

165

Sir,

In Council, 23<sup>d</sup> May, 1781

We have received your letter of the 21<sup>d</sup> instant relative No. 167 to the conduct of Stephen Derry and William Bishop. We request you to procure all the evidence in your power that can support the charge against Cromwell respecting his general conduct and supposed connivance with the enemy, and send them immediately with General Derry and Bishop to Annapolis that the charge may be clearly investigated as circumstances will admit &c. We approve of your conduct in not delivering the flour purchased by Cromwell to Derry.

Richard Dallam Esq:

Sir,

In Council, 24th May, 1781.

No. 168 From the representations which have been made by Col.
Baker Johnson and Col. Wood of the character and peculiar circumstances of Lieutenant Morris of the Convection Troops now in this State, we are induced to believe his earnest desire of being released upon parole, that he may go to Ireland, may be granted without injury to the United States. We beg leave to refer you for further information to Col. Wood at whose request we trouble you at this present occasion.

President of the Board of War.

Agreement

In Council, 25th May, 1781.

No. 169 We enclose you a Permit to transport the Biscuit to Philadelphia agreeable to your request.

Mrs. M. Ridley and Prinkles.

Sir,

In Council, 25th May, 1781.

From some conversation with Col. Smith we are informed that you have a quantity of cloths that came from Ireland and are fit for the purpose of cloathing our Troops. We have directed Mr.
Maur to wait on you and looks at the cloths and invoices and enquire on what terms you will dispose of them. As the demands for cloathing are very pressing, we rely that you will inform Mr. Maur of your lowest terms, which if agreeable, and you choose to take merchantable flour in payment you shall have immediately
