeas Corpus: (upon consideration whereof, we do hereby remit the same.)

By the petition of James Mitchell of Allegany County, accompanied by a transcript from the Records of the County Court of said County, it appears that at October Term 1827, the said Court, he was fined five hundred dollars for selling Lottery Tickets without a license. The Petitioner states that the said Oney did not intend to evade the Tax imposed by Law, and that he acted but from an entire ignorance of the existence of any such Law, that he was constituted an agent for selling Tickets by a dealer in Baltimore, and was induced to believe that in virtue of such authority he had a legal right to sell Lottery Tickets without a license, which statement he verifies on oath. And the remission of the said fine being recommended by the said Court and by the prosecuting Attorney and several members of the Bar of said Court we do hereby remit the same.

By the petition of Samuel Mitchell and Benjamin C. Payne of Allegany County, accompanied by a transcript from the Records of the County Court of said County, it appears that they were fined by the said Court, at October Term 1827, five hundred dollars for selling Lottery Tickets without a license. The Petitioner states, that the said James Mitchell did not intend from any design to evade the Tax imposed by Law, and that he acted but from an entire ignorance of the existence of any such Law, that he was constituted an agent by a dealer in Baltimore for selling Lottery Tickets, in virtue of such authority they were led to believe that they possessed a legal right to sell without a license, which statement they verify on oath. And the said Court, the prosecuting Attorney and several members of the Bar having recommended a remission of the said fine, we do hereby remit the same.
