A copy of a circular letter which was given to the Executive of the City of Baltimore. It is a circular letter numbered one eighty one and is a circular letter which was directed to the drawing up of a circular letter to the several offices of the said office appeared to be covered by rules and orders which had long been established there in practice but not reduced in any regular form or reduced to writing and it was probably received as necessary to confirm them and not to change the mode of their execution or the nature of any new ones and that the great number of laws have been passed on the subject of the said business had not provided for, provided for and in the hearing and drawing up the said circular letter or the act of November hundred and eighty one or a part of the last year would be subject as to the which will be necessary to be done from time to time it might not be all necessary to amend such a course
