

from General Gage, & told the Genl Smith has gone away N<sup>o</sup> 153. b Col. Tilghman left Annapolis a few Days ago, with thirty including Officers, with Orders to join the Eastern Shore at Chestertown. From the latest Accounts we have, our Nav of papers from Hill, the enemy Gray's Hill about two Miles east from the Head of Elk. Every Day is big with great Events.

We shall send over, with Orders to lodge at Chester, Musket Powder dead, Cartridge Paper & Plints, the Quantity will depend on the Conveyance we may get; if a sufficient Boat can be had, we shall send a Plenty: our Stores are a good Deal dispersed by the hasty Removal of them. We are of Opinion that strictly we cannot give to others a discretionary Power to draw out the Public Money; but surely when every Thing is at Stake, the Treasurer will not be particular or ceremonious, he and we must rely on the Equity of the Legislature, however if we have a Power or may be thought to have it, the inclosed may satisfy the Treasurer. — We are Gent. Yrs

In Council 1st Sep<sup>t</sup> 1st 1777.

We are informed that several of the Militia of Capt. John Hammonds who are of the first class & to march in Capt. Owens Company, have a confederacy to oppose by force any compulsory Measures which may be made use of to compel them to do their Duty. We shall reluctantly and only from Necessity exert the Authority entrusted to us to the extent of it, but shall certainly not suffer such a conduct, if persisted in, to go unpunished. We therefore wish you to endeavour to convince these Men of their error and to let them know that if necessary, we shall set in Motion an ample Force to compel them to obey the law and defend their Country; but if Persuasion has not the desired effect, you are hereby authorized to make use of force and for this Purpose you are to call on any Persons you please for Assistance, or if you think proper, acquaint us and you shall immediately have what force you may think necessary. If in any instance a Man who cannot, is ordered to march, let him make known his circumstances to Col<sup>r</sup> Washington in a peaceable Way; we wish not to inflict extreme Hardships, but the Laws must not be braved.

We are also informed that Richard Gray and Samuel Phillips, who were not of the first class of the Militia, not only advised, but promoted this Opposition by meeting and joining those who had
