

Annual million, thirteen thousand, three hundred and seventy two dollars message has been increased to one million, seventy six thousand, five hundred and thirty three dollars.

For the year ending the first day of the present month the revenue, exclusive of sums received from Internal improvement companies, and of those drawn from ^{the} special deposits amounted to two hundred and fifty five thousand, six hundred and seventy eight dollars. ($255,678.) and the disbursements exclusive of payments to these companies, and of the interest on the public debt to two hundred and fifty nine thousand, four hundred and sixty eight dollars. ($259,468.) and this statement shows the amount of the ordinary revenue and expenditures.

The whole receipts of that year amounted to eight hundred and forty two thousand, two hundred and thirty seven dollars ($842,237) and all the expenditures to eight hundred and forty five thousand, two hundred and eighty eight dollars ($845,288.) which sum includes the payment of five hundred and eighty five thousand, eight hundred and nineteen dollars, ($585,819.) on account of the interest of the public debt.

According to the estimate of the Treasurer, the demands on the Treasury for the present year will amount to nine hundred and twenty seven thousand dollars. ($927,000.) and the receipts to three hundred and six thousand, nine hundred and five dollars; ($306,905.) which will leave a deficiency of rather more than six hundred and twenty thousand dollars. ($620,000). The surplus revenue now remaining on deposits is, one hundred and forty nine thousand dollars, ($149,000.) which being deducted from the estimated deficiency, will leave a balance to be provided for of about four hundred and seventy thousand dollars ($470,000); and after the present year, the annual deficiency will be upwards of six hundred thousand dollars. ($600,000).

This being the condition of the Treasury, it is easy to perceive the necessity of making some provision to support the credit of the State, than to suggest such measures as will accomplish that object without being oppressive to the People.

In some of the States a disposition has been manifested, to rely upon the General Government for the payment of their debts; and to claim for that purpose the proceeds of the public lands. It is contended that these lands were ceded to the General Government to be applied
