December 17th

John Wink of Baltimore County who had been convicted before Baltimore County Court for selling spurious liquors without license petitioned for a remission of the fine imposed upon him for the same.

The petition stated that Wink had purchased the license of one Sheppard supposing it to be sufficient authority for him. It appearing that said Sheppard upon selling out his license left the State of Maryland without surrendering his license and that the said Wink had kept on selling liquor the said fine was remitted on condition of his paying the costs.
