a fine

The petition signed by all the jury before whom he was tried stated that they had not found that the petitioner had inflicted the blow which was the principal ground of the prosecution and had so informed the Court. That the Petitioner advised the prosecutor of his house and requested his son not to strike him. That the Petitioner is a white and industrious citizen though formerly he was a slave and has a large and interesting family dependent on his exertions and that under the circumstances the fine amounting to one hundred and fifty dollars was large and oppressive. The fine was accordingly in part remitted as above stated.

Samuel M. Long, petitioned for the remission of a fine imposed upon him by Cecil County Court.
